LIONS BOWL GAME SHOWING MORE AND MORE PROMISE AS TEAMS EYE EACH OTHER

By OTT MILLER
For The News

he Clanton Lions Club is prossing with final plans for the st Annual Football Game sponed by the Club. Both of the ms—Maplesville and Isabella—d to play a game last week due the flu bug that is making the nds.

Between this and inclement eather local football fans have een suffering a severe shortge of their favorite pastime—ad to borrow a term from their port there just aint no substiute to the avid football fan.

his respite from games has givCoach Kelly of the Red Devils opportunity to experiment with his personnel and he has come up with some radical changes. James Fuqua played an outstanding game against Clanton as a tackle. He is now an offensive halfback and a defensive end. Henry Latham, the big 250 pound tackle is now cavorting from the fullback post. Mitchell, the senior quarterback in the Clanton game is now at left half and Higginbotham, a sophomore is at quarter. The McAfee boys, Bobby, the Junior guard and John, the freshman center have been displaying some real form in both practice and under game conditions. The Maplesville team did some "finding" in their last outing as indicated by the score of 44-6—in their favor.

John Q. Public is still the number one contender for "solid-support" and the Lions are counting on him heavily. It seems quite logical that Chilton County with five high schools should and can have a championship game every year. The schools face the same problem as the individual—finances. However, if this first Bowl game is put over as anticipated, the way will be at least roughly paved for future expansion of the program.

If you are in favor of eventually having these championship games lend your support to this project.

PROGRESS IN BOXING IS EVIDENCED

The Boxing Committee of the Clanton Civitan Club reports to us this week that favorable comment has been made on their proposed project to institute Amateur Boxing as a permanent thing in Chilton County.

A report from G. D. Jones this week, chairman of the committee states that a committee has already been appointed to locate a building in whcih these matches can be held. "Things are shaping up fine," Jones said and from where we sit, this is one project that should go over well with the teenagers—especially young boys—in the County.

Keep posted on the developments through your News.

CLANTON DRIVE-IN OBSERVES 8th ANNIVERSARY

On October 15th the Clanton Drive-In Theatre, under the capable management of Joe Jackson, will celebrate its 8th year in Clanton, serving the public of Central Alabama.

Since the opening of this ultramodern Drive-In it has improved progressively each year until now it is one of, if not "the" finest outdoor movie theatre in the entire South.

Besides the many small improvements during this time, most recently they have added new equipment in the projector room and, in keeping with their belief in progress have added a Cinemascope dimension to the huge screen on which some of the top movies in the industry are shown nightly.

The progress shown in this enterprise is indicative of Jackson's own personal philosophy of "tell 'em the truth, even if it hurts". And in this case, it has hurt, not a bit. "If you constantly feed the public peaches and cream and nothing else", says Jackson, they will soon be disbelieving anything you say to them". "They know that life is bitter, along with the sweetness of it".

His philosophy has evidently paid off in prestige and patronage because the Clanton Drive-In Theatre, as it stands today, is one of the most up-to-date, cleanest and most wholesome outlets for good entertainment in the Country.

We salute them on their 8 years of progress here with us.

"White Elephant" Success Due To Many Hands

The wonderful success of the White Elephant Sale at the recent County Fair was due to the cooperation of many forces. The Sale was jointly sponsored by the Special Fund and the Community Center Project Committees of the Clanton Music Appreciation Club.

The women of the committees are: Special Fund Committee, chairman, Mrs. W. H. Klinner, Mrs. Wm. P. Burnett and Mrs. H. G. Heflin; Community Center Committee, chairman, Mrs. M. D. Tingle and Mrs. R. C. Williams.

Their excellent work was supported by Club members and friends of the Club all over the County. The Committtees especially want their appreciation expressed to the merchants of Clanton who donated merchandise from their stores:

Big Four Hardware, Rockett and Lawrence Hardware Stores, Mullins Supply Co., O. P. Klinner Furniture Store, Upchurch Drug Co., Chicago Sales, The Hat Shoppe, The Fashion Shop, Thrifty Dept. Store, Watson's Dept. Store and V. J. Elmore Five and Dime Store.

This is a real indication that our Community Center will truly be a Community Project.

Youthful Astronomers

CUBBY
KAREN

GLENCOE, ILL.—John Sternig, principal of Glencoe Central School, believes so firmly in the importance and wonders of the universe that children in his school begin study of astronomy in kindergarten. They learn that the gently rolling terrain of their pleasant village near the shores of Lake Michigan was created by a series of Moraines—which are deposits of glacial rubble left behind by melting ice sheets as long as two million years ago.

Since his teaching career began more than twenty years ago, Sternig, which translated means "star lover" in Austrian, has devoted much of his curriculum to the study of science. His unique program for kindergarten through the eighth grade has won national acclaim in educational circles.

Under technical supervision of Sternig, General Mills devotes half of their TV commercial to authentic capsule explanations of outer space on MICKEY MOUSE CLUB. Sets and props are designed with greatest accuracy according to the latest and best scientific information. Typical youngsters like Cubby and Karen, youngest Mouseketeers on the show, are given factual knowledge of lasting value.

Children are not astonished by the newness of traveling in outer space. Jets, rockets and force of gravity do not dismay them because to children everything is new. "Space travel is sure to come in this century", says Sternig, "the Columbus of 1992 is already born."

CITY PROPERTY CHOSEN AS SITE FOR LONG SOUGHT COMMUNITY CENTER HERE

The Committee for the Building of a Community Center in Clanton met last Monday noon and discussed the location of the new project.

Eighteen members and guests were present and Chairman Callen Alred announced that the City Park property has been chosen for the construction of the Center.

Mayor J. Hollis Jackson confirmed this statement by verifying the vote of the City Council that the site was agreeable and the cooperation of the officials was assured.

A survey will be made to find the best exact location at the Park and after the survey a committee will meet with the City Council to discuss the outcome. It is hoped that something definite will be announced within two weeks. If this is true then the drive for funds will get underway.

An information booth is being placed in front of the Mullins Supply Company on Second Avenue for the purpose of informing the general public on any phase of the new project that is not completely understood or that may not be covered in the local press.

Scout Funds Lag; Opportunity To Help Is Yours

The Boy Scouts of America have been carrying on their good work in Clanton and Chilton County for nearly two years without the financial support of the communities.

For almost two years we have been enjoying the generosity of others: our boys have had the opportunities, we have failed them.

According to reports this week, Mr. Alex Hayes, local businessman has volunteered his services in correcting our Scout situation.

On Tuesday, October 15th, Mr. Hayes and his assistants will "Drive" for funds and they ask that you lend your able support to a great cause.

"The lives of our youngsters and the influences that envelop them should be a challenge to us all to do better by them. Then we can stand at ease in the knowledge that the influences that guide them and those who teach them are for their best interests". That is Scouting.

Among the workers with the Scout Troops locally are Leland Hudson, Scout Master; Howell Glenn, head of the Explorer Troop; Dent Williams is Cub Master and has Mrs. Harold Lawrence, Mrs. Jerry Bodden, Mrs. Harold Foshee, Mrs. T. C. Davis and Mrs. A. C. Rogers filling in as Den Mothers. For the area, Mr. Bill Crane is Scout Executive and according to this report "surely he is one of the best personal influences our boys could ever have".

Write that check right now for the Boy Scouts of America and drop it in the hat.

Scalp Indians--

Tigers Go On Warpath To Tomahawk Indians 27 To 0

FAVORED INDIANS GET UPSET

Special To The News
By JERRY GRAY

The Chilton County Tigers advanced into the tepees of the Wetumpka Indians Friday, October 4th and sent them to the "happy hunting grounds" of defeat by a score of 27 to 0.

The Tigers, after racking up this 4 TD game with 3 conversions remain undefeated.

The Tigers scored two runs of considerable distance by Neal Bice plus a 15-yard plunge by fullback DeLoach and a nice run by James Knight, the Tigers rambling halfback.

The Tigers added three extra points to pad the score and put the game on ice.

The Wetumpka Indians, who were an eight point favorite going into the game were allowed to venture no further than the CCHS ten yard line there to be pounced upon by the Tiger line.

The CCHS ends were constantly rushing the Wetumpka quarterback and preventing him from getting away many passes.

The Tiger line in general played a terrific game in holding the highly-vaunted Wetumpka team scoreless throughout the game.

This is the 2nd consecutive game won by the Tigers and their second consecutive game to hold the opponent scoreless.

THIS THURSDAY (tonight) the Tigers will tackle the Columbiana Wildcats in Clanton.

The Tigers will be after their third consecutive win over Columbiana, in as many years.

On Monday, the fourteenth the Tigers will journey to Montevallo to take on that team.

Telephone Talk

GOOD QUARTERBACKING—Thinking about the football season just ahead, it occurred to me that making a Long Distance call is like a good play on the field. When you know the signals—you call by number and your call goes through faster. Also, knowing the right play helps a lot. For instance, often a station-to-station call will serve your purpose just as well as a person-to-person call and is much cheaper. You can save still more by placing your call in the end zone—that's nights after 6 or anytime Sunday. Yessir, you'll come out ahead when you know the signals—call by number—call station-to-station—[illegible] after 6 or Sundays.

OPERATION ALERT—Here, as in other small communities, we don't worry too much about enemy attacks and bombings. Today, this country has a Civil Defense system designed to warn us in the event of sudden danger. Part of this system was made available by telephone companies. If disaster should come, these facilities will be aided by every exchange of the Bell System and of the 4,700 independent telephone companies in the nation. In minutes, warnings, instructions, decisions would flow wherever needed. Telephone folks everywhere are proud to be a part of this national undertaking.

BUNGALOW OR MANSION—We have a tailor-made telephone service plan for you—all the phones you need in colors that please you. Most plans can be furnished at less additional cost than you are now paying for your main telephone. How often have you heard someone in your house say: "If I just didn't have to run all over the house to answer the phone." That's why I thought you'd be glad to know we've a plan for your special telephone convenience. Why not give us a buzz for details?

MUCH ADO IN AND AROUND ISABELLA THIS WEEK

By Mrs. J. H. Wells

MULBERRY CHURCH NEWS

Our pastor brought a very inspiring message on Sunday, which was enjoyed by all. Following the morning service the monthly business meeting was held. The Associational letter was read, also the finance budget and adopted. The new deacons elected were E. C. Lecroy, Casey Cummings and James Langston. Messengers for the Chilton Unity Association are Mrs. E. S. Jones, Mrs. R. R. Webster, Mrs. L. S. Calfee, Mrs. W. C. Lecroy and Mrs. Jeanette White.

It was interesting to learn that there was an increase in the budget over the year before. With the help of the Lord we will do better this year and you can start by attending church regularly.

We were happy to have Miss Ann Farmer of Titus and Miss Barbara Oliver of Birmingtham as visitors in our morning service; and Rev. and Mrs. James Langston and mother of Birmingham for evening visitors.

Next Sunday the ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be held immediately after the morning service.

We are glad to report that we are having fair groups on Wednesday night for our prayer services and choir practice. Mrs. J. B. Lucas will lead our prayer service this Wednesday night.

Remember your Circle meeting next week, you ladies.

OPERATION CARWASH CAN BE FUN

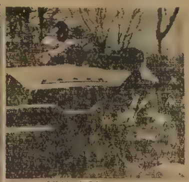
THE RIGHT TOOLS for the job are as important in washing the family car as they are for any other household chore. Here's a sampling of the supplies a well-prepared car washer should have on hand. With your materials assembled—and a good supply of water—you're off!

WELL-KEPT UPHOLSTERY is a plus that pays off in dollars at trade-in time, and washing the car means paying close attention to the interior, too. Use thick, dry suds, applied with a sponge, to make seats and carpets shine like new. Remove the suds with a clean cloth and clear water.

WATER POWER replaces elbow grease by rotating the brush and supplying suds for removing road scum and dirt. After scrubbing, the flip of a switch brings on the clear rinsing water. Start cleaning from the top of the car (which isn't very high up on this Dodge!) — making sure windows are closed!

WHEEL WASHING comes next, and it means a stiff brush and plenty of soap. Scouring powder may be used to remove bad scuff marks from white-wall tires. Before starting the wheels remove heavy road mud from the underside of fenders with a strong spray of water from your hose.

FULL STREAM AHEAD now, since plan still calls for a thorough top-to-bottom rinsing with clear water to make sure the last traces of grime and soap have been removed, eliminating any possibility of scratching the finish during the final stages of drying and polishing.



THE JOB'S DONE after drying carefully with sponge mitts. To prevent streaking, let the car stand in the shade before starting to polish. Remember, your car is an important investment. Through careful upkeep you not only preserve its appearance, but add to its trade-in value, too.

"Unknown Horizons" As Gov. Proclaims Columbus Day, 12th

In this atomic age, "when we again face unknown horizons," we need men patterned in the mold of Christopher Columbus, Gov. James E. Folsom said this week.

The Governor was proclaiming October 12 as Columbus Day in the State.

"His undaunted courage brought together the factors which resulted in his discovery of our continent, and led the way to the exploration and settlement of the New World," Governor Folsom said.

Since this is an era when "mankind is again faced with unknown horizons. . . the qualities of Columbus" are being demanded by our people and their leaders, the Governor said, praising Columbus' "matchless vision, and indomitable spirit".

The Governor has also proclaimed October 17 as Credit Union Day, and October 24 as United Nations Day in Alabama.

BETTER SCHOOLS BUILD BETTER COMMUNITIES

Buzzing Around Mt. Pleasant This Week

By Mrs. Irene Riggins

"What? Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's."—I Corinthians 1:19-20.

The Rev. George Smith blessed us with his fine sermons Sunday and we thank him and his good wife for having come our way.

News has been received from Lt. Ivan Smith stationed in Germany that he will sail for home some time this month. It makes this writer very happy and thankful.

The week-end visitors of Mrs. J. E. Minor were: Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Kendrick and children, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Minor and children of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Driver, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cleckley and children, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Minor and Donna Sue, Mr. and Mrs. S. Foshee and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Easterling. Mrs. Minor's condition remains the same. Let's all continue to pray for her.

I would like to thank our friends and neighbors for their prayers and good wishes for my son's safety while overseas.—Mrs. C. Riggins.

Don't forget to send your service boys and girls the hometown newspaper. It keeps them in touch with their friends and family and makes them feel a part of their community. This is not an advertisement, but a fact.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Oaks of Birmingham visited his parents, the Clarence Oaks family, the past week-end.

Mrs. C. Thomas and children of Sylacauga were the week-end visitors of her mother, Mrs. Leona Johnson and family.

The week-end guests of Mrs. Dolly Melton were: Mrs. Dovey Fulmer and children, Mr. Billy Fulmer and children, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fulmer and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Melton, Mr. and Mrs. L. Melton, Mr. Harvey Melton of Birmingham with his daughter Paula. Mr. and Mrs. Whayland Collins of Oak Ridge, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. U. L. Riggins and baby of Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Tipton Eiland and boys of Birmingham visited with the Charlie Riggins family Saturday. We are always happy to see the Eilands.

Birthday greetings go out to Mrs. Clint McGee who celebrated with a party at her home. Guests included: Fred Collins of Centreville, Mrs. Jean Kelly of Lawley, Mr. Bill Hargrave and Miss Norma Jean McPheran. The R. C. McGee family and the John D. Smith family of California.

The Misses Carolyn and Anne Oaks with Doris Robinson attended the fair in Birmingham the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Oaks from Sylacauga visited the Vester Oaks family over the week-end. We are happy to hear of the improvement of Vester Oaks.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Oaks visited the John Oaks family in Birmingham over the week-end.

Mrs. Sandy Cole and the Moore girls visited Mrs. Charles Riggins Sunday.

Mrs. Inez Morgan and Mrs. Jim Foshee are on the sick list.

INSTEAD of borrowing trouble a great many people insist on loaning it to their friends.

A GO-GETTER has his future in front of him, but the stand-patter has his future behind him.

THE more obstacles there are to overcome, the greater the victory when you overcome them .

PEOPLE who are always harping on their troubles soon run short of friends to harp to.

FORESIGHT is a wonderful thing, but most of us use it to see things that never happen.

IN BAD REPAIR----

SINCE THE FALL rains the County roads, the city streets and the sidewalks are in very bad repair. Much has been said about the loss to our crops, which of course is disastrous, but we imagine quite a sizeable sum will be needed to put the roads back into first-class condition.

The main thing is to be cooperative with your County governing body, your city council and those who are responsible for this work. They cannot get to it all at one time. Besides the money, it will take some time to do all the work that is necessary. Try to be patient until your time comes and the officials, we are sure, will appreciate it.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH!----

NO MATTER HOW MUCH we read about billions, the word still has a numbing effect on the not-too-mathematical mind. A thousand million of anything is an awful lot to grasp or to visualize. For instance, we have just learned that last year, for the first time in history, the American people reached the $10 billion mark in their expenditures for milk and dairy products. We are also told that this represents 16.6 percent of the national food bill of $60.7 billion, and that we'uns spent more than $6.4 billion for drinking-milk and pouring-cream!

Cranking up our electronic digital computer - on which we've been trying for weeks to find out just how much Congress actually did cut the White House budget - we fed it the above data, threw the switch and stood back. Pretty soon there was a mooing sound, lights began to flash and figures that we can comprehend started dropping into place. We can now report that:

The per capita expenditure for all dairy products was approximately $62.50, of which $40.10 went for milk (and cream).

The per capita milk surplus is now less than two ounces a day.

An hour of factory labor bought 8½ quarts of milk in 1956, 4 quarts in 1929.

The average dairy farmer milks 14 cows, ships a little over 40 gallons of milk a day, drinks about four glasses of it himself, makes half his income (just under $5,000) from milk, got 50 cents of the milk dollar in 1956 - nearly 2½ cents more than in 1955.

The milk dealer made half a cent profit per quart on milk he processed and delivered.

"Bossy", it seems, is crowding "Rover" for the national title of "Man's Best Friend".

NEW, UNKNOWN HORIZONS----

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS, of 1492 fame, probably never, even in his fondest dream, considered the fact that the land he stood on would grow into the mightiest nation in the world.

He could not see so far into the future and neither have we that power, but with the perhaps minute foresight we are blessed with we can see that America will continue to be the foundation of the world with liberty and justice for all if she keeps her head and her heart.

Since Columbus "sailed the ocean blue. . ." many strong courageous and brilliant men and women have lived and died and in so doing have given of themselves to the task of building our great nation. There have been soldiers, scholars, scientists, statesmen, yes and even some of lower character, who have helped along the way.

Columbus didn't know, but we know now that to keep our nation the strong, yet God-fearing one that it is today we must continue to breed men who have a love for freedom, a zest for knowledge, a hunger for truth and a profound belief in the Almighty. We must bring up the next generation and the next in our way of truth, fairness, brotherly love.

These things may never have crossed the mind of Columbus, the discoverer, but due to his foresight and courage they are here today and we commemorate his immortality on October 12—Columbus Day. It is up to us, as a nation and a team to see that our beliefs and our standards are preserved in this generation and instilled in the hearts of the next so that they will have a sincere trust in and a noble respect for those things which we hold dear and sacred—our heritage!

Local Boy To Wrestle At Armory Saturday Nite, 12th

A report from the promoter of wrestling matches in Clanton this week confirmed the rumor that a local boy was going to take on a pro wrestler in the ring at the Clanton Armory on Saturday Night, October 12. The time will be 8:15.

The big event of the evening will be the tangle between tag teams comprised of the Corsica Brothers, Joe and Gene and Nick Carter and Ronnie McKay.

According to the report, the Corsica Brothers are taking the place of the famed Fargo Brothers, who are scheduled to appear in New York's Madison Square Gardens to defend their title as world champions. The Corsica Brothers want to use this match to get a chance to regain the title they lost a few weeks ago.

There will be two twenty minute matches between the above-mentioned wrestlers before the tag match.

Getting back to local talent, and rounding out the evening's entertainment will be a bout between Wiley Bean, a local enthusiast and Charles Livley. This, according to our report, is in answer to several requests that Bean appear here so local fans could see him in action.

IT'S MY OPINION

Be A "Brother Booster"

By BOB TUCKER

Reports come to us this week that the Community Center Drive is once again in full swing and apparently bigger and more enthusiastic than ever before.

New ideas have been pouring in and many civic organizations have now organized projects solely for the purpose of raising funds for the much needed, long-awaited dream of so many.

We think a project that would also bear watching, if not downright indulging in, is the Amateur Boxing Matches being planned and promoted by the local Civitans. There are many capable enthusiasts within the organization and word has it that many influential Chilton County citizens are backing this endeavor one hundred percent.

It's our opinion that with the cooperation and enthusiasm that is being manifested this project could do much toward furthering the Community Center Project because it is closely related to it in that they both concern our youngsters. We think the organizers of this idea are to be commended and aided in every way possible in carrying thru this vital influence which in itself, literally builds tomorrow's stamina, strength and endurance. Regardless of the hearsay that we are continually exposed to about how people are going to the proverbial dogs (especially those around us) we are proud of the opinion that the people we live with are so interested in their community and especially in the welfare of their youth. They mean to get a job done. The foresight and sensibility shown by these people will, we predict, so outstandingly overshadow the narrow minded ideas which strive to destroy progress that the striving will have been hopelessly in vain.

Be a booster for the betterment of your brother. Your reward will be ten times ten.

What Makes Your Engine Wear?

Ask the average car-owner what the cause of engine wear is, and he'll probably reply: "Friction" Well, he's wrong. Engine wear is the result of a corrosive chemical process and not friction at all. What's more, this process can now be controlled by an easily installed apparatus that cuts engine wear by as much as 85%.

Winthrop A. Johns, a mechanical engineer who once conducted Diesel engine experiments for the U. S. Navy, test-proved the fact that acid compounds are formed in the normal process of gas combustion. These acids are collected by the circulating engine oil, and carried throughout the engine system. They attack cylinder walls, pistons and bearings, eat away metal and leave behind abrasive metallic salts. This corrosion, and the abrasive deposits, wear out the vital moving parts of the engine.

Mr. Johns further discovered that these acids can be sidetracked in such a way that, instead of eating away at the engine, they can feed on a piece of special magnesium alloy inserted into the engine—a "sacrificial" metal that gives up its life, so to speak, to save the engine. Now available to car-owners under the name of "Magna-Power," this apparatus is a simple rod of the special alloy inserted into a drain plug that fits into the [illegible] pan of any popular make of car.

By sidetracking corrosive acids, the magnesium rods further reduce the formation of harmful sludge, varnish and [illegible]. This not only helps retain "new car" power, but slightly increases it.

An additional feature of "Magna-Power" is the addition of a magnet that catches loose metallic parts in the engine's oil and prevents their re-circulation.

Similar "sacrificial" plugs are available for the car's radiator and gas tank making it possible for the average car owner to prolong all the vital parts of his car—inside as well as outside.

TWO LANES...
OR MANY LANES

THE BEST PAVEMENT FOR AMERICA'S GREAT NEW ROADS IS CONCRETE... on all counts!

CONCRETE ROAD ARITHMETIC
Moderate First Cost
+ Low Maintenance Cost
÷ Long Years Of Service
= Low Annual Cost

The Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 provides that the Federal government will pay 90% of the cost of building the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways. The states, however, must bear the entire burden of maintaining it!

In fairness to taxpayers that means that the pavement chosen should be the most durable. It also should be the least costly to maintain. Concrete is the answer on both counts!

Roads built to Interstate System standards may cost less—and in no case much more if built with concrete. And once built, concrete roads need far less maintenance and serve much longer than other kinds. All these facts are a matter of record!

Whether the roads have only two lanes or many, you, as a taxpayer, will profit from the choice of dependable, long-lasting concrete, the pavement which has proven best on all counts.

The use of color in home decorating can give a room warmth and charm, yet home decorators often hesitate to experiment with new colors. A good rule to follow is neutral colors for wall paint and floor covering. Large upholstered pieces should be covered in solid fabrics. This permits the use of vibrant colors in smaller chairs and accessories.

In small rooms, window coverings should blend with the wall color and in larger rooms draperies in contrasting colors, stripes or prints can be used. Harmonizing colors can also be used in Venetian Blinds or use white blinds with tapes of a color picked up from the draperies. Interesting effects can be created with the new slat materials such as a delicate lace pattern, linen-finish tweedy slats in soft colors or spatter finish slats in muted blue with white or dramatic white and gold spatter. Venetian Blinds in these new finishes are appropriate for every room in the house.

This Is It; The 1st Bowl Game

On Thursday Night, October 24, at the Clanton Football Field the Lions sponsored Bowl Football Game between the Maplesville Red Devils and the Isabella Mustangs will be fought to a finish.

Reports this week have it that the rivalry between the two teams is growing and so far this season, their records are nip and tuck—almost identical, as far as wins and losses are concerned.

The game has another attraction now, says the report. The outstanding lineman and the outstanding back of the game will be selected and presented with tickets to Alabama's Homecoming Game against Mississippi State.

Tickets will be offered for sale all next week by members of the Clanton Lions Club. "Buy yours early".

The Chilton County High Band will be on hand to add spirit to the game and the usual array of drinks and refreshments will be on hand.

The Lions expect to make this project an annual Championship Game affair and are striving hard to make it a success.

From the records of both teams this season, the game should be an interesting one, no matter where you're from.

Prices are the same as usual—$1.00 for adults and half that for students.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

For quite some time post mortems have been going on as to just what last session of Congress meant, or did not mean.

All the huffing and puffing to the contrary, pro and con, observers close to the Washington scene feel that 1957 will go down as the year of the Great Congressional Revolt against dictation by the administrative branch of the government.

C. W. Harder

For one thing, the seizure of well-nigh dictators' power by State Secretary John Foster Dulles has not set well. The edict muzzling traditional U. S. free press has deeper affect.

When Dulles refused to let reputable American newspapermen go to China, a lot of eyebrows were raised. Traditionally, the American public holds in high respect the nation's working press for objectivity in reporting the facts as they appear at any given time. Only communists and fascists, who cannot stand up under scrutiny attack American newspaperdom with such epithets as "the lying press."

That is due to the fact they fear a free press. In their own nations, the press is controlled by government. Yet the Dulles action marks the first time, in modern times, at least, that an American official by edict has suppressed the free ranging, world-wide search for facts by the American free press.

This has led to the question "What is State Dept. hiding?"

Most people have no truck with any theory that the reds might subvert the entire U. S. press. Not only is the average working newspaperman quite cynical of propaganda, but also among newspapermen is found perhaps a greater understanding of the principles of democracy than in any other group.

So people are curious as just what Dulles wants hidden from American readers in China. To be sure, he eventualy rescinded his ruling, then the Red Chinese government helped him out by barring U. S. newsmen unless they could send their own over to this country.

Yet, Sen. William Knowland goes on record that he has no objections to some Chinese newspapermen coming into this country on permits.

If national security is a plausible excuse, then the United Nations headquarters should be removed to Timbucto or some far place because as it is now, UN members have liberty to bring into teeming, sprawling New York their delegations and retinues. And New York is an easy place to hide.

Thus, this hush-hush ban imposed by government officials is a hard one to sell to Congress.

The putting into a secret category the report of the Government Accounting Office alleging graft and corruption in the use of foreign aid funds is another example of this trend.

In addition, probably never before in the history of the Republic has task forces of cabinet members been formed to storm Capitol Hill to browbeat Congress.

Thus, there is an uneasy feeling. And in view of the situations that have developed whereby government officials seek to lay down an unwarranted blanket of secrecy, there is small wonder that such feelings exist.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible

... and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.—(St. John 6, 37.)

Sometimes, for reasons that we vainly try to justify, we look upon another human being with distaste or contempt. Then we should remember the abounding compassion of the Lord Jesus Christ, and humbly pray for His forgiveness.

HAWK PICKS WRONG PREY; LOSES

Early this week Hershel Wright, who is employed at Selma was on his return trip when he collided with a large hawk. According to Hershel the wingspread could have been 30 inches. We've always considered hawk's to be pretty smart, but this one apparently bit off more than he could chew.

No, we'll have to give the hawk credit, he made a mistake—Hershel said he was chasing a bird or something and just didn't look up in time. The credit isn't going to do him much good however—he's daid!

Hershel called it a Rabbit Hawk. Anyone have a better suggestion?

By the way, Hershel said it didn't hurt a bit. He'll tackle a hawk anyday—providin' he's the one with the automobile.

AFTER INSPECTION—

COUNTY JAIL INDICATED TO BE IN BETTER CONDITION THAN PUBLIC REALIZES

An inspection made of the County Jail at Clanton on October 10th by State Jail Inspector Dees indicates that the public has a different impression of the situation than the one that exists.

According to Dees' report, on that date the entire inspection was favorable even down to the personal hygiene of the 13 prisoners that were being housed on that date

Dees reported that everything was clean and general conditions were good to the best interests of the public and the inmates.

He had no complaints to make on the Jail as it is today and even went so far as to say "this jail has just been painted and looks nice".

A previous inspection had been made by H. J. Lewis, County Engineer; R. L. "Bob" Fullen, County Purchasing Officer; and Hugh Champion, Sheriff and confirmed the above report.

The report also stated that the jail had not been previously condemned and no mention was made of the insect question which the Grand Jury reported on several weeks prior. The report did say, however that the jail has not been fumigated

Sheriff Champion stated that he would like to see the place fumigated and that it could be done by contract.

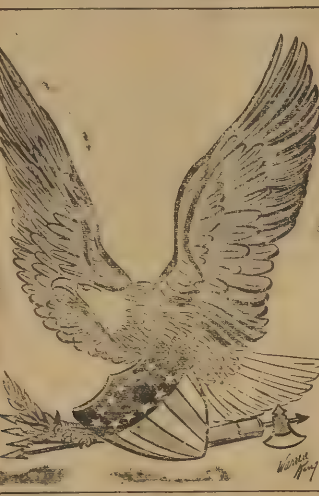
OUR PROUD SYMBOL



The Way Of The Eagle----

THE EAGLE is America's proud symbol, and with good reason. He is an educated bird in the sense that he knows what he has to do, when it ought to be done, whether he likes it or not.

Consider, for a moment, the vast difference between the eagle and the clam. The clam appears to lead a fairly cozy existence. He has only to open his house to take in his food and close it to keep out his enemies. He seems to have perfect social security but no vision and not much of a future, and the result is he often winds up in the chowder.

The eagle, on the other hand, lives in an exposed position on the highest crag. When a storm strikes, the other birds take to cover. The eagle sets his wings so that the very fury of the storm lifts him higher, and still higher, above the storm, into the sunlight.

Is there any wonder the eagle is America's proud symbol? We have never been a nation that lived within its shell. We have been a nation that strove to rise, even in the face of adversity—politically, economically, spiritually—and that is the way of the eagle.

SOMETIMES a hot tip leaves a nasty burn.

IN this game of life, the man to watch closest is yourself.

THE seconds you save by speeding may be the first you spend in eternity.

THE miracle man of the day is the one who can keep his running expenses at a walk.

TIME may be money—but always remember—it's work that gives it exchange value.

THE "pay-as-you-go" is a fine plan—but can you travel that fast?

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

OUR FRIEND Glen Bashore, who, in our opinion, should be noted for his efficiency and polish, seldom makes mistakes. A person who fall into this category has a hard time living up to the reputation he sometimes makes for himself because when his foot does get out of the ring, no matter how unimportant the matter, he'll be pounced upon by some jealous associate. By the way, since we're on the subject of Glen, we've been wanting to thank him for putting us on his mailing list for the weekly Lion Bulletin. It helps us immeasurably in keeping up with what's going on, since we spend most of our waking hours "pecking the keys". The jist of our story ironically was taken from the Lion Bulletin, of which Glen is editor. It read: ". . . This project has great possibilities and we MUSH not let it down. . ." THASH right, too; you fellas MUSHN'T!

And we quote "great are those who go around in circles, for they are known as 'big wheels'."

THOUGH WE have a reputation for being a pessimist on many matters, when it comse to the goodness of our neighbor, we always like to feel optimistic about his abilities and possibilities. Pointing up this fact is the way in which people come to the aid of others when they most need it. It is a God-given gift to naturally want to be helpful. We were wondering just what it would take along these lines for Americans to better appreciate the fact that they ARE Americans and how they could show their appreciation. You say you appreciate your heritage and your freedom and rights, that is, when someone happens to bring up the subject; but what of your duty to your neighbor, your brother to continue to try to improve the world and America. A small part, done by many becomes a force and the force that built our nation was one made up of the combined efforts of individuals, joined together with a common bond. With this thought in mind, we have a common bond: To strive to give our children (and ourselves) more knowledge of what made America, who made it, and why and when. It is a shameful fact that we, as American citizens cannot declare the Declaration of Independence or offer the Pledge to the Flag or proudly recite our National Anthem. You know them? Then you are the ones who should be striving to keep them alive in the hearts and minds of others. Surely the majority of the people cannot do these things. A sour thought. It is our duty, yours and mine, by golly, to uphold what we believe in if it is to give us anything in return and serve us well. Are you holding your small part of the load up or is someone vainly trying to keep your share of the "force" up. Gaps let things leak out. . . and in. Is this what we Americans want. Or are we admittedly and egotistically negligent in our mission here on earth? The world owes me nothing until I first gain the respect and admiration of its inhabitants, my neighbors.

A PESSI"MISTY" VIEW

There is always temptation,
But not always a will;
A will is a way to do better,
But still. . .
If temptation were gone,
And straight were the road,
We'd just look around for a heavier load.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

HOW TO TOUCH THE INVISIBLE

The robe of Jesus has a story to tell. If it could only talk it would thrill the heart of the world. It was made by Mary and Martha to show their gratefulness that their brother Lazarus was raised from the dead. Thus it became a symbol of the power of Jesus over life and death! This robe became a "point of contact." To touch it was to touch Jesus. And to those who touched it, the robe became a conductor to the invisible. The Bible states, "For as many as touched His robe were made perfectly whole."

A certain woman suffered an incurable disease. She decided to seek Jesus for healing. She learned that it was practically impossible to see Him. And so she said, "If I can only touch the hem of His garment. . . ."

She pushed her way through the crowd, used the last remnant of her strength to fall forward and thrust out her hand to touch the hem of His garment. Instantly she was made completely well, for, to touch the visible with her hands was to touch the invisible with her faith. She had made her "point of contact."

What is a "point of contact?" It means that you use something material in order to stimulate faith which touches something that is spiritual.

It could be when the minister of God lays his hands upon you, or when you clasp your Bible in your arms, or kneel in prayer. But it is that precise moment that you set in your own mind and spirit to release your faith that brings deliverance to you as you believe.

One evening six or seven people met for prayer in a chapel. One of the group, a nurse, was absent. She was in a large city at the bedside of a nephew. This young man had a burst appendix and suffered blood poisoning. There was also an infected kidney and a streptococcic infection of the blood stream.

The nurse in charge of this young man understood the terrible danger of her patient's condition. She called long distance and asked that this group pray for him. "At exactly 9:30 we will pray for him," she was told. "Tell him to expect his healing at that moment and you pray for him, also."

Two days later she returned to the town in which the group lived. She found one of her friends in the back yard pulling weeds.

"It was the most wonderful thing I have ever seen," the nurse declared. "At 9:45 he looked up and said, 'What is happening to me? All of a sudden I feel fine. I don't hurt anymore.'"

The hospital, in perplexity, kept him one more day during which every test was negative. On the following day he went home. This incident is in the hospital records and can be investigated by anyone who cares to.

There was a time set to believe . . . the robe of the Nazarene was touched . . . the "point of contact" was reached and a miracle took place.

By C. WILSON HARDER

It will be interesting to see what happens at the public hearings on tax revisions by the House Committee on Ways and Means, called by Chairman Jere Cooper (D., Tenn.) for January 7th.

Taxes are getting to be a lot like the famous remark on weather, to the extent that everybody talks about them, but nobody does anything about them.

C. W. Harder

Currently, a Senate Committee is holding hearings around the nation on the impact of present tax rates on the health and growth of small business. Such sessions are almost tantamount to inquiring of a convention of bishops what their attitude is in regard to sin.

Obviously, there is a need for some tax relief for small business, if small business is to grow, or even compete.

When hearings were held on the amendment to the bill extending present corporate taxes introduced by Sen. Fulbright, there was ample testimony to the damage that unrealistic taxing policies is doing to small, independent business. George Burger, vice president of the National Federation of Independent Business, presented the case very strongly based on nationwide voting by the organization's membership.

Yet, this amendment was defeated in the Senate 52 to 33 despite the fact that during the last election, the platforms of both major parties pledged tax relief to small business.

And it is difficult to establish that government is so pinched for money it cannot permit small business to withhold enough profits to finance expansion.

The facts are that ever since 1948, government bureaucracy has grown at a steady pace. In 1948 there were 2,055,760 federal civilian employees drawing down pay totaling $6,176,414,000. By last year this had swelled to a total of 2,663,316 drawing a total pay of $11,073,032,000.

Thus, an almost doubling of the federal civilian payroll in eight years is not a situation that presents encouragement.

Sen. Harry Byrd (D., Va.) has often stated that to reduce taxes, government expenditures must first be reduced. The administration has taken stand a balanced budget should come first.

Probably both viewpoints are right.

But it is also obvious that unless the axe is swung hard on federal bureaucracy, nothing will ever happen.

A business that keeps borrowing money in order to hire more and more people is not destined for a happy future.

And a government which keeps sapping the vigor of free enterprise in order to keep hiring more people is following an equally disastrous course.

This, this constant and consistent inquiry into the harm unrealistic tax policies is doing to small independent enterprise gets to be almost ridiculous.

There is a time for talk and there is a time for action. There has already been sufficient talk. Now is the time for action. The doctor who keeps talking to his patient about his growing cancer, but never ordering surgery, soon has a dead patient.

Tigers Wallop Wildcats From Columbiana

Tigers Close Up Game 55-0; Third Win Of Season

By JERRY GRAY
Special To The News

The Chilton County Tigers broke loose for the biggest scoring spectacular of the year last Thursday night as they completely routed the Columbiana Wildcats.

The Tigers wasted no time in racking up their third consecutive victory of the year and to remain unscored on.

The local team racked up eight TD's on their attack against Columbiana.

The scoring was made on several outstanding plays by the following Tiger stalwarts:

Neal Bice made two TD's; Jack Deloach made one; Osborn Mims made two and James Knight made two. Thomas Minor scored on a pass from Charlie Gray. Gray added three extra points and Culpepper added two to bring the score to 55-0.

Once more the staunch Tiger defense held their opposition scoreless while their backfield companions run up a sufficient score.

Next week the Tigers will face a big test in the Holtville Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs, who always seem to come up with a good team will be trying to upset the Tigers go-cart. The Tigers will naturally be out to defend their spotless record so far this season.

The Bulldogs defeated the Tigers in last year's tilt.

The teams are fairly evenly matched and should provide a very interesting ball game, so come on out and support your football team.

PERRY COUNTY
Rich in Alabama's History of Higher Education

Birthplace for three of Alabama's most famous colleges, Perry has played a profound role in the State's educational history. Today at Marion, Perry's historic county seat, Judson College for women and Marion Institute for men stand as bulwarks in the State's college system. Marion was also the birthplace in 1839 of Howard College which was moved to Birmingham in 1887.

Blended into this academic background is Perry's history as one of Alabama's finest agricultural counties. Livestock, cotton, turkeys, and other farm products are the key to the county's strong agricultural economy today.

In Perry and throughout Alabama, the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly to assure the sale of beer and ale—the light, bright beverages of moderation — under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of the people of Alabama, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing "self-regulation" program.

Youth Rally, 26th—

Celebrate Pastor's 1st Anniversary At Poplar Springs

By Miss Barbara Traywick

We still have several sick in our community. Let's don't forget to pray for each of these.

The men of the church had charge of Sunday's services and did a fine job of it.

We celebrated our Pastor's First Anniversary on Sunday by giving him a pounding after Sunday School along with many gifts and a big cake with one candle on it. They expressed their thanks to the people for their kindnesses and in return the church membership feels very fortunate indeed to have a pastor such as we have to lead us.

The Youth Rally will be held at this Church on Saturday nite, October 26 at 7:30 o'clock. We invite everyone to come and make it one of the best rallies yet.

GRAY'S FOOTBALL PREDICTIONS OF THE WEEK

By JERRY GRAY

Ye olde prognosticator got back into form last week by picking four games right and getting none wrong.

This brings the record for the season to a mark of fourteen right and four wrong.

Now, here's this week's predictions:

CCHS vs. Holtville should be a close one but we pick CCHS.

Maplesville vs. Jemison will be a good game—we pick the Red Devils of Maplesville.

Verbena vs. Vincent —We'll take Verbena.

Isabella vs. Calera—We'll have to go along with Isabella.

Watch next week's News for the outcome of these "well thought-out" pickings.

What Makes Your Engine Wear?

Ask the average car-owner what the cause of engine wear is, and he'll probably reply: "Friction." Well, he's wrong. Engine wear is the result of a corrosive chemical process and not friction at all. What's more, this process can now be controlled by an easily installed apparatus that cuts engine wear by as much as 85%.

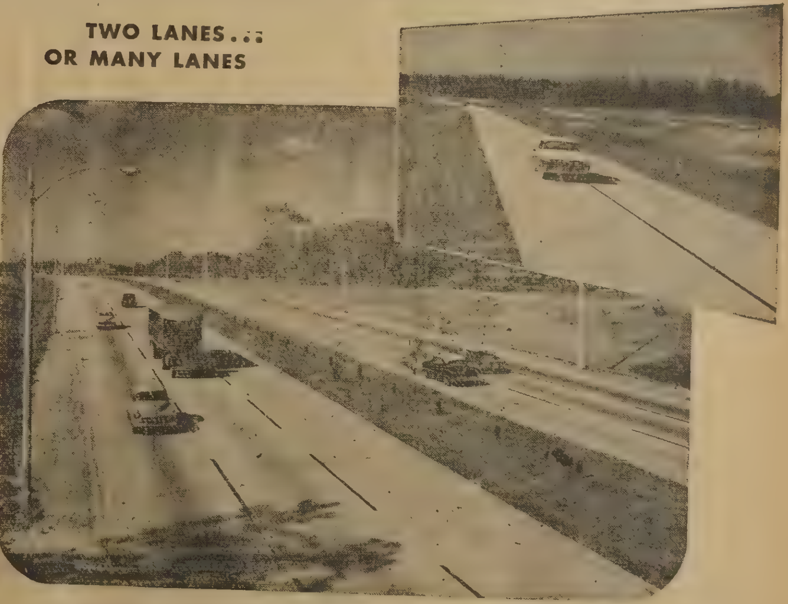
Winthrop A. Johns, a mechanical engineer who once conducted Diesel engine experiments for the U. S. Navy, test-proved the fact that acid compounds are formed in the normal process of gas combustion. These acids are collected by the circulating engine oil, and carried throughout the engine system. They attack cylinder walls, pistons and bearings, eat away metal and leave behind abrasive metallic salts. This corrosion, and the abrasive deposits, wear out the vital moving parts of the engine.

Mr. Johns further discovered that these acids can be sidetracked in such a way that, instead of eating away at the engine, they can feed on a piece of special magnesium alloy inserted into the engine—a "sacrificial" metal that gives up its life, so to speak, to save the engine. Now available to car-owners under the name of "Magna-Power," this apparatus is a simple rod of the special alloy inserted into a drain plug that fits into the oil pan of any popular make of car.

By sidetracking corrosive acids, the magnesium rods further reduce the formation of harmful sludge, varnish, and resin. This not only helps retain "new car" power, but slightly increases it

An additional feature of "Magna-Power" is the addition of a magnet that catches loose metallic parts in the engine's oil and prevents their re-circulation.

Similar "sacrificial" plugs are available for the car's radiator and gas tank, making it possible for the average car owner to prolong all the vital parts of his car—inside as well as outside.



TWO LANES... OR MANY LANES

THE BEST PAVEMENT FOR AMERICA'S GREAT NEW ROADS IS CONCRETE... on all counts!

CONCRETE ROAD ARITHMETIC
Moderate First Cost
+ Low Maintenance Cost
÷ Long Years Of Service
= Low Annual Cost

The Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 provides that the Federal government will pay 90% of the cost of building the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways. The states, however, must bear the entire burden of maintaining it!

In fairness to taxpayers that means that the pavement chosen should be the most durable. It also should be the least costly to maintain. Concrete is the answer on both counts!

Roads built to Interstate System standards may cost less—and in no case much more if built with concrete. And once built, concrete roads need far less maintenance and serve much longer than other kinds. All these facts are a matter of record!

Whether the roads have only two lanes or many, you, as a taxpayer, will profit from the choice of dependable, long-lasting concrete, the pavement which has proven best on all counts.

FOLKS and THINGS About Town

by Ben

WELL, we are up and about again after a bout with the flu and will try to knock out a short column for you this week. Now, after that newsy tid-bit we'll get started. Now don't get the idea we thought we were missed— however, three salesmen and several bill collectors did call to see when we would get back in firing range. We learned quite a few things the past week and one was that if you want to make harmony in the home you gotta play second fiddle. Another one was, when the wife says: "Get those clothes off and back into your pajamas, you ain't ready to go back to the office", she ain't kidding. But golly, nearly everybody is complaining about the flu, colds, etc., in one way or another.

WE, for one of many, want to add our opinion that Bing Lecroy is doing a mighty good job as Superintendent of Education. Bing took the place in very difficult times and has worked hard and long to keep harmony in the schools and make every school dollar count. Much improvement is being made in the school buildings and much fore is promised. We wish to congratulate Mr. Lecroy on his handling of the situation to date.

ASSETS of Peoples Savings Bank have gone over the four million mark for the first time. Under the leadership of President H. G. Heflin the bank has steadily grown until now it takes its place among the strongest banks in Central Alabama. To be exact, total assets as published in this issue of the News are $4,090,399,34. And, brother that's a lot of pocket change.

SPEAKING of all the flu about, it has made many things out of many people. Week before last it made Russell Sutley a newspaper boy. His son, who carries the Journal each day, was out with the "bug" and who else but Russell was chosen to throw the papers that week. You know, we might take him on, he makes a pretty good paper boy.

HEARD about the fellow who was put to work by the slot machine company collecting coins from the machines? For two weeks after he started to work he failed to come in at the office to get his pay check. One day he walked into the office and said he had lost his key to the coin boxes and wanted to get another. "Where have you been?" stormed the manager. "The cashier has been holding your salary for you." "What", exclaimed the amazed beginner, "you mean I get a salary, too?"

LOOKS like quite a ruckus will be raised here when the L&N tries to cut off two of our daily trains. The petition is before the Alabama Public Service Commission now and will be heard. If you wish to have the present service continued you should immediately file your protest with C. C. (Jack) Owens, president, Alabama Public Service Commission, State Office Building, Montgomery, Ala., stating your objections and why this service should be continued.

MARSHALL Ware is "pickeled tink" about the big opening of his Air Strip in the River last Saturday afternoon. Marshall said that 32 planes were on the Island at one time and 46 were there during the afternoon. He also has a six acre picnic ground that was given some attention by the visitors. He says you aughta go see—just follow the signs until you get to the river—and then—start swimming.

SOIL CONSERVATION WEEK

EVERYONE is in favor of Conservation — it's just like prosperity — no one would vote against it. Conservation, however, is not something which can be voted into effect — turned on and off. It is a method of farming — a principle — and principles have to be used to be useful.

The Alabama Legislature passed the Soil Conservation District Act which became law on March 18, 1939. By May, the State had been divided into twelve districts functioning to assist farmers in soil and water conservation.

This being Soil Conservation District Week, the challenge for you is to do more and better Soil and Water Conservation jobs on your farm — Mr. Farmer—and tell the story, so that others might do as well.

Telephone Talk

TRICK OR TREAT. It won't be long 'til we'll all be hearing this familiar greeting from our small friends and some of them will probably be all excited about Halloween parties. Just for fun I jotted down a list of ways the telephone could help in planning a Halloween party, or any other party. The list of calls went something like this: invite the guests—maybe a dozen or more; order refreshments; order extra ice; have the cleaner pick up my best suit; call around to see who has Halloween decorations—and so it went. It's really surprising how such a list can grow. Just goes to show how much we all rely on the telephone to get things done quickly. You try it sometime. Make a list of things you do each day by phone, and you'll see what I mean.

FALL IN FOR DECORATING. The nip in the air has stirred a lot of activity around here—fall housecleaning, painting, repairing and the like. Seems to me it would be just the time for folks to give their rooms a "new look" too with some bright color phones to harmonize or contrast with new color schemes. Extra color phones are a joy to have and to use in bedrooms, kitchen or den — whereever you find most convenient. And you can have several for less total additional cost than you're now paying for your main phone. Our Business Office will be glad to give you any further information you desire.

TV IS ON THE PHONE. This is truer than you think. Whenever you watch a television show coming from New York or Hollywood, the picture and sound are brought to you over Bell telephone system communications. Our scientists tell us that eventually TV will probably be on the phone. Then you'll be able to telephone a friend and see him while you're talking to him. That should be a real pleasure—next best thing to a personal visit.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

FAITH GUIDED HIM IN A HURRICANE

For many years Mr. T. J. of Garfield, New Jersey, has been an electrician at the Wright Aeronautical Plant. Though a regular day-shift worker, he was assigned to a midnight shift for one week-end. This was in 1955.

During that week-end, a terrible hurricane struck. Suddenly the incoming power lines failed, leaving the entire main plant in darkness. The man usually in charge of the main substation where the deadly 26,000 volt lines were, was on vacation. Mr. J had received no instructions as to what to do in such an emergency. Yet, this was his responsibility.

He ran from the main plant to the substation. Lightning crackled and struck all around. But let him tell it in his own words: "Suddenly, I realized I knew nothing about the sub. I stopped. I was terribly frightened. I prayed. 'OH, GOD, PROTECT ME FROM HARM AND GUIDE ME TO DO WHAT IS RIGHT. PLEASE SEND ME HELP. I NEED IT BADLY.'"

His short prayer contained three requests: for protection, guidance, and help to come. Now see how God answered!

"I took off for the substation —no longer scared—sure that God would help me. Knocking off switches, I threw in the breakers. As the outside lines were tied in, the power began to surge again. (Answers 1 & 2).

"There came a knock at the door. A man yelled, 'Public Service, let me in!' He was from the power company, assigned to the Bendix plant 2 miles away. He told me that a few MINUTES AGO, SOMETHING told him to come to our plant. He made it in about three minutes. (Answer No. 3).

"Eight minutes later, our lines dropped out again. The Public Service man watched me repeat my previous performance. 'You did exactly the right thing,' he said. I told him I'd never handled the job before. He did not believe it. Then I told him the whole story. Now he believes there must be something to prayer."

Everyone admits that no matter how much intelligence, strength, or natural resources we have, there are limitations to our ability to handle every situation successfully, because we are human.

Prayer and faith in God will let into our lives that which, if we depended solely upon our own might, we would be left without. Jesus said, "If you believe, all things are possible to him that believeth." Most people take this promise as they do a life preserver in a boat, think it mighty comfortable to have, but hope it will never be needed.

But God is a good God! He delights to help us. He is able and he is willing to assist us in every phase of our lives.

In this day, today, take him as your partner. Turn your faith loose and let God show you how to meet your problems and difficulties. The same God who helped Mr. T. J. is anxious to help you.

AN APOLOGY—

Music Club Confesses And Faces Music

"Due to an oversight three stores were left out of our article last week. We would like to thank Firestone Dealer Store, A & P Grocery and Clanton Home and Auto Store for their generosity during the White Elephant Sale sponsored by the Clanton Music Club at the County Fair. We also failed to mention that we borrowed tables from the First Methodist Church for which we are grateful."

(Editor's Note—The oversight mentioned is not as bad as appears. Unless we have made an oversight one store is mentioned twice above, so they really didn't do so bad after all.)

Tired Drivers Menace Rush Hour Traffic

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

CAREER WOMEN who must battle rush hour traffic will be interested in what a group of Chicago traffic engineers have to say about the problem.

The greatest cause of rush hour accidents, according to these experts, is fatigue. Three times as many accidents occur among drivers going home from work as among those on the way to the job.

Miss Smith

Many drivers, the engineers point out, don't realize how much efficiency is lowered after a day's work. They haven't eaten since noon, and difficulties during the day may add to their irritability, prompting them to jump lanes, crowd other cars or rush yellow lights.

If you feel tired when you leave the office, they advise, stop for a cup of coffee. This will not only refresh you and increase your alertness, but also help you to miss the worst part of the rush hour traffic.

Impatience, inattention and discourtesy claim their toll of rush hour accidents, according to the Chicago experts. Even the normally cautious driver sometimes takes shortcuts in safety when caught in an exasperating traffic jam.

Realize that traffic jams are likely to occur, suggest our engineer friends, and don't lose your patience. Trying to save a few seconds often means wear and tear on the car—as well as the nerves.

Appraise your attitude toward driving. Do you consider it a boring task, as a chance to show off your ability to cut corners, or as an operation requiring your alertness, full attention and best driving skill?

Finally, remember your courteous driving habits. When two discourteous drivers meet, they're likely to meet head on. It is much safer to be polite—and to watch out for rude drivers who take foolish chances.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

There is probably no doubt that a man who went around the country giving away money would either be considered a great philanthropist, or a great idiot, depending on the circumstances.

But by no stretch of the imagination is it likely he would ever be called a salesman.

C. W. Harder

Now, traditionally, a nation's State Department is supposed to be the salesman for the ideas and concepts of that nation.

Therefore, it can be said with good logic that the United States of America is no longer represented by a State Dept.

This principle is the basis of the squabble that has developed between the John Foster Dulles forces and the foreign aid administrators.

A great part of the billions [illegible] American free enterprise [illegible] away, has [illegible] foreign governments to support their socialized business [illegible].

The current foreign aid people have taken a stand that this is wrong. That i[illegible] wish to embark upon government owned business, they should not expect to get their financing from free enterpris[e].

Around Washington the viewpoint is that if there is going to be any foreign aid, this is a reasonable stand.

But this is not the way that the Dulles forces see it at all.

With furious chest beating they are wailing that this will make U. S. diplomats unpopular in many foreign lands where government owns business activities.

In other words, for the first time, perhaps, here is a frank admission that what is generally termed the U. S. State Dept. has failed in the primary mission of any diplomatic corps, and that is to sell the ideals of the nation it represents.

Thus, it is apparent that we have failed to sell idea of free enterprise in many foreign lands.

Worse yet, the Dulles forces not only want to continue as they have in the past, but in order to keep what they consider "good" relations, they want U. S. tax money to continue to be used to build up socialistic systems that are entirely foreign to American beliefs.

This, then, is a strange, weird paradox, perhaps without parallel in history. It [illegible]

Or it is [illegible] tion that [illegible] Hoover [illegible]

In fact, State [illegible] this is [illegible] even shocked Washington [illegible] that is not easy to do.

BEFORE and NOW

When the Province of British Columbia celebrates its 100th birthday all during 1958, many of the activities will be centered in the bustling Provincial hub city of Vancouver. Transportation means much to British Columbia because the railroads opened the Canadian west to settlers and one of the highlights of the 1958 British Columbia celebration will be the exhibit of the world's only museum train, a six car train which has been restored to the original splendor of a century ago by Canadian National Railways. Just 75 years ago 14-ox teams labored hard and long to clear the land on which the enterprising city of Vancouver now stands. The picture above was made in 1882 as workmen and ox teams cleared the site where the imposing Marine Building now stands. FNS

Hollon Reports On Marbury FFA News

By Eugene Hollon

THE exhibit at the South Alabama Fair won 3rd place and was truly an attractive display. Much hard work and hours of patience went into it. We're proud of our accomplishment.

We were fortunate recently in having Mr. John Harper, a soil conservationist from Prattville talk to us. He showed us a picture pertaining to Conservation and we all enjoyed it very much.

We are sorry that some of our number are out with the flu. We hope that they will be back very soon.

Brief News Notes From Mt. Creek

By Miss Arlene Brown

PRAYER is requested for all the sick in our community that the people may soon be able to worship with us. We hope these people will continually be with us in spirit.

SOON, Dr. Berkstresser will give a talk in our Church on alcohol and its influence on our lives. All people are encouraged to begin making plans to hear him speak.

WORK is progressing nicely on our educational department. We hope to have our new Sunday School rooms and basement completed soon.

ALL choir members come to Prayer Services each Wednesday night at 6:30. It is very discouraging to the Choir Director to have about half of the choir members absent so let's build our choir by coming to practice.

WE were very glad to have Mrs. Estelle Harris home this week-end.

Rev. Herman Lowery is pastor at Mt. Creek Baptist.

Women Spur Safety Checks

By Jeanne Smith,
Dodge Safety Consultant

BY CALLING FEMININE attention to the importance of keeping the family car in safe operating condition, women's groups helped set a new record this year for the national Vehicle Safety Check program.

Miss Smith

More than two and a half million car owners throughout the country visited vehicle inspection lanes and dealer service departments for free safety checks—many of these drivers encouraged by women's organizations.

In Cambridge, Ohio, for example, a group of women organized a "Mothers March on Unsafe Vehicles." They conducted a door-to-door campaign followed by a telephone drive, to urge every woman in Cambridge (population 14,739) to supervise the safety check in her family.

All over the country, women rallied to similar feminine calls, according to D. H. Tompkins, chairman of the Inter-industry Highway safety committee.

But more important than the success of this once-a-year drive, Tompkins believes, is the indication that women will continue to take the family car in to service departments for regular inspection

The importance of regular checks, he points out, is emphasized by the fact that one out of every five vehicles safety-checked this year needed some maintenance attention.

For the third consecutive year, he said, rear lights led the list of items which needed immediate service, followed by brakes, front lights, exhaust systems and tires.

"In these days of increased automobile traffic," Tompkins said, "it is vitally important that motorists assume individual responsibility for driving safely.

"And women can be a positive force in this direction by making sure that the family car is safe for all driving conditions."

SOME $76,000 IN REFUNDS TO CAEC MEMBERS AT ANN'L MEET

ELECTION TO BE HELD; SUGGESTIONS VOTED ON

PLANS are now under way to refund some $76,000 to members of the Central Alabama Electric Cooperative.

This and other business, such as election of trustees, elimination of proxies and staggered terms for board members will be voted on during the business session on October 26th at the annual meeting.

Judge George Wallace will speak at the afternoon session and TV personalities will be present.

The meeting will be held Saturday at the Prattville High School with registration beginning at 9 a.m. There will be a parade and concert by the Autauga County High School Band at that time.

From 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Jack Turner, TV personality will entertain with his string band. The program will be free to all members.

Important to the membership will be the $76,000 refund to be approved which will take place at 1:30 p.m. According to Mgr. Chester Wingard those eligible for the refund will be members of the co-op. during the years 1943-47.

At present, by-laws require that at least 40 percent of the total loan of the cooperative must have been repaid to the REA before any refund to members can be made. However, a quorum of members at the annual meeting can vote their approval of the refund sooner by changing the by-laws.

This is the third time that an attempt has been made to give the refund to eligible members. On precious occasions there was not a quorum present to make the transaction legal.

The meeting will be closed with the drawing of lucky numbers for some $1,000 in prizes.

'CHICK" WADE

from a Decorator's Notebook

by Phyllis Dr[illegible]

Picture windows are rapidly becoming a standard fixture in American homes. Many new homes contain at least one, usually in the living room, and many remodeled homes have replaced old small windows with a large expanse of glass.

A wonderful way to bring the outdoors into the living room, too many people are finding that these windows bring their private lives into the open, and feel like so many fish in a fishbowl.

Controlling the sunlight which pours in through these large windows is another problem. Sun-bleached rugs, draperies and upholstery are expensive to replace.

Venetian Blinds are the most efficient means of controlling sun, light and air as well as providing the privacy which we all desire. During the day, blinds can be tilted to deflect the sun's rays without shutting out light and air. In the evening, blinds should be closed and draperies or curtains drawn to give your room a warm, cozy look. Remember, too, that Venetian Blinds provide insulation and control drafts during the winter months — an important factor when it comes to paying heating bills.

March Past Holtville In 4th Unscored-On Game

Special to the News
By JERRY GRAY

THE Chilton County High Tigers wasted no time last week in wrapping up their fourth victory of the season.

The Holtville Bulldogs fell prey to the voracious appetites of the tight Tiger line and from there on the backfield ate up the yardage.

In the firt quarter, the Tigers rambling halfback Neal Bice went around right end for the first tally of the game, the only one the Tigers needed, as it happened.

The Holtville defense, led by Tommy Gibbons held true in the second quarter as they did not allow the Tigers to score even when threatened.

Holtville led by the superlative play of quarterback [illegible] Anderson passed deep into Tiger territory, inside the 10 yard line, only to have their drive reversed by an alert Clanton lineman [illegible] [illegible] pounced upon a "loose" ball.

The first half ended with the Tigers leading Holtville 7-0.

During halftime ceremonies the large crowd was entertained by a sparkling performance of the Holtville and CCHS Bands.

In the third quarter the Holtville team came onto the field a determined looking team and they were [illegible] until the overpowering Tiger line halted their march to the goal.

After a few more exchanges of the pigskin, the Tigers began their second scoring [illegible] [illegible] materialized as Jack De[illegible] ripped through the ten [illegible] Bulldog [illegible] towarts for the Tigers second touchdown. After the extra point was added the Tigers were 14 points in the lead.

In the fourth quarter the Holtville team advanced into Tiger territory via a very sharp aerial attack, but once more the snappy Tiger defense held and the Holtville team ran out of steam on downs.

The Tigers scored once more as James Knight went across from the eight. The touchdown was set-up by a beautiful 30-yard pass from Charlie Gray to Hershel Billingsley.

The third conversion brought the score to a total of 21-0 to round out a perfect game for the Tigers and a perfect score for the season.

Here's a breakdown of the game, statistically:

CCHS		HOLTVILLE
5	Passes attempted	13
3	Passes completed	8
2	Passes intercepted	0
56	Passing yardage	91
9	First downs	7
157	Rushing yardage	44
3	Touchdowns	0
3	Extra points	0
3	Fumbles lost	1

County Pigskin Predictions For Upcoming Games

By JERRY GRAY

We split 'em down the middle last week. Picked two games right and figured two wrong ones.

That makes the seasons total 16 right and 6 wrong.

Now here's the "dope" on the upcoming games:

CCHS vs. Jemison, we pick Clanton by a country mile.

ISABELLA vs. Maplesville, The Lion's Bowl Game in which we should see some lively action, with Maplesville carrying home the victory.

VERBENA vs. Eclectic. This is usually a very good game, but Verbena, is considerably weaker than in previous years. We pick Eclectic.

BILLINGSLEY vs. Goodwater. Though a bit reluctant, we'll go along with Goodwater.

See you at the ball game!

Dr. Hosty also said that one advanced traineeship is open to a person with some experience in hematology. The person appointed to the traineeship will be sent to school for a six month's period and will receive a salary while in school. NO NEW TAXES—

Increase In Tax Collections Indicates Prosperity in State

Alabama's State Reveune Department collected $199,092,884 during the State's fiscal year which ended at midnight on September 30. This compares with the $188,512,869 collected from the same tax sources in the previous 1955-56 fiscal year—or a 5.6 per cent increase in State Revenue Department collections.

It is interesting to note that these figures compare with the $152,976,862 collected during the 1954-55 fiscal year; the $139,038,895 reported for 1953-54, and the $138,199,886 taken in during the 1952-53 financial year, according to a report issued this week by State Revenue Commissioner W. LaRue Horn.

In this total, sales tax receipts, "earmarked" for Alabama's public schools, reached the record figure of $67,757,128, Commissioner Horn pointed out. This compares with the $64,262,263 collected from sales tax during the previous 12 months. State income taxes, also "earmarked" mostly for schools, produced $33,409,166 in the financial year just ended, compared with the $32,329,595 collected from this source in the previous year, 1955-56.

Gov. James E. Folsom, pointing out that there had been no new taxes, said these and similar, allied figures indicated the continued rise in prosperity in the State, and were also a tribute to the "fair collection" efforts of Commissioner Horn and his Department.

Gasoline taxes, another sensitive index on the economic [illegible] of the State, also showed a [illegible] percent increase for 1956-57 over the 1955-56, the Revenue Department's report showed. Last year gasoline taxes realized $62,186,694 compared with the previous year's $60,085,475.

Gasoline taxes pay for the development and upkeep of the State's public road systems. The increase in these collections indicate increased use of the roads by commercial vehicles and tourists, as well as by increased gas consumption by private Alabama citizens in family cars.

Chilton County Nursing Home----

CHILTON COUNTY'S new nursing home will hold "Open House" on October 27th at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The general public is cordially invited to attend this dedication and to inspect the new nursing home. Congressman Armistead Selden will be guest speaker and a number of dignitaries will be our guests.

Mr. James N. Sudduth, Administrator of the Chilton County Hospital and the Nursing Home, says a short ceremony will be held and then the visitors will be invited to inspect the "ultra-modern" Nursing Home. "Open House" will continue throughout Sunday afternoon.

This combination of hospital and nursing home is a new thing in medical care and is one of the first such combinations of facilities in the State.

Constructed under the Hill-Burton Act this addition to Chilton County's health facilities is something of which we can all be proud.

Attend the "Open House" and see for yourself what has been accomplished for our County.

Refund On Farm Gasoline Tax----

A NEW AND simplified law under which farmers may obtain a refund of six cents of the seven-cent state gasoline tax on much of the gasoline used on their farms, passed by the 1957 Legislature is now in effect. It is similar to the 3-cent federal rebate.

The law provides an application form of only a few lines, compared to the involved procedure necessary under the old law. It also broadens the exemptions to include engines mounted on certain types of farm machinery, as well as tractors, already exempt.

First refunds under the new act will be due after June 30, 1957 on all eligible gasoline purchased after the effective date, September 23, 1957.

For the benefit of the farmer who will be due a refund, forms to be used in applying for refunds under the law, will be mailed to all farmers who received payments under the old law. Your county tax collector will also be furnished with forms for your convenience.

The Attorney General declared: "Segregation is no stronger than the state government and state officials entrusted to defend and preserve it."

"We must remember," said Patterson, "that the so-called Negro leaders, aided by the federal government, are embarked upon a campaign to register all Negroes over 21 years of age, whether they are eligible or not."

"Their intention is to 'block vote' us out of existence. This we cannot and will not allow. Now more than ever before it is imperative that we stand up and be counted, that we band together, and vote together as

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

BY George, just what IS this younger generation coming to? Saturday afternoon we saw a young feller wearing roller skates being propelled on his way by a power mower. Now if you don't think that's ingenious, you should have seen the way he looked trying to guide the mower, stand up on the skates and watch where he was going all at the same time. Make it easy—but, according to statistics, we're becoming weaklings anyhow. The way these youngsters brains work in a few hundred years our heads will be the size of our bodies and vice versa. Sounds terrible doesn't it, but who needs a body when he has a brain that can get the work done for him. Doggone it Junior, you get behind that mower and push it; there's enough "big heads" around as it is.

YOUNG Joe Powell deserves credit for disproving the above statement, which just goes to show that we do have freedom of opinion. He proved beyond a doubt that the younger generation not only has abundant brain power, but their "brawn" is nothing to sneeze at. Little Joe was out all day Saturday swinging first a pick and then an axe hacking away at an old stump in his front yard. It was hard work and after seeing his ability to stick to the job and his dogged determination we were impressed. He hasn't let that old stump get the best of him, but it will likely take two or three Saturday's like that to completely lick the job. More power to you, Joe, and it is our personal observation that the "brain" will never replace the worker (brain and brawn when it comes to getting the old job done. And by the way, Joe, might as well be enterprising too. If Dad offered you fifty cents for that job, hold out for seventy-five, we think it's worth at least that much.

THERE has never been and will never be a more creative artist than the person who can make new friends.

ACCORDING to all reports, this has been a most prosperous year for the U. S. Suppose we'll have to agree with the majority—everything does show a healthy increase except our bank balance—but who are we to disagree.

WE, as a Southerner, may be the pot calling the kettle smutty, but it is our opinion that if the community of Dearborn, Michigan carries out some of the extremes that it is quoted as contemplating, we will be shocked beyond comprehension. Is this the United States or is this the United States? According to certain reporters they will go pretty far toward keeping their all white city "all white". The end does not justify the means, we can't help who said it. We firmly believe in Segregation—as such—but we also believe in the United States of America and everything it stands for including the liberty and justice for all. The law, when it is the law, should be upheld by all Americans. There should not be "outs" and "by-passes" in the law. We hope these folks will also remember that, and not let their prejudices completely blind them to their duties as American citizens.

USE IT—DON'T LOSE IT!—

Haphazard Handling Of Firearms Could Cost You Your Head

IF YOU AREN'T TOO YOUNG; DO YOU KNOW WHAT YOU ARE DOING?

Careless handling of firearms is a sure way to get to the happy hunting grounds in a hurry [illegible] ent of any [illegible] to know your gun—how to use it, and when and where.

Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun and carry it so you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble. This brings up another vital point which is keep the safety on until you are ready to fire the piece.

When firing be sure the gun barrel and action are clear of obstructions. Have a full knowledge of the background at which you are aiming so you'll be sure where the bullet, shot pellets, or slugs will strike. Remove oil and grease from the chamber before firing.

Horseplay during hunting is definitely taboo. Never point a "ready-to-fire" gun at anything you do not want to shoot.

Firing a gun at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water is fool's play and might bring disastrous results. At target practice, too, be sure your backstop is adequate.

Guns carried into camp or home when otherwise not in use should be unloaded, taken down, or have actions open.Always carry guns in cases to the shooting area.

And after the hunting trip is over, be careful where you store the weapon. Unload and store the rifle or shotgun and ammunition separately and beyond the reach of children and careless adults.

MANY times, a position gives a man a complex. If he feels unqualified for the job he holds, he has a chip on his shoulder. The wise man will take it in his stride. Only a foolish man would let his own lack of confidence and the loose talk of others keep him from his duty to others. If you have an appointed task—do your best and be secure in the knowledge that that is all that is expected of you—you'll do a better job, like as not.

What Makes Your Engine Wear?

Ask the average car-owner what the cause of engine wear is, and he'll probably reply: "Friction." Well, he's wrong. Engine wear is the result of a corrosive chemical process and not friction at all. What's more, this process can now be controlled by an easily installed apparatus that cuts engine wear by as much as 85%.

Winthrop A. Johns, a mechanical engineer who once conducted Diesel engine experiments for the U. S. Navy, test-proved the fact that acid compounds are formed in the normal process of gas combustion. These acids are collected by the circulating engine oil, and carried throughout the engine system. They attack cylinder walls, pistons and bearings, eat away metal and leave behind abrasive metallic salts. This corrosion, and the abrasive deposits, wear out the vital moving parts of the engine.

Mr. Johns further discovered that these acids can be sidetracked in such a way that, instead of eating away at the engine, they can feed on a piece of special magnesium alloy inserted into the engine—a "sacrificial" metal that gives up its life, so to speak, to save the engine. Now available to car-owners under the name of "Magna-Power," this apparatus is a simple rod of the special alloy inserted into a drain plug that fits into the oil pan of any popular make of car.

By sidetracking corrosive acids, the magnesium rods further reduce the formation of harmful sludge, varnish, and resin. This not only helps retain "new car" power, but slightly increases it.

An additional feature of "Magna-Power" is the addition of a magnet that catches loose metallic parts in the engine's oil and prevents their re-circulation.

Similar "sacrificial" plugs are available for the car's radiator and gas tank, making it possible for the average car owner to prolong all the vital parts of his car—inside as well as outside.

TWO LANES... OR MANY LANES

THE BEST PAVEMENT FOR AMERICA'S GREAT NEW ROADS IS CONCRETE... on all counts!

The Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 provides that the Federal government will pay 90% of the cost of building the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways. The states, however, must bear the entire burden of maintaining it!

In fairness to taxpayers that means that the pavement chosen should be the most durable. It also should be the least costly to maintain. Concrete is the answer on both counts!

Roads built to Interstate System standards may cost less—and in no case much more if built with concrete. And once built, concrete roads need far less maintenance and serve much longer than other kinds. All these facts are a matter of record!

Whether the roads have only two lanes or many, you, as a taxpayer, will profit from the choice of dependable, long-lasting concrete, the pavement which has proven best on all counts.

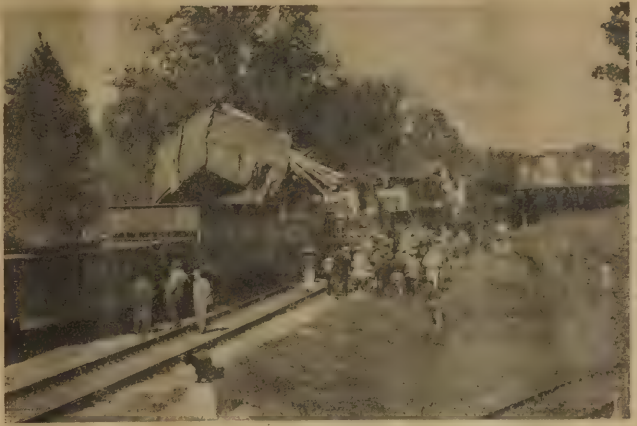
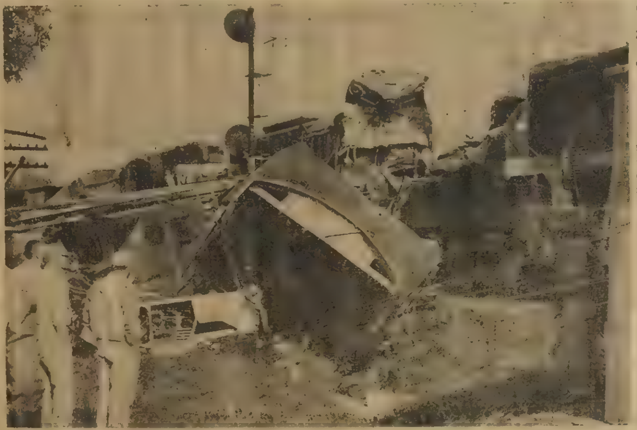
Damage In Big Train Wreck Here Estimated At $1 Million



THIS PICTURE WAS taken only minutes after these two 'mile-long" L&N freights collided. The two trains numbered over 200 freight cars, most of which were empty, as was the one pictured here. The engine was literally rammed into the boxcar, which desintegrated like so much firewood.

Demolished Engine Where Thomas Was Trapped



ABOVE IS THE totally wrecked engine from which Engineer R. E. Thoma was miraculously rescued and pulled to safety by companions and eye-witnesse who rushed to his aid. Damage was estimated near $1 million. Railroad crew worked all night long clearing the track which was completely blocked by the smash-up. (Photos by Scott of Clanton)

SERVICE was back to norma' on the L&N Railroad Sunday after a tumultous wreck Saturday morning that scattered five diesel engines over the railroad right-of-way just north of the overhead bridge [illegible] 4th Avenue, Clanton.

Four trainmen were injured in the wreck, but none of them seriously. The worst injured was R. E. Thomas, of Birmingham, who received a badly cut hand and was trapped in the engine cab of one of the trains for some time.

Five engines were hauling approximately 200 freight cars when the two trains collided. Officials declined to say what the cause of the [illegible] was, but it was stated by [illegible] that a mix-up in signals was the probable cause.

Another eye-witness stated that the trains were traveling at what he estimated to be about 20 miles per hour when the wreck occurred.

Two of the diesels appeared to be completely demolished and several boxcars were either splintered or derailed

One odd occurrence was the derailment of three box cars some two blocks from where the engines crashed. The cars were literally ripped off their wheels and rails were snapped like baling wire. The impact of one of the cars falling completely uprooted rails and cross ties of a side track for about 15 or 20 feet. This was near the L&N station, but no other cars were derailed

An "on the scene" worker said that the application of the air brakes so suddenly was the cause of this second derailment.

Besides Thomas, others injured in the wreck were: Howard E. Anderson, fireman: Horace D. Dobson engineer and N. R. Lovelady, fireman.

FOLKS and THINGS About Town

by Ben

JUST a lot of good men are being urged by their friends to run for State Senator next Spring. A few mentioned to us within the past few days have been Charlie Cox Cliff Walton and Alex Hayes. We haven't talked to Alex, but Charlie Cox is well-experienced in the State House at Montgomery. Cliff Walton says that it is true, he is being urged to run by a number of people and that if there is a worthwhile program the people want for the County and he can help, he would consider running. There's a lot of talent in those three prospective candidates and come "greenup" you'll see some action in the senatorial race no doubt.

YOU could get reserved seats for the fotball game at the Wright Drug Store, Callen Alred Drug Store and the Upchurch Drug Store Thursday and Friday if they hadn't called the game off because of sickness in the Prattville football team Of course we suppose you could get a reserved seat anyway, but who wants to go down to the gridiron and sit on a cold night in the dark with no game there or no people making merry. No kidding, the game between Clanton and Prattville was called off so we need not make mention of the reserved seats for the Band Boosters until another time.

THAT game that was called off for Friday night will be played on Tuesday, Nov. 5th, it is reported Maybe it would be a good idea to go ahead and buy your reserved seats and hold them until Tuesday night. Then you can be assured of a seat no matter how late you get started for the big game.

OUR Probate Judge, M. D. Tingle wants all and sundry to understand that today is the last day to buy your privilege licenses without having to pay a penalty. CIVITANS SET TENTATIVE DATE FOR FIRST AMATEUR BOXING BOUT

By G. D. JONES
For The News

ON OCTOBER 24 the Civitan Club of Clanton's Committee for Amateur Boxing met to discuss and make plans for the future bouts that are in the planning stages.

A Committee was appointed by Civitan President William Hicks to make a study, plan the work and check on needed equipment. The committee members are: Donald Finlayson, V. L. Bulger, G. D. Jones Bert Snead and Rev. J. C. Rains

Location of a training building will be anounced by the Club in a few days.

Rev. Jim Rains, who is pastor of the Methodist Church at Verbena, has given assurance that he will support this project in every way possible. He has had valuable experience in the field of Amateur Boxing—some 10 years—and this will prove invaluable to the local effort.

The Club has stated that it would like to have its first exhibition around December 1.

This would include other boxing Clubs in bouts with the local Club as preliminary bouts.

Boys matched locally will be according to size and experience and strictly according to the A. A. U Rules.

Interested parties are requested to write P. O. Box 666 Clanton as soon as possible so that the progrm can be outlined and work begun.

The Committee has stated its desire to hear and welcomes any suggestion from any source that may assist in putting this clean sport program across.

Look for future details in the Chilton County News.

SOMETHING TO CROW ABOUT—

NEW NURSING HOME OPENS HERE; FIRST OF KIND IN U. S.

By R. M. TUCKER

WE had the privilege the past week-end of going through Chilton County's new Nursing Home. The hostess, Mrs. Mildred McGowin escorted us on a tour of the new building and it's beauty is beyond description.

Rose rooms, blue rooms, soft golden yellow rooms, green rooms all done wtih matching accessories make the entire Nursing Home a thing to remember.

Said to be the first in the United States of its kind, the Nursing Home is connected by a long annex to the Chilton County Hospital.

It will provide for thirty patients some with private rooms and some with semi-private rooms. Each room is outfitted with a comfortable easy chair, dresser, clothe cabinet and private toilet. The mattresses on the beds are as comfortable as money could buy. The entire plan is for solid comfort—and solid comfort is what you think of first when you enter and inspect the new Nursing Home.

Every safety measure for the convenience of old people has been anticipated.

The new builling was constructed at a cost of approximately $350,000, with fifty percent being paid from Hill-Burton funds and half by the County.

Mr. J. N. Sudduth, administrator of Chilton County Hospital will act as Administrator and Mrs. Mildred McGowin will serve as hostess.

Hundreds of visitors were present Sunday afternoon when the dedication service was held. Congressman Armistead Selden was guest speaker.

Now serving on the officia oarBd is J. W. Hayes, chairman B. G. Glenn, Barney Adams, W C. Golden, Sam Woodley, C. O Lawrence, Joe Hall Johnson and Joe Moore.

The CAEC is believed to be the third electric co-op of the state's 22 to make such a refund. Although this is its first capital credit refund there have been two rate reductions, the latest being in January of this year.

DEAR EDITOR· WHY SPUTNIK?

SPUTNIK has sure been causing a great furore among our top brass, and many others. Everyone seems to think it a great mystery how the Russians beat us to the first earth Satellite.

To me it seems quite simple.

In the first place we have been so busy, spending billions of the taxpayers money, surrounding the Russians with military bases, and equipping every nation, that would accept, on our conditions, with war equipment, under the hypocritical pretense of peaceful intentions, taxing the people to the limit, for billions as though they were pennies.

Now this has proved all worthless, since the Russians have proved beyond any doubt, that they have missiles they can fire from Moscow, and hit any target in the USA. We should have used that money at home, where it would have done the American people some good

We would have been better off if we had thrown it in the ocean.

All the bases and war equipment we have planted around the world will probably be used against us some day.

While we have been busy doing this the Russians have been at home turning out scientists and developing their missiles. Another thing that has helped the Russians; while we have been so busy spending money to smear the names of some of our best scientists and professors of higher learning, with red charges and prosecuting them as subversives, thus discouraging anyone from wanting to become a scientist (for who wants to spend a lot of money and time to study to be a scientist or professor of higher learning, just to be classed as a subversive?) The Russians have been turning out about ten scientists to our one. Their institutions of learning are free, and they even pay the students, and feed and clothe them, while they are learning.

They also have free medicine for everyone, and so-called flying hospitals, that fly out into isolated sections, and treat their people. It is free.

All this has been happening while we have been paying high salaried Congresmen on our Un American Activties Committees, to run around smearing the names of some of our best-trained professors and scientists, and hiring criminals and ex-convicts for witnesses to prosecute them. Quarreling over segregation, or so-called integration, calling our Constitution unConstitutional and our Supreme Court Red. In my opinion, there is nothing more un-American than our un-American Activities Committees Activities.

Another main contributing factor is that it costs the Russians only about one-fourth as much as it does us to build anything. It just costs them exactly what goes into it. Let me illustrate what I mean by this. To start with our Government prints all money, and turns it over to the Federal Reserve Bank which is owned and controlled by private banking interests, at practically the cost of printing. It costs no more to print a "ten thousand dollar bill" than it does to print a one-dolar bill.

When we want to build something or do something we have to borrow the money back and pay good interest. Let us say we want to build a Battleship that is supposed to cost $160 million dollars. We borrow the money or issue bonds which is the same thing, and pay 4% interest for say forty years At the end of the forty years we have paid the banks $256 million in interest, this makes the Battleship cost us $416 million instead of the original $160 million.

But the fact of the matter is we never get it paid for, because our debt is already about $280 billion, and the interest on this is about $11 billion 200 million. This is about all we can carry above our running expenses.

But this isn't all! We then, either let a contract to some corporation that must make close to a hundred percent profit, or else we let it to one on a cost plus basis, so they can possibly make even more profit without investing anything. I have worked on several "cost plus" jobs. Then, the material must all be bought from some corporation that must make a good profit. I cannot believe that we can successfully compete against the Russian economy under these conditions.

So, we have Sputnik!

Remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.—(The Acts 20, 35.)

Often, when spontaneously bestowing a friendly smile upon a lonely person, or a word or deed of help and encouragement to one in distress, we have been wondrously rewarded by such an inner satisfaction as a fortune in dollars could not equal. Indeed we are blessed when we give, unselfishly, and in love.

Five Correct Answers Mark Driving Pros

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

THE SAME INGREDIENTS which distinguish the master chef from the novice cook also separate the true professional driver from the beginner.

Miss Smith

In both cases, part of the difference is, of course, experience. But knowledge makes the big difference. To be a good driver you need facts about your car, about highways, traffic and driving situations—just as a professional chef must have knowledge of recipes, spices and cooking techniques.

Here are five questions asked (and correctly answered) by the New York University Center for Safety Education. Giving yourself 20 points for each correct answer, a score of 100 means you're a real pro, 80 an average driver. With 60 points or less, better get back to the books!

1. Which of these accounts most for the high night time accident rate?
   a. Poor visibility
   b. Faster Drivers
   c. Fatigue
2. What should you do if steam forms on your windshield?
   a. Increase your speed by 10 miles per hour.
   b. Stop and wipe the windshield every few miles.
   c. Open a window slightly.
3. What should you do when a school bus ahead stops suddenly?
   a. Slow down and pass if no children cross the road.
   b. Stop behind the bus and wait until it proceeds.
   c. Pass the bus, sounding your horn.
4. What is the best way to stop quickly on a snow-covered road?
   a. Slam on the brakes.
   b. Turn off the ignition and apply the hand brake.
   c. Pump the brake pedal.
5. What should you do when crossing wet trolley tracks?
   a. Turn across the tracks gradually.
   b. Turn the car sharply across the tracks.
   c. Drive on the tracks before crossing them.

Here are the correct answers: 1-a; 2-c; 3-b; 4-c; 5-b.

Just in case a return to the books is indicated, your local law enforcement agencies, auto club or high school can suggest recommended reading material on good driving habits.

BETTER SCHOOLS BUILD

Decorator's Notebook
by Phyllis Drea

Picture windows are rapidly becoming a standard fixture in American homes. Many new homes contain at least one, usually in the living room, and many remodeled homes have replaced old small windows with a large expanse of glass.

A wonderful way to bring the outdoors into the living room, too many people are finding that these windows bring their private lives into the open, and feel like so many fish in a fishbowl.

Controlling the sunlight which pours in through these huge windows is another problem. Sun-bleached rugs, draperies and upholstery are expensive to replace.

Venetian Blinds are the most efficient means of controlling sun, light and air as well as providing the privacy which we all desire. During the day, blinds can be tilted to deflect the sun's rays without shutting out light and air. In the evening, blinds should be closed and draperies or curtains drawn to give your room a warm, cozy look. Remember, too, that Venetian Blinds provide insulation and control drafts during the winter months — an important factor when it comes to paying heating bills.

IF you live in the past or the future, you just can't do justice to the present.

CRITICISM seldom pleases people, but it's a lot nearer the truth than flattery.

DON'T sit around and wait for your ship to come in—you'll soon be too old to navigate.

AIM high in this life—but don't overshoot your mark.

IT'S fine to be able to see through an idea—but seeing an idea through is better.

THESE days there is an over-production of every commodity except "Good Will".

MOST of us call it bad luck when it is ourselves who fail to create our own opportunities.

IT isn't so much what we attempt—It's what we finish that counts.

CARELESS OR INCOMPETENT----

HAD YOU NOTICED THAT every time big news breaks lately concerning the President of the United States, he is found either on the golf course, at a football game, or fishing?

In the perilous times it seems the President of the United States would be a little more concerned with the responsibilty of his high office.

When we speak of news that concerns the President, we naturally speak of news that concerns us all, since he is supposed to be the leader of this great nation and to guide its destiny.

Well, we said six years ago he was a good soldier, a personality the like of which has not been seen in national politics in years, and a Christian gentleman. But, as material for President, he was not. We believe he has proved our point.

Good Work--And We're Getting It----

YOU'VE HEARD THE OLD saying, "It's good work, if you can get it"? Well we're getting it on our streets here in Clanton. Thanks to Mayor J. Hollis Jackson, the City Council, and that most efficient M. L. Brown, Superintendent of City streets, for the good work that is going on. After driving over much of the City ths past week-end we find the streets much improved and with evidence everywhere of the fine job our street department is doing.

EXCITEMENT EVERYWHERE----

SATURDAY, MORNING, OCTOBER 25, 1957, will be remembered in Clanton as the morning of the "Big Train Wreck".

Excitement was rife immediately after the terrific crash of the two freight trains—three engines were pulling one train and two engines pulling the other.

The City's population just about turned out to see what the trouble was and throughout the day a stream of humanity stretched for blocks up and down the L&N Railway viewing the wreckage.

With an organization even like that of the L&N Railroad it was unbelievable that by Sunday morning the track was clear and trains again going through on schedule, but they were. Our hat is off to those tireless workers, who braved the elements and toiled throughout the night to accomplish this end.

For what is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? —St. Matthew 16, 26.)

So often, these days, so many of us sacrifice so much to make "big" money—to "hit the jackpot" of fame or fortune—and we ignore the inner longing that is our soul. Somehow we think that this can wait until we have made ourselves secure in success... But, who knows the day and hour of his death?

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

WE were the receiver of a very pleasant surprise one day last week in the form of a subscription to the Chilton County News.

This in itself, though not being a surprise was pleasant, but that wasn't the thing we enjoyed the most. We received a letter along with it from Fred Kelley, formerly of Maplesville and now residing in Eden, Alabama (P. O. Box 196) and he informs us that he is now working in radio "the business I love" and he's in it full-time. He and wife Carrie Jean are doing well and send their best to their "treasured" friendships in Chilton County. Fred was on WKLF here in Clanton for a while and owned a small store in Maplesville for a while. Now he's made the grade, and considering ourselves a friend of his we can think of nobody anywhere who is happier for him or prouder of his accomplishment than we are. Good luck Fred and family.

HALLOWE'EN! That's all you have to say to describe the magic this season brings in with it. It envelopes young children in a world of make believe and fantastic mystery—unlike any other. It turns adult hearts into time machines that whisk away bygone years and recalls for them all the pleasures, wonder, devilment and excitement that went into their own Hallowe'en days. For some it is a time of merrymaking, party going and feasting. For others it is a time for spooky stories, doning masks and scaring folks in general. Others just reminisce. Whichever class into which you fall you may be sure that the brew that casts the spell over us all is only temporary and that tomorrow the carefree hours will again make way for the work-a-day world once again. Enjoy yourself the most—it's Hallowe'en!

WE would like here and now, to thank and congratulate the Clanton Lions Club on the fine job they have done with the first Chilton County Lions Bowl football game. We do not know any of the statistics; neither the game nor the project, but we do have a confirmed opinion about the way in which the entire thing was handled. Those boys don't miss a single angle and they have some of the doggoned workingest men in town on their roll. As we said, at present we don't know how they came out financially, we hope well—but we certainly congratulate them on a thorough job, well done and for the best interests of their community. And as Glen Bashore would say: "Our hair is off to them."

You know, we sincerely hope that Glen is the friend of ours that we think he is, or we're gonna be in serious trouble. Who'd we hire for a lawyer?

IT sickens us a little to see a "man", entrusted by another, to take advantage of that trust. It happens, not only in the movies, but in the County of Chilton and in the City of Clanton. If a man gave another a job, never questioning his honesty or integrity and inside of a week the ungrateful receiver of this good deed was taking advantage of this man who had, in the greatest way, befriended him by giving him a means of earning a living, what would you think of him? Well, you are entitled to your opinion—we already have ours.

DOCTOR J. L. Bennett came in this week and had the unmitigated gall to tell us that we "just didn't know how to fish". Sure, he's right, but he didn't have to say so. Anyhow, we earned the rebuke by saying that "to go fishin' in weather like this, you'd have to sho'nuff love fishin'." We, as a rule are the first to admit that we don't know any fish, but when somebody else says it, well. . . who's gonna stand up for us if we don't. We may not know how to catch 'em Doc, but we can sure hold our own and then some when it comes to eatin' 'em! It takes both kinds you know, Doc; some eaters don't like to fish and some fishermen don't like fish. We just kinda balance off nature there a little bit.

ABUNDANT LIFE
BY ORAL ROBERTS

THE BIBLE IS A HEALING BOOK

Charlie Sullivan is a good friend of mine He lives in Glendale, California, a perfect specimen of health To look at him now, you would never guess that he has been pronounced dead or dying seventeen times.

On July 4, 1939, Charlie Sullivan stepped out of a fishing boat after a day at his favorite sport. Charlie never felt better in his life, but as he stepped from the boat, something happened. Suddenly he was hemorrhaging from the mouth.

The family doctor was summoned and Charlie was rushed to the hospital in Sioux City, Iowa, where he lived at that time After thorough examination, the diagnosis was that Charlie was suffering from the rare and dreaded disease purpura-hemorrhagica. He was bleeding from every orifice of his body When the doctors pricked his ear with a needle Charlie bled from that tiny opening for twenty-two minutes

For six months he hovered between life and death. He was recommended to Mayo Clinic, but Mayo stated frankly that his type of case was hopeless However, they sent a physician to the hospital in Sioux City to help and to study his case. Charlie was so bloodless that when a minister laid his hand on his head to pray for him, the prints of the minister's hand remained there for four days. Seventeen times in those six months. Charlie's wife was hurried to the hospital to see her husband before he died

In January 1940, Charlie Sullivan was sent home from the hospital to die. He was a devout Christian and read the Bible for comfort and strength. One day he came to the fourth verse of the eleventh Chapter of the Gospel of John. "This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby."

As Charlie Sullivan read these words something seized him Suddenly he knew that they were his promise. By faith, he accepted them. Immediately he felt the healing power of God go through his body cleansing him of the terrible disease. Four months later Charlie Sullivan was back on his job working as a normal man.

Today he is entirely healthy. His blood count is absolutely normal and Charlie Sullivan never tires telling the people that God is a good God. For God kept his promise—"He sent his Word and healed."

The Bible is a healing book. It is the Word of God and expresses his thoughts concerning us. Jesus said, "If your child were to ask you for bread, would you give him a stone, or if he wanted fish, would you give him a poisonous scorpion?. If," he said, "you would give your child good things to meet his need, how much more will your heavenly father give you Good things."

Read your Bible. Find out what God's thoughts are toward you and about you The Bible will then become a healing book to you also.

TWO LANES ... OR MANY LANES

THE BEST PAVEMENT FOR AMERICA'S GREAT NEW ROADS IS CONCRETE . . . on all counts!

The Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 provides that the Federal government will pay 90% of the cost of building the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways. The states, however, must bear the entire burden of maintaining it!

In fairness to taxpayers that means that the pavement chosen should be the most durable. It also should be the least costly to maintain. Concrete is the answer on both counts!

Roads built to Interstate System standards may cost less—and in no case much more if built with concrete. And once built, concrete roads need far less maintenance and serve much longer than other kinds. All these facts are a matter of record!

Whether the roads have only two lanes or many, you, as a taxpayer, will profit from the choice of dependable, long-lasting concrete, the pavement which has proven best on all counts.

Picture windows are rapidly becoming a standard fixture in American homes. Many new homes contain at least one, usually in the living room, and many remodeled homes have replaced old small windows with a large expanse of glass.

A wonderful way to bring the outdoors into the living room, too many people are finding that these windows bring their private lives into the open, and feel like so many fish in a fishbowl.

Controlling the sunlight which pours in through these huge windows is another problem. Sun-bleached rugs, draperies and upholstery are expensive to replace.

Venetian Blinds are the most efficient means of controlling sun, light and air as well as providing the privacy which we all desire. During the day, blinds can be tilted to deflect the sun's rays without shutting out light and air. In the evening, blinds should be closed and draperies or curtains drawn to give your room a warm, cozy look. Remember, too, that Venetian Blinds provide insulation and control drafts during the winter months — an important factor when it comes to paying heating bills.

Cotton Referendum Scheduled For Dec. 10th

A referendum on cotton marketing quotas for the 1958 crop will be decided upon December 10.

It was stated this week that all Alabama farmers having cotton allotments are eligible to vote. Polls will be set up at the regular ASC polling places.

In order for quotas to be in effect, two-thirds of the farmers voting in the referendum must approve them. If this percentage O.K's marketing quotas, the 1958 cotton crop will be supported at the highest level of parity.

Under the marketing quota program, however, any grower who plants more than his allotment will have to pay a penalty of 50 percent of parity on the excess acreage. Also, he will be ineligible for price supports on any of his cotton.

If voters decide against the quotas, cotton will be supported at only 50 percent of parity. Overplanting in this case would not result in cash penalties; but growers seeding more than the allotted acreages would be ineligible for price supports.

What Makes Your Engine Wear?

Ask the average car-owner what the cause of engine wear is, and he'll probably reply: "Friction." Well, he's wrong. Engine wear is the result of a corrosive chemical process and not friction at all. What's more, this process can now be controlled by an easily installed apparatus that cuts engine wear by as much as 85%.

Winthrop A. Johns, a mechanical engineer who once conducted Diesel engine experiments for the U. S. Navy, testproved the fact that acid compounds are formed in the normal process of gas combustion. These acids are collected by the circulating engine oil, and carried throughout the engine system. They attack cylinder walls, pistons and bearings, eat away metal and leave behind abrasive metallic salts. This corrosion, and the abrasive deposits, wear out the vital moving parts of the engine.

Mr. Johns further discovered that these acids can be sidetracked in such a way that, instead of eating away at the engine, they can feed on a piece of special magnesium alloy inserted into the engine—a "sacrificial" metal that gives up its life, so to speak, to save the engine. Now available to car-owners under the name of "Magna-Power," this apparatus is a simple rod of the special alloy inserted into a drain plug that fits into the oil pan of any popular make of car.

By sidetracking corrosive acids, the magnesium rods further reduce the formation of harmful sludge, varnish, and resin. This not only helps retain "new car" power, but slightly increases it.

An additional feature of "Magna-Power" is the addition of a magnet that catches loose metallic parts in the engine's oil and prevents their re-circulation.

Similar "sacrificial" plugs are available for the car's radiator and gas tank, making it possible for the average car owner to prolong all the vital parts of his car—inside as well as outside.

Jemison Defeat Gives CCHS Fifth "Whitewash" of Season

Special To The News

By JERRY GRAY

The Chilton County Tigers horse-raced past the Jemison Panthers to win their 5th consecutive football game of the season as they walloped the Panthers by the overwhelming score of 47 to 0. This was the 5th game of the season in which the Tigers have held the opposition scoreless.

In the first quarter the pattern for the game was set when after bringing the ball into Jemison territory on the twelve yard line Tiger halfback James Knight ripped the Panther defense as he blasted thru for a TD. This was just a prelude, for the Tigers and James Knight, who had himself a great game.

Jemison merched deep into Tiger territory in what appeared to be a determined drive, only to have it crippled by an intercepted pass.

On the first play from scrimmage, halfback James Knight gathered in the pigskin and galloped 90 yards for the Tigers second tally.

The second quarter followed much the same pattern as the first, with some big holes opened up by the Tiger line the CCHS backfield once more went to work and scored two more TD's; one by Neal Bice on a neat 60-yard run around left end and Knight added another tally as he bursted through the rough from the five.

In the second half, Jemison made several threatening advances, under the leadership of Larry Thornhill and Ed Hayes, but always the breaks went against them and the ever alert Tigermen took every advantage and capitalized on them.

In the third quarter James Knight went across from the 10 to make the score 34 to 0. The Tigers, however, were not through with the Jemison unit yet. They came back striking like lightning on a pass play from Charlie Gray to end Thomas Minor.

In the finale there was a bitterly fought battle between the two teams, however the Tigers did manage to add one more tally. This came on little Oz Mims sparkling 40-yard run.

New Muscadine Grape Perfected In Southland

Southern farmers with a taste for muscadine grapes may soon be able to secure plants of a new and superior variety.

The grape—the Dearing—is a [illegible]uality, self-fertile variety which has been developed for planting in the southern region of the United States.

Indictating a few of the good points about the grape, it was said this week that the Dearing differs from other muscadine varieties in that one vine can produce fruit. The specialists explain that this interplanting with male vines unnecessary.

Until the release of several perfect flowered varieties a few years ago all muscadines bore flowers of one sex only. The Dearing is the first perfect flowered muscadine with [illegible] and quality to equal the [illegible] sex varieies.

Dearing vines should be available at commercial nurseries this fall and winter, according to Bagby

For the News

THE CCHS Tigers ran wild Tuesday night as they whacked Prattville's highly vaunted Lions by the overwhelming score of 41 to 0.

In the first quarter halfback Neal Bice went across from the 10-yard line to climax a 63-yard drive.

The Lions, under the leadership of Quarterback Jackson tried hard to get into the scoring column but always the terrific Tiger line held fast and Prattville was forced to punt.

The score at halftime was 13 to 0.

The Lions threatened in the third period, but they never were able to carry through with the threat.

The Tigers fourth TD came when alternate fullback Jack Davis scampered over from the 10-yard line.

When the extra point was added the score was 27 to 0.

In the fourth period Prattville strained desperately to get into the scoring column, but as always the breaks were a'gin 'em.

A tremendous battle raged through the entire fourth quarter and when the dust settled—the score was CCHS 41 — Prattville 0.

Leading rusher with 111 yards was James Knight. Knight pulled in a 30 yard TD and Charlie Gray got himself a 50 yard TD.

CCHS	Statistics	Prattville

79	Passing Yards	0
5	Passes Attempted	4
4	Passes Completed	0

Picture windows are rapidly becoming a standard fixture in American homes. Many new homes contain at least one, usually in the living room, and many remodeled homes have replaced old small windows with a large expanse of glass.

A wonderful way to bring the outdoors into the living room, too many people are finding that these windows bring their private lives into the open, and feel like so many fish in a fish-bowl.

Controlling the sunlight which pours in through these huge windows is another problem. Sun-bleached rugs, draperies and upholstery are expensive to replace.

Venetian Blinds are the most efficient means of controlling sun, light and air as well as providing the privacy which we all desire. During the day, blinds can be tilted to deflect the sun's rays without shutting out light and air. In the evening, blinds should be closed and draperies or curtains drawn to give your room a warm, cozy look. Remember, too, that Venetian Blinds provide insulation and control drafts during the winter months — an important factor when it comes to paying heating bills.

TWO LANES ...

THE BEST PAVEMENT FOR AMERICA'S GREAT NEW ROADS IS CONCRETE ... on all counts!

The Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 provides that the Federal government will pay 90% of the cost of building the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways. The states, however, must bear the entire burden of maintaining it!

In fairness to taxpayers that means that the pavement chosen should be the most durable. It also should be the least costly to maintain. Concrete is the answer on both counts!

Roads built to Interstate System standards may cost less—and in no case much more if built with concrete. And once built, concrete roads need far less maintenance and serve much longer than other kinds. All these facts are a matter of record!

Whether the roads have only two lanes or many, you, as a taxpayer, will profit from the choice of dependable, long-lasting concrete, the pavement which has proven best on all counts.

ABUNDANT LIFE
BY ORAL ROBERTS

BEST GAMBLE OF HIS LIFE

"This afternoon I visited the Casino at Monte Carlo. It is a beautiful building and famous the world over. The entrance and lobby are of clear glass and light brown marble.

"There are two gambling saloons. The saloons contain several tables.

"We walked from table to table to watch the game, but actually I was more interested in the faces of the gamblers. On not a single face was there a trace of a smile. They all seemed to be clutched by an unseen power—as if they were writhing in the coils of an invisible python from which they could not get free. Despair, misery and fear were written on their tired, haggard faces.

"Many of these people lose their all at the gambling tables. Many of them go up to the Monaco Castle close by. There, from a high cliff a few yards from the Palace of the Prince of Monaco, they jump to their death on the rocks and in the sea far below. A boat is always ready to go out and bring in their bodies. Identification papers are searched for and whenever possible the family is informed but nothing is ever published in the newspapers." So writes Francis Grim.

How terrible and unfortunate! These people are gripped by an all-consuming passion. It is a passion that seizes the soul, traps the mind, imprisons the will and destroys the very moral fiber of a human being. It is a disease, a tragic disease brought on by the powers of evil.

But Jesus came to set the captive free. In Him there is freedom from every imprisonment.

Sam R. was a gambler. He would rather gamble than eat. His pay day could not come often enough. And when it came, most of the time, he never reached home with his pay.

His wife was unhappy, his children undernourished and his house ill-furnished, for while he was the finest sort of man otherwise, he could not control his passion for the gambling table.

One day a new pastor came to town. He visited the home and persuaded Sam to begin going to Sunday School. Weeks and months passed.

Then one night at church Sam had a transforming experience. The minister in his sermon said, "I want to offer you the greatest 'stakes' ever offered. I offer you Christ. You've tried everything else. Will you take a chance on Him?"

Sam took that chance—accepted Christ. The chains that had bound him so tightly dropped away and for the first time he was free from his uncontrollable desire to gamble. A few weeks later, on Sunday morning he felt badly. He did not go to church but his children did.

Just before the morning message was over, someone called for the children to come outside. Sam R. had just dropped dead of a heart attack. But before he died, he whispered this to his wife:

"Everything is all right. That chance I took a few weeks ago was the best gamble I ever made." And it was! For he lost nothing . . . . He gained everything!

What Makes Your Engine Wear?

Ask the average car-owner what the cause of engine wear is, and he'll probably reply: "Friction." Well, he's wrong. Engine wear is the result of a corrosive chemical process and not friction at all. What's more, this process can now be controlled by an easily installed apparatus that cuts engine wear by as much as 85%.

Winthrop A. Johns, a mechanical engineer who once conducted Diesel engine experiments for the U. S. Navy, test-proved the fact that acid compounds are formed in the normal process of gas combustion. These acids are collected by the circulating engine oil, and carried throughout the engine system. They attack cylinder walls, pistons and bearings, eat away metal and leave behind abrasive metallic salts. This corrosion, and the abrasive deposits, wear out the vital moving parts of the engine.

Mr. Johns further discovered that these acids can be sidetracked in such a way that, instead of eating away at the engine, they can feed on a piece of special magnesium alloy inserted into the engine—a "sacrificial" metal that gives up its life, so to speak, to save the engine. Now available to car-owners under the name of "Magna-Power," this apparatus is a simple rod of the special alloy inserted into a drain plug that fits into the oil pan of any popular make of car.

By sidetracking corrosive acids, the magnesium rods further reduce the formation of harmful sludge, varnish, and resin. This not only helps retain "new car" power, but slightly increases it.

An additional feature of "Magna-Power" is the addition of a magnet that catches loose metallic parts in the engine's oil and prevents their re-circulation.

Similar "sacrificial" plugs are available for the car's radiator and gas tank, making it possible for the average car owner to prolong all the vital parts of his car—inside as well as outside.

MEN used to make slaves of one another—now it's installment buying that does it.

AS long as some people can think of something to kick about, they think that life is worth living.

HONESTY is always the best policy, but too many have allowed their policy to lapse.

THE secret of success lies in doing what you can do best—and forgetting about the rest.

IT is a good thing to mind your own business unless you are getting paid to mind anoher's.

IT'S a poor policy to put things off until tomorrow. Someone else will do it today.

A TRAIN of thought won't go anywhere unless you work up enough steam to operate it.

WITH expenses what they are today a man has to burn his candle at both ends to make ends meet.

OUR MAIL SERVICE----

WHEN THE L&N RAILROAD cut mail cars off two of the trains through Clanton this week it left quite a gap in our mail service. Newspapers going from Clanton to Jemison & Thorsby and points north mailed late Wednesday night have no way of being delivered to their destination until Friday. Mind you, Thorsby is only six miles north of Clanton and Jemison is only 11 miles north of Clanton.

Something should be done about this because your first class mail gets the same treatment. Whether the burden lies on the postal department or on the railroad, which has a contract to deliver the mail isn't for us to say. We do say that the service is terrible and that's a fact.

If the railway is not going to be able to take care of the mails and give us better service, then it is up to the Post Office Department to furnish trucks to do the job. One mail south and one north each day does not give the post office patrons the kind of service to which they are entitled.

Our City Is Dirty----

RESIDENTS OF CLANTON DO not take enough pride in keeping our little City clean.

The habit of throwing trash on the sidewalks and in the streets should be stopped by all of us and more care given to making our City beautiful.

We cannot expect visitors coming into Clanton to appreciate what a nice community we have unless we get ou of the habit of littering it up, instead of cleaning it up.

Thousands of vistors come here annually to visit the river for water sports and to enjoy the scenery. What kind of impression do you think they take home with them?

Do you think we are doing our duty towards ourselves and our City? Or do you agree we are a bunch of litterbugs?

By "TUCK"

SEEMS some of us parents hate to admit it—but Santa Claus IS coming to town!

A CRITIC is a judge of taste; but some folks think that, to be one, you have to abuse the rights of others.

YOU know those little pamphlet, that the Salvation Army leaves around every Saturday are often times an inspiration for us to do a better days work. Yes, it seems we need reminding only too often of patience and fortitude and these little messages, which are usually left around over the working area all during the week serve as just a reminder. We seldom read the War Cry, but we very often read the short story and moral in the little folder, sometimes more'n once.

FROM what we are led to believe it is very hard to be rich; but we can go one further and say that it's sometimes harder to be plain and simply honest.

ALL this nonsense about Sputnik, Whatsnik and dogs in space is, to our way of thinking, a pretty feeble way for the adult population of this generation—especially the press—to be spending most—if not all of their time and attentions. The idea of Sputnik is not at all unadult, but the turmoil caused by it and the way the daily newspapers monopolize their front pages with it is like pouring coal oil on a wood fire. No doubt a whole new concept—a new trend—will come into focus. Yes, Sputnik will probably cause enough interest to go into our vocabulary and someone will have to revise poor old Webster's revise-worn book.

We firmly believe in progress—and we believe that hiding your head in the sand is outdated—but one thing Webster obviously had a lot of us beat on—he knew the definition of progress and wasn't ashamed of it. We think some people today do not know what progress really is.

If the situation, as it stands today is allowed to balloon at its present rate then the United States will soon be as near a general panic as it has ever been in its history—and for what?

Some of the news stories indicate between the lines that the United States just can't stand the thought of being second—could this be? Is it possible that we can't practice what we preach? Anyone can see that this advance by another country is cause for concern, but is it cause for alarm? The kind of drastic action that upsets our government, our armed forces and our people themselves?

Things of much greater significance and magnitude have happened in our times before and likely will again. We are very nearly letting our emotions get the upper hand of our reasoning—then where will we be?

As for the dog in the satellite; had it been the United States doing the very same thing, he would have been given a fancy name, a citation, praised by the animal societies; clubs would have been formed in his honor and pictures of him in his space suit would adorn the walls of canine kennels throughout the United States for his heroic deed and service to mankind. His questionable seat as man's best friend would no longer be doubted.

If we condemn and belittle other countries for their achievements simply because they "got there first" we are no better ourselves than we say they are—and that's pretty bad at times.

Credit where credit is due—like the law—should include everyone. Our government should have concern about this progress of another country, but we don't think it requires getting up on our haunches and sticking out our tongues at those who made the accomplishment.

Granting that it's inhumane—possibly—to have sent Rover off on a wild goose chase that way—lest we forget—it is their dog and their satellite and—though some may question it—it's their business what they do with both. Keepi[illegible] and tearing down are tw[illegible] animals for sure.

DOC Bennett says he didn't say we couldn't catch fish. He also says that Lester and Grady Carter fishermen of about our magnitude went out with Shelby Cargile early this week and caught a whopping tub full—none of which weighed less than two pounds. "We threw back all the small ones" said the elated catchers. That's the trouble with a fisherman after his first dose of success—haughty and arrogant. Imagine setting the minimum weight at two pounds. Cheeeh!

IT'S MY OPINION—

HALLOWE'EN--Trick Or Treat?----

By BOB TUCKER

WE HAVE ARRIVED AT the conclusion that the phrase "Trick or Treat" is derived from and is synonymous with "Stick 'em Up".

Kids nowadays go at Halloween with a "Gimme all you got" attitude that to our way of thinking, is destroying—at least changing—the whole idea of Hallowe'en.

Our definition of Halloween is "fun" (good clean fun) and our idea of fun is not in any fashion or form, getting yourself the biggest container you can find and canvassing the neighborhoods looking for handouts.

Yes, we said handouts, because that's about all it amounts to. We can understand parents wanting their kids to have fun on such an occasion as Halloween (as if they didn't the other 364 days), but in too many instances nowadays, it would seem the children are leading the parents (by the nose) instead of the parents "guiding" the child (by the seat of the britches if necessary). It is disgustingly apparent that in a "modern" parent's vocabulary the word "no" is as outdated as grandpa's garters. Giving a child everything he needs and "everything he want[illegible] just as different as any two things ever were because he wants everything.

We s[illegible] wrong with tricking and treating providing it is minimized [illegible] cial [illegible] go "trick or treating", originally meant to go to ONE or TWO [illegible] so homes and enjoy their hospitality by partaking of something while there. It is tee-totally w[illegible] go and go and go when [illegible] common hoss sense to know [illegible] the kid cannot possibly eat all that he has "demanded". In their little minds they figure "boy, this is no holds barred [illegible]

The fun of the entire thing is enjoying an occasional trick to break the monotony of an otherwise dull, "give-a-way" evening.

If you were to say "O.K. Trick" to a "spook" on Halloween night, two will get you four that he would ask you to repeat the question please, He wouldn't be prepared for such an emergency.

They don't know what it's all about—it's a case of "everybody's doing it so why not me".

Is Halloween a "Treat" or a "Trick"? Have we let it become so commercialized that it is losing its old-fashioned spark and savor? Our opinion is "yes"!

The only ones who can stop this wholesale misrepresentation of "fun" is the individual parent and we sincerely hope that efforts will be made in that direction before Halloween becomes just another 'make [illegible]" season for the cake and candy makers.

I[illegible]t continue to gather a [illegible] that particular night, le[illegible]ldren's Home or a [illegible]re to use as an [illegible] gather up. Sure-[illegible]'re doing it is waste-[illegible] At least then we [illegible]oper spirit. [illegible] one.

"... Joy Knew No Bounds"—

Mothers Treat Clanton "Better Speechers" To Party

By Activities Committee

What a delightful occasion it was for the Better Speech Club members last Thursday afternoon when several homeroom mothers surprised us with a most attractive party in the classroom!

Lovely flower arrangements were placed in the room in the early morning for our enjoyment throughout the day, but, when we returned to our classroom after the free play-period in the afternoon, our joy knew no bounds. There before us was the punch table all ready in every detail, delicious punch in a huge punch bowl banked in appropriate greenery and berries. Each Club member's desk was also appropriately—a lovely sight.

While Patsy Baker and Deborah Thompson served punch, soft music was furnished by Glenda Kendrick, Alice Gene Mitchell, Dent Williams, Rita Weed and Martha Johnson.

Delicious candies and seasonally decorated cookies were served by Dan Brock, Vandy Head, Gloria Wilson and Barbara Price Throughout the social period readings were furnished by various Club members.

Sincere thanks go out to each mother who had a part in making this occasion such a happy one for us.

Presented by the Activities Committee: Martha Johnson, Deborah Thompson and Martha McCaa.

Too Many Porkers In Spring Could Mean Price Drop Next Fall

Depends on Spring Farrowing—

What will happen to hog prices between now and the Fall of 1958?

The answer to thi question depends entirely on the number of pigs farrowed next spring. Too many porkers at this time could mean a sharp drop in next fall's prices.

Right now returns to growers are good, but there's reason for caution. Conditions exist which could stimulate production so that prices would dip again.

Should production on a nationwide basis reach high levels, the markets would be flooded with pork above consumers' demands, thus forcing prices rapidly downwards Such an increase could lead to a repetition of the unfavorable price situation of 1955

A somewhat larger population will probably take care of a moderate increase in the 1958 pig crop. However, secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has urged producers to consider their coming production intentions with special care.

Alabama's pork output is only a small part of the nation's total, so what farmers in this area do does not have much effect on over-all pig numbers. But the smart farmer will make plans to cut production costs in order to make the highest possible income from his hog program.

Navy's ROTC Deadline Is Nov. 16

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS AND GRADUATES

High school seniors and [illegible] have only until November [illegible] to apply for the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps, V-Adm. James A. Holloway, Jr., Chief of Naval Personnel, said today. Applicants will take the nationwide competitive examination on December 14 as the first step toward an appointment as midshipman.

Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has an NROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years. During the summers the student goes on fascinating training cruises to many parts of the world. After completing the usual four year college course, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty with the Navy's far-flung fleets.

High school seniors and graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 may apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid physical exam early in 1958. From the pool of qualified young men remaining in competition, approximately 2,000 will be selected to begin their naval careers next September.

The NROTC college training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty with the Navy and Marines. Separate quotas are established for applicants from within these services.

Application forms are available at all high schools, colleges, Navy Recruiting Stations or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Washington 25, D. C.

Telephone Talk

Your Telephone Manager

OVER THE HORIZON—How would you like to see a TV program from Cuba? Well, now it's possible. American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Radio Corporation of Cuba have just completed between Florida and Cuba the first two-way "over the horizon" communication system ever to be put in service. Before this, beams traveled in a straight line between relay antennas. When they came to an ocean, they were stopped because there was no place for further relays. The new system sends powerful beams into the air. Thousands of feet up, a layer of atmosphere scatters them downward to distant receiving stations. So don't be too surprised if some night your TV starts speaking Spanish. You might not understand all that's said, but at least you'll know how your telephone company's "good neighbor" policy brought our friends in Cuba here to our community.

TO MARKET, TO MARKET—When most folks go shopping, they keep their eyes open for what's new. Your telephone company likes to keep up, too, by developing more and more telephone conveniences. For instance, now you can have a telephone that lights up at night; a spring cord for your phone that never snarls or tangles; or, if you like, a volume-control telephone that lets you turn the voice of the person you're talking with up or down. And best of all (my favorites, anyway) we have color telephones—so bright and convenient as extra phones anywhere in the house. Think you might like some of these new conveniences? Call us, and we'll be glad to help you select them.

DOGGONE—I guess it's a dog's life all right for the pup. Waitng while the lady talks. But who can blame her when these new outdoor telephone booths are so handy. There's a total of 10 in Clanton now. We telephone people think they're pretty special because they make it a lot easier for everyone to talk to anyone, most anytime.

CILLA Adkins is opening her new Modern Beauty Shop Saturday. It is down the hill in the Wade Building near the L&N Railroad where Liberty Nat'l. Life Ins. Co. was located. Cilla is opening with all new, modern machinery and is holding "Open House" at 2:00 p.m. Everyone is invited.

If you can't get there at 2, go at 3, or 4, they will be there to greet you and present you with a free gift. We want to congratulate Cilla on her new beauty shop and wish for her the best.

AND speaking of beauty, Mrs. Jewel DeRamus, formerly of Clanton, is back and now working with her sister Era Wyatt at Era's Beauty Shop. Era's is located in the Willingham Hotel you know. Mrs. DeRamus will be glad to meet her old friends at her new place of business.

SORRY to hear that Mrs. Will Reynolds fell Tuesday morning and broke her hip. She was rushed to a Birmingham Hospital. We hope her recovery is speedy and permanent.

DID YOU hear about the little girl who asked her mother: "Mother, what's that man sitting on the sidewalk talking to that banana peel for?"

FELLOW went into a cafe the other day and was ordering his dinner. When the waitress arrived he said: "I don't like all these flies in here." "Well", returned the bright young waitress, "you just pick out the ones you don't like and I'll kill them".

MRS. ZORA Guy Smith was honored week before last at the Annual Clerks Conference of Selective Service employees by the presentation of a Certificate, for 15 years service. Several others were presented the Certificates over the state. Th presentation was made by James W. Jones, State Director. It would be interesting to know just how many young men have passed through our Selective Service Board in that time. Our heartiest congratulations to Zora Guy on the honor bestowed upon her and we dare say no other county in Alabama has so fine and likeable a selective service clerk.

It should also be pointed out that those who signed a pledge card promising to replace a pint of blood for a patient who has been in the Chilton County Hospital, are obligated to replace that blood on November 22nd at our local Blood Center. Peachers plan Strategy For Next Year's Crop

GOOD CROPS ARE NOT THING OF THE PAST

ACCORDING TO reports this week from County Agent M. R. Glasscock a "One-Day Peach School" is being planned for County farmers "to again give peach growers an opportunity to study up-to-date peach production practice recommendations" said the Agent.

The School is to be held at the Clanton Armory on the Airport Road on Wednesday, November 20th, and will begin at 9:30 a.m.

The services of Dr. Oliver I. Snapp, of U.S. Dept. of Agriculture's Peach Field Station, Ft. Valley, Ga.; as well as members of the API Experiment Station at Auburn and John Bagby of Auburn and also local peach leaders have been secured to aid in conducting the School.

Farm equipment and farm supply dealers will be in attendance exhibiting and demonstrating latest production tools and supplies.

A detailed volume and variety study of Chilton's peach industry has been recently completed. A report on this survey should be of interest to all.

Chilton County's peach acreage has been expanded to such a degree that effective insect and disease control is becoming increasingly more difficult. Our investment in orchards and production equipment is now expressed in millions of dollars. Such an investment can only be protected and made profitable by application of the best possible management practices.

This meeting is an attempt to bring growers' answers to the many important questions of what are the latest and best practices

CONCERNING EDUCATION

Local Minister Speaks Out For "Wake-Up" Program

A Citizen Offers A Challenge For Better Education

AND THE FINGER POINTS DIRECTLY AT YOU!

Dear Editor

THIS WEEK, November 10 thru 16, has been set aside as American Education Week; and though we have many such "weeks", this one is worthy of the attention of every parent.

Too few of us take the time to realize fully the almost impossible task of trying to educate children to live in 2000 A.D. So little is known about that far off date.

Fifty years ago doesn't sound so very long to some of us, but others must rely on history to learn of the "primitive" conditions that existed then. One thing is sure for 50 years hence, however: There is bound to be a great deal of change because government and industry combined are spending some 5 billions of dollars annually in research to discover better, products, methods and procedures.

The questions come naturally: What can be done? How can we cope with 40 and more pupils per teacher?. And in rooms originally designed to accomodate one-half to one-third their present seating capacity? What is being done to correct public indifference and inadequate financing?

What steps are necessary to ascertain full advantage of non-professional teachers, television aids and other fodern tools?

First of all, it is certainly a step in the right direction for each parent to visit the school holding his principal interest. This is a primary purpose of American Education Week. And, a visit to the schol will almost assuredly arouse the average citizen from any indifferent attitude that might have existed.

There are instances where livestock is better housed and less crowded. A visit will provide an excellent opportunity of conferring with the child's teacher, too; and this is a big advantage many parents overlook, and one the teachers welcome.

Teachers, of course, can help, too. They are consistently reminded to improve on professional standards, assume fair shares of the

JAMES THE GIANT KILLER SCORES

Alongside the 252 points which the Chilton County High Tigers had previously racked up this season the seemingly small 7 that Isabella scored lookdd almost half again as big.

And especially was this true to the young fellow -James Olen Conway by name—who performed the impossible and scored the TD against Clanton which was the first one of the season.

Determination and grit no doubt sparked this feat and it is quite evident that Conway supplied his team with encouragement, not to be found anywhere else. Their victory was not winning, but doing the very thing that "better' teams had failed to do.

James O. Conway will likely go down in the annals of history as far as his Alma Mater is concerned as "James The Giant Killer—who performed the impossible.

ASC Committee Announces Conservation Reserve Program

THE CHILTON County ASC Committee today anounced the opening of the 1958 Conservation Reserve Program.

The Conservation Reserve is the longtime phase of the Soil Bank, under which farmers contract to divert general cropland to soil, water, forestry, and wildlife conservation measures. Two types of payment are made under the program: (1) A cost-sharing payment (up to 80 percent) the year the measure is established, and (2) annual rental payments per acre of land diverted for each year the land is under contract.

Under the new 1958 program, which will start immediately, farmers with "Soil Bank Bases" over 30 acres will be permitted to put land in the Conservation Reserve at a "non-diversion" rate (30 percent of the regular annual payment rate) up to the number of acres they put in the program at the regular rate. (A farm's "Soil Bank Base" is the average amount of land devoted to Soil Bank base crops—generally all crops produced for harvest except hay crops—on the farm in 1956 and 1957.) Any acreage placed in the Conservation Reserve at the non-diversion rate may be planted to forest trees.

Heretofore, farmers with a "base" of over 30 acres had to put all eligible cropland in the program before they could put in additional land at the non-diversion rate. Farmers with a "base" of 30 acres or less could put any part of their eligible cropland in the program at the full rate and any part of their remaining eligible land in at the non-diversion rate.

To encourage farmers to put whole farms in the reserve and to increase forest tree plantings, the ASC Committee, under provisions of the Conservation Reserve Regulations, has raised the non-diversion rate to 50 percent of the regular rate when all eligible land on a farm is placed in the Conservation Reserve or when any land placed in the program is to be planted to forest trees. The non-diversion rate was raised to 100 percent when the entire eligible acreage on a farm isp laced in the Conservation Reserve and all land is planted to forest trees.

Mr. Eddie Owen, Chairman of the ASC Committee, suggests that all farmers who may be interested in this program visit the local ASC office in the near future, in order to secure further information on this program, and to discuss the various practices available under this program.

"If We Print It—It's True"

Clanton, Alabama
November 12, 1957

Dear Mr. Editor

AS A CITIZEN OF Chilton County and of Alabama and the father [illegible] children. I am gravely disturbed about the present school situation in our county and state.

I have learned that you could employ a baby sitter two hours per day per pupil with the money we spent last year to pay for the current expenses of our schools. Every Southern State but two, spent more per pupil last year to operate their schools than we did in Alabama.

In Alabama we now have invested in our school buildings an average of $278 per pupil. In Delaware they have invested $1,102 per pupil, and across the nation they have invested nearly twic as much as we have in Alabama.

In these days of a critical national shortage of teachers, we have and are losing a great number of able teachers because we pay our teachers an average of $832 per year less than they can get in Florida, and $970 less than the national average.

Because of the high birth rate it is predicted that in a few years we'll have half again more pupils in our schools than we now have.

Conditions will get much worse unless drastic changes are made in the very near future.

Alabama is capable of doing much better. The Alabama taxpayer pays the lowest state and local tax of any state in the nation. We are next to the lowest state in the South in the percent of our income we pay in taxes. Furthermore, our income per person in 1956 was 17% larger than in 1952 which was one of the largest increases of any state in the nation. In Chilton County about 87% of our school funds come from the State treasury. We can surely have better schools in Alabama if we want them.

In addition, we can do far better by our children in Chilton County than we have. The current seven mill ad valorem tax for schools in Chilton County is one of the lowest tax levies for education in the State of Alabama.

No wonder many of our schools are in a sad state of repair and many of them are terribly overcrowded and very poorly equipped.

For example, here in Clanton classes are being taught in seven temporary, make-shift rooms in the Elementary School and five more rooms are needed in the High School.

Some of these rooms are little more than fire traps where our children could easily be burned to death. Neither school has an auditorium and the equipment of all sorts, especially for science courses is shamefully inadequate. Our library facilities are pitiful.

Eighteen percent of the teachers of the County do not have a college degree. If we were paying reasonable salaries, anywhere near what teachers in other parts of the country receive, many of our teachers would be enabled to secure additional education for better service.

If our children are going to have better teachers and adequate buildings it will be absolutely necessary for us to give better financial support to our schools.

Some cities in the state now have a 19 mill ad valorem tax and some counties now have a 1% sales tax for schools Our seven mill tax, mentioned above, was voted in 1938 and expires October 1, 1959. Unless that tax is again voted within the next few months, we cannot even hold the line where it is.

Since many of us pay almost no ad valorem tax on property, I am strongly in favor of a 1% sales tax in Chilton County earmarked for schools.

Mr. Editor, I love my children and the children of Chilton County and I am anxious to see all of them receive the best education possible. I, for one, am ready to do my part and I want to urge every parent and citizen to join hands, to secure the best for our children.

Sincerely yours,
Griffin E. Lloyd, pastor

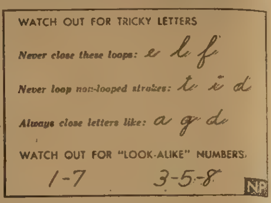
Hints For Christmas Mailing

Hundreds of thousands of Christmas cards and packages will be lost this year because of illegibly written addresses. Servicemen overseas, relatives, friends, business associates—all will be part of a disappointed army whose mail goes astray, because, as a national magazine recently stated, we have become a "nation of scrawlers."

Yet a few simple rules and just a little attention to it will improve anybody's handwriting immediately, says the Handwriting Foundation in a special appeal aimed at cutting down losses.

All addresses, says the Foundation, should be written in at least three well-spaced lines, with zone numbers included. This goes for the return address as well. Take special care with the "tricky" letters and numbers shown on the chart.



WATCH OUT FOR TRICKY LETTERS
Never close these loops: e l f
Never loop non-looped strokes: t i d
Always close letters like: a g d
WATCH OUT FOR "LOOK-ALIKE" NUMBERS.
1-7
NP

Your signature, on greeting and gift cards, should be legible Include the last name when identification might otherwise be in doubt. If it's a family card, make the children part of the greeting, and let them sign the card, too.

For far away friends and relatives, add a short note—a few words of greeting and maybe a promise of a longer letter soon. A New Year's card is appropriate for friends you've forgotten at Christmas. And never give money gifts to the postman, milkman and others without at least the personal touch of your signature.

You don't have to be an artist to decorate a card or gift package. A pen and colored inks (try red and green for Christmas) is all you need. A tree in outline, some stars, a few heavy dots . . . . and you've drawn your own Christmas spirit. Another personal touch is a note in an envelope attached to the outside of a gift package.

As for next year's greeting card and gift list, compile it now Write each name on a separate index card, and alphabetize them in a file box to simplify additions and changes. Or keep a booklet, with blank pages between names for newcomers. Such a list prevents embarrassing duplication or omission at card-sending time

And always remember, concludes the Handwriting Foundation, that the written message is part of the Christmas spirit. Be sure to make the message legible.

Isabella Derails Clanton Zero Expess; Tigers Keep Winning

By JERRY GRAY

FRIDAY night the Isabella Mustangs surprised the State as they derailed the Clanton "Zero Express" but they didn't stop the Tigers' winning ways as they roared to a convincing 34 to 7 victory.

In the first quarter the Tigers struck through the air on a 19-yard scorcher from James Knight to Thomas Minor. With the exception of this bit of pay dirt the Tigers had to fight for their lives all the 1st quarter.

In the second quarter the Tigers appeared to be in good form as they scored three touchdowns and the same number of extra points.

The scoring came on a brilliant sprint of 20-yards by Ralph Davis, substitute fullback, who also added four extra points to the tally. A pass from Knight to Billingsley which covered an overall distance of 70-yards and another pass from Knight (who was on fire tonight) to Minor for the final score of the period.

At half time the score was CCHS 28 and Isabella 0.

In the third quarter the Tigers received the kick, but soon ran out of downs. From here it was all Isabella.

The Mustangs rammed the ball down the tigermen's throats and became the first team of the season to score on the Tigers.

This came when quarterback Dale Lenoir rolled out and pitched one to Conway who danced into the end zone for the tally.

The Mustangs threatened again in the third period, but the score must have brought the Tiger stalwarts out of their deep slumber as their defense grew once more into the strong wall that withstood any other Isabella threats.

In the fourth and final period the Tigers managed to get in one more score. This came on a 10-yard tosh by Neal Bice. Davis failed to converge and the final score was 34 to 7.

In the fourth period the Tiger line: Swanner, Atchinson, Fulmer Minor, Billingsley, Parson's and Hilyer rose together on numerous occasions and held the Mustangs down.

The Tiger team, practically without exception admitted they played a poor game and we were inclined to agree, but one undenyable fact stares them in the face and that is that Isabella did what six other teams this season have failed to do—score!

(Tonight at the CCHS athletic field the Tigers take on the Verbena Red Devils.)

C. W. Stuart Co. Celebrates 105th Year of Service

The C. W. Stuart Company of Newark, New York State, has just celebrated its 105th year of continuous operation, making it one of the small handful of successful business organizations to accomplish this feat. The Stuart Company is one of the nation's largest distributors of quality plants, shrubs, and other nursery stock products.

President Bernald C. Bush pointed out this week that many of the company's present sales representatives are sons and grandsons of men who started with the organization more than a half-century ago. "We believe this — coupled with the many thousands of letters from satisfied customers — is the greatest testimonial any company could ask."

The C. W. Stuart Company is beginning an intensive recruiting and training program throughout the country this month.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

TRY LISTENING TO GOD

A young school teacher in Massachusetts was confronted by a very dull looking class. To challenge their attention she tried an experiment. She said to them. "God is broadcasting all the time George Washington and Abraham Lincoln listened to Him many times in moments of crisis If you will tune in God's station, you will hear what He says."

The children bowed their heads reverently and were quiet. In a [illegible] a little boy said. "I [illegible] something. God told me to work hard and get better marks." Another said. "He told me not to talk in class." Another said. "God told me not to cheat on arithmetic." The class practiced this listening every morning and finally gave a play based on it before the entire school of 500 students.

Many of us wish we could have been in a school like that. But it is not too late to try listening to God.

I received a letter from a lady in Long Island, New York, the other day and I would like to share a portion of it with you. " . . . I had searched for God all my life. I tried many 'isms' and several religions without success. My life appeared to be full and successful, but in reality it was meaningless, void and full of anguish and heartache.

"As I read the Bible and some of your literature, things began to change in my life. Or perhaps it was I who started to change. At any rate, there was a ray of light where all had been darkness, and hope where only despair had been.

"Several months passed and I felt I was on the right road, but was not so sure what to do about it [illegible]

"I [illegible] Jesus was really there. It [illegible] almost tangible [illegible] and [illegible] And I heard the voice of God [illegible] to my heart. The words [illegible] saying, 'This is it—this is it—this is what you have been searching for all of your life—come [illegible] now.'

"I [illegible] able joy and [illegible] compassion. I had [illegible] anything like it [illegible] before.

"I [illegible] life to [illegible] and to [illegible]

"I [illegible] and His words [illegible] mind and are forever [illegible] on my heart: 'Peace [illegible] I give to you—let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid for I will be with you.'"

God is constantly broadcasting His thoughts and His words to His people. And as we daily practice His presence we come into a very intimate relationship with Him. We can get to know Him better than anyone else in the world and His voice will become very familiar to us.

Set aside your hour to listen. He will come to you. You can talk with God! It is your privilege and your blessing.

Thorsby Tractor Dealer Displays New Line Tomorrow

THE MOST powerful tractors ever built by Ford Motor Company will go on display, Friday, November 15 at Thorsby Tractor & Implement Company, according to Mr. P. F. Singley, Thorsby.

New Ford tractors in the "three-four plow" Powermaster class have 10 per cent more drawbar horsepower than formerly, while the two three plow". Workmaster tractors are 8 percent more powerful, Mr. Singley said.

In addition to their higher power, the new Ford tractors feature a newly designed front grille, distinctive color styling, improved fender design, brighter headlights for field work and highway safety, greater gas tank capacity, and restyled instrument panel with electric fuel guage. Mr. Singley added.

"We extend a cordial invitation to all farmers and others interested in power machinery to visit our showroom to see the features of these new tractors.

We sincerely believe that every tractor user will be impressed with the power capabilities and the other improvements made in the Ford line." Mr. Singley said.

Two transmissions—a four-speed and a five-speed—are available, and also offered as a factory-installed option with the four-speed unit is an auxiliary over-under transmission, giving 12 forward and three reverse speeds.

The appearance of the new tractors is distinctly different. The familiar red and gray Ford colors have given way to brighter shades of these colors and to novel two-tone treatments for better highway and field visibility. Distinctively styled new fenders with rolled edge for strength and safety are gray on all models. Wheels also are gray, and chassis and engine are red.

"We earnestly hope you will give us an opportunity to show you our new line" says Mr. Singley, proudly.

A Book That Shook a Nation

Echoes of an explosion that rocked the Soviet literary world—as significant in its way as the blast that hurled a Soviet satellite skyward—reached American shores this month.

It was the explosion that followed the publication, in a Soviet magazine, of the controversial novel by Russian writer Vladimir Dudintsev, "Not By Bread Alone."

Vladimir Dudintsev

The debates stirred in the Communist world by this startling novel that sharply criticizes certain aspects of Soviet life had international repercussions, when Soviet officials protested in vain its publication in foreign countries. On the heels of a direct attack on the book by Soviet leader Nikita Khrushchev, E. P. Dutton & Company has now made the complete original text available to American readers.

On the surface, "Not By Bread Alone" relates the struggle between an honest engineer, Lopatkin, who invents an important machine, and Drozdov, a bureaucratic, ambitious factory director who demands full credit for the invention. But Dudintsev, in the tradition of the great Russian authors of the past, cuts deeply. He criticizes the Soviet system where it is most vulnerable, revealing the great hunger for freedom that exists among the people of the U.S.S.R. and the terrible price that courage requires.

The book provoked one of the liveliest debates of post-Stalin Russia. It was hailed everywhere as a realistic portrayal of bureaucratic life. However, it was denounced by Pravda, and Khrushchev himself termed it "unfriendly" and "negative." It touched off a full-scale review of Soviet cultural aims that is still going on today.

"Not By Bread Alone" offers American readers an illuminating description of a world formerly shielded from view, by an author writing and living in the Soviet Union today. Out of this may come a broader understanding of Soviet thinking — an understanding that is literally a matter of life and death and that may prevent a battle of moons raining hydrogen bombs on all the continents of the world.

school tasks, and practice good health and mental habits.

With all the problems involved in a modern educational system, it is gratifying to know that we have responsible educators and business and professional people with the will and foresight to organize Parent-Teacher Association, Committees for etter Schools, etc.

One such group is meeting in Birmingham next Thursday and will present outstanding educators as speakers.

Surely it is high time that each of us become better acquainted with the problems and the most likely successful solution; and resolve that we do a better job of financing the one program that means more than most because it deals so directly with our most prized possessions—our children.

Yours truly,

Telephone, TV Facilities Being Expanded

IN CENTRAL ALABAMA BETWEEN "MAGIC CITY" AND STATE CAPITOL

AN $850,000 project to expand television and telephone facilities between Montgomery and Birmingham moved forward today with the completion of two telephone repeater buildings at Marbury and Maplesville. A third is scheduled for completion next week at Woodstock.

The one-floor concrete block structures will house amplifying equipment for radio relay towers soon to be erected at the building sites.

As microwave beams travel from tower to tower along a relay route, they are sent down into the repeated buildings where they are magnified a millionfold, and then sent out again.

Without this rejuvenating equipment, the microwaves would fade before they reached their destination, and telephone conversations as well as television programs would vanish into the atmosphere

The Montgomery-Birmingham radio relay route will be owned jointly by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. When it goes into service in 1958, the relay route will carry only television. By the end of the year mesage and private line service will be added.

A Salute to TALLADEGA COUNTY

Symbol of Alabama Progress

Thriving Talladega County geographically is in the heart of the dynamic Coosa River Basin and is perhaps a symbol of our State's own rapid growth and progress. Each of its principal cities — Sylacauga, Talladega, and Childersburg — have become vibrant and varied industrial centers. Productive forests and soil lend strength and diversity to Talladega's prospering economy.

The county's rich, historical past provides a fitting background for thriving industry and agriculture of today. Talladega County was a center of activity in the early Alabama history of the Creek Indians. The County was named to commemorate the famed Battle of Talladega, where the Creeks were decisively defeated by General Andrew Jackson's forces on November 9, 1813.

Choosing a name for a county or city has always been the inalienable right of Alabamains, just like the right to choose a beverage, whether it be coffee, buttermilk or beer . . . the light, bright beverage of moderation.

In this friendly, freedom-loving land of ours

Beer belongs... Enjoy it

The 58 Ford stopped traffic in Trafalgar Square when it passed through on its round-the-world trip. And that was typical of the excitement this Ford caused in Paris . . . Rome . . . Athens . . . Istanbul . . . Calcutta . . . and Bangkok. For this Ford was proved around the world in the toughest "shakedown" cruise in history.

You'll steer with a feather touch with Ford's new Magic-Circle Steering. Nothing rolls like a ball, and that's the secret of Ford's handling ease. Free-moving steel balls in the steering gear are virtually friction-free—give you the closest thing yet to power steering!

COUNTY FOOTBA'L PREDICTIONS

By JERRY GRAY

LAST week's results were as follows: Four games correct and one wrong which brings the season's total to 27 correct and seven amiss.

And here's this week's "dope":

CCHS and VERBENA—A perfect place for the Red Devils to pull off an upset—but they won't! We pick CCHS.

MAPLESVILLE and COLUMBIANA—This should be a very interesting game. Look for Maplesville to upset Columbiana.

BILLINGSLEY and MARBURY. Marbury should take this one.

ISABELLA and PLANTERSVILLE—Both teams are capable, but perhaps Plantersville will win it—this is a guess!

Miller Urges Support Of Methodist Men's Hour On WKLF

METHODIST laymen nationwide are again responding to the dynamic leadership of Dr. Robert G. Mayfield, Executive Secretary of the General Board of Lay Activities of the church, following his call on them to further Methodism's radio ministry. Speaking recently to almost 5,000 Methodist leaders at Purdue University, during the Second National Conference of Methodist Men, Dr. Mayfield urged all Conference Lay Leaders to give special emphasis to the Methodist Men's Hour. This is the first and outstandingly successful national project of laymen in the church in the radio field. The annual series of half-hour programs will be sponsored here by the Men's Club of Clanton Methodist Church, of which Ott Miller is President, and heard over Station WKLF at 5:00 p.m. each Sunday. It will continue for 36 weeks.

"Through this program," said Dr. Mayfield, "Methodist Men are rendering a truly helpful and welcomed service to millions of people, many of them beyond the church itself." He noted that the Methodist Men's Hour had increased in radio coverage from 35 to 352 stations in just five years, with further increase to 500 stations expected. From the beginning, requests for copies of program sermons have come in and are constantly increasing.

Quail, Deer, Turkey, Squirrel Increased The Most--

'58 Hunting Season In Swing And Is Said To Be Better

By Ralph H. Allen
Game Management Biologist
Alabama Dept. of Conservation

HUNTERS can expect a general increase in game species this fall resulting in better hunting than last year, according to estimates of game populations by the men closest to Alabama's wildlife, the County Conservation Officers.

With the biggest increases in quail, deer, terkey and squirrel, in that order, hunters should find trips afield in search of these animals considerably more successful than in 1956 hunting seasons. Dove, wood duck, rabbit, raccoon, opossum, civet cat and otter populations showed some increase.

On the decrease side are only the furbearers, the gray fox and beaver. All other wildlife species legal for hunting or trapping in the state either held their own or increased in number.

The raven-black crow, a pest to farmers and an enemy to desirable birds and animals, increased by seven percent, a god reason for hunters to organize crow-shooting expeditions.

The year 1957 has been a good one for wildlife in this area. Excellent weather with normal rainfall and no extreme heat or drouth allowed wildlife species to have good nesting or brooding success. Also, an increased awareness by the people of the state led to more helping hands for wildlife.

By species, the hunting prospects survey shows:

DEER

THE white-tailed deer increased by an estimated 7,500 during the past year. The total was estimated at 76,135 in 1956, compared with 83,635 in 1957, a 9 percent increase. This popular big-game animal is now present in 52 of Alabama's 67 counties.

Although southwest Alabama still has the majority of the deer population, an intensive restocking and management program has spread the white-tail to more of the state's counties during recent years. A goal for the future is to produce deer in every county where there are suitable wodlands and food plants.

TURKEY

Wild turkeys are now present in 58 Alabama counties. Totals show that the estimated number of wild turkeys present increased 4,372, from 46,591 in 1956 to 50,963 in 1957, or 9 percent.

Although the largest numbers of turkeys are concentrated in the same area as most of Alabama's deer, a program of stocking birds reared from wild stock has added to the total range of this bird.

QUAIL

Although it is not possible to give an accurate estimate of the numbers of small game animals and birds, conservation officers reported that the hardy little bobwhite quail has increased by some 12 percent throughout the state this year.

The bobwhite is especially sensitive to weather conditions in hatching and in rearing young. A successful hatch during 1957 should give hunters a large proportion of young birds and bigger covies this hunting season.

No doubt, a great deal of the increase in quail is due to improvement of food and cover conditions by conservation groups, farmers and landowners who have become aware of the needs of bobwhite.

RABBIT

There has been a 5 percent increase in the rabbit population since last year. This indicates that Alabama's rabbit population still has not reached the end of a cycle of increase apparent in recent years. Forecasts are that the rabbit will decrease at some future time because of cycles in rabbit populations which seem to occur every few years.

Hunters should find the popular cottontail plentiful in most areas.

WOOD DUCK

Alabama has a large native population of wod ducks which stay here the year round, rearing their young in woded swamps and along stream banks. The survey shows that these birds increased five percent since last year.

A change in federal regulations allows Alabama hunters to shoot one wood duck each day. Last year, shooting of the woodie was illegal.

SQUIRREL

The squirrel population apparently has recovered from the food scarcity of 1955 and 1956, since there was a 7 per cent increase in the fuzzytail population since last year. Conservation Officers reported that there were more acorns in 21 counties, about the same in 35 counties and les in 11 counties this fall than last year. The survey showed that there were about the same supplies of hickory nuts and beech mast as in 1956.

Squirrel hunting should prove successful in most areas.

DOVE

Reports were that there was an average statewide increase of 8.2 percent in the number of mourning doves raised this year in the state. During the first half of the split season for shooting doves which extended from October 2-31 hunters found that shooting was good in most areas.

Alabama hunters, especially in South Alabama, should experience excellent shooting during the last half of the season which begins December 3 and extends through January 1. Migrating birds coming south for warmer weather should fill Alabama's grain fields.

Hunters may kill 10 birds per day this year.

RACCOON

There has been a 2 percent increase statewide in the raccoon population. This husky little ring-tail has done well in Alabama during recent years and apparently will be plentiful for hunters who follow the hounds.

OPOSSUM

The opossum, which seems to get along quite well with the larger human population, increased 2 percent since last year.

BEAVER

The beaver, of which there were an estimated 57,588 in the state last year, has decreased by some 2 percent. The estimated total number of beaver is placed at 56,163 this year.

ALLIGATOR

Although there is no legal season on alligators in Alabama, those who come in contact with old "satchel back" might like to know that there has been a decrease from 10,235 to 9,104 alligators in Alabama since last year. The alligator is present in 2 Alabama counties.

TIME is money—but it takes work to cash in on it.

IT TAKES a clear conscience to keep a man cool under fire.

SOMETIMES it is a good thing to make an "enemy" just to keep yourself straight.

TIP TO drivers: Control that urge to cut loose—you'll live longer and get where you're going just about as soon.

COURTESY is merely the recognition of the rights of others.

ONE little obstacle sometimes can knock the ambition out of some people.

NO BRAKES!----

DESPITE THE assurances of Treasury officials that the $275 billion Federal debt ceiling will not be punctured—even by Sputnik—and in his speech the other night the President said that we could not afford waste, all other indications point to bigger and better government spending and an all-out administration drive to make economy a dirty word.

The $38 billion limit on defense spending for the fiscal year, was shattered by President Eisenhower when he told his press conference that the figure would probably be increased by something over $400 million.

Asked if he would be able to keep within the anticipated $70 billion total expenditures for the fiscal year beginning next July, the President said he could not predict, but "would think it would require very serious retardations elsewhere".

However, there are no signs of "retardations", serious or otherwise on the Washington horizon. Even in our most outrageous extravagance—foreign aid—the word is that the spending must be bigger and better. Unless the humble citizens back home can persuade their Congressman between now and New Year's that the extra defense billions must be squeezed out of useless and wasteful Federal Bureaus there will be no retarding done.

In short, our Government will have no brakes.

TOO EARLY!----

POLITICS, LIKE Christmas can be started too early. Each Christmas for the past several years the shopping days for Christmas have grown longer and longer, until now you can just about buy all the year 'round.

And so it has become with our political campaigns. The candidates don't ever stop running, or the new ones start a year in advance. Now, being in the advertising business we shouldn't mind just how early they start—and we don't. In fact, we could stand some Christmas and campaign business twelve months out of the year. But we were just wondering about what a hurry people get into these days to do a thing—whether it be to run to the corner or to take a rocket to the moon.

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

HAD a kind compliment on our recent "Trick or Treat" article from Mrs. Reid Mullins and we sincerely thank her. The emphasis she placed on the subject was directed at the responsibility of "young" father and her point is well taken. We hope young fathers will sit up and take a look at their responsibilities and then do something about them—this ain't no gravy train you know!

A MAN of principle is a man of honor; and a man of honor is a good American Citizen: Are you a man of principle?

FROM all we can gather the Chilton County High School Tigers have built for themselves an unprecedented record of achievement in the history of their team. Success, however, sometimes brings conceit; and vanity is the downfall of many a hearty team. We are proud for the record that Coach Spicer, Bulger, Finlayson and the boys have achieved, but remember this fellas: In many instances, to walk softly and carry a sizeable stick is much more practical and effective than walking haughtily and proudly and not knowing how to use the stick, when the time comes. We hope the efforts you've made in the past will serve you to do still better in the future rather than you resting on your own proven merits. A good name will carry you temporarily, but continued strivings on your part will net you long lasting good will and friendship. Don't drop the ball once folks see you've got hold of it.

DOGGONIT, we'd like to be an optimist, but times are obviously pretty bad when the banker starts running out of gas right in the middle of town. How about that Mr. Otto. The way things are these days, as one fellow put it, you go down and pay off a $200 note at the bank and then borrow $250 to pay the interest and the bills that are delinquent because of the $200. It's a great life—if you have a colossal sense of humor.

THESE car dealers are something else again! They brag unceasingly about their particular make of gas guzzler and advertise weeks in advance of the new model and its exclusive features. When the big day arrives and it's time to view the masterpiece, what happens? The windows are so stuck up with "It's Here" "Fabulous" "Newest of The New" etc., that about all that is vaguely discernible through the maze is one of its colors and a possible glimpse of either a tail light or a headlight—it's hard to say. Oh, there's something else you might see, too—the salesman with the sly grin on his face as you—entranced—pass the point of no return. First thing you know, the dealer is slapping you on the face and saying to the salesman: "What did you say to this man, to make him pass out that way?" "Well sir", replies the salesman, "I merely told him what we'd allow him for his car." "Why that's nothing to bother him." "No sir, but that's when I told him the price!"

We will have to hand it to the car people this year; they've really outdone themselves. The overall appearance of the general line of automobiles is the most improved upon lot we've ever set eyes on. Well, they always say, the thing you know you can't have is what you want the most—in our case it's 'out of debt'!.

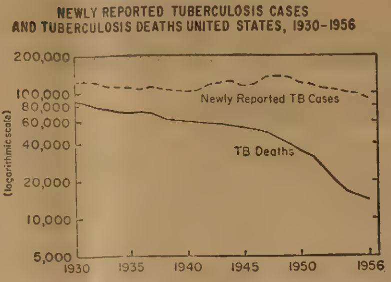
TB Cases And Deaths



Great progress has been made in the last quarter of a century in preventing death from TB, less progress in preventing spread of the disease. TB strikes one American approximately every five minutes. Your tuberculosis association fights the spread of TB with medical research, case finding, health education, and rehabilitation programs paid for by Christmas Seal contributions.

The Local Front----

ONE OF THE GREATEST challenges the people of our County face will be highlighted in the coming weeks preceding the Christmas holidays.

This challenge is the fight against tuberculosis, said Mrs. R. C. Willams, chairman of the 1957 Christmas Seal Sale.

Bringing the fight out into the open and giving every interested citizen a chance to do something about it will be the annual Chrsitmas Seal Sale, the only organized campaign to raise funds to combat this disease.

The Seal Sale will open throughout Alabama and the nation this week, Friday, November 15th, and throughout the state scores of volunteers will be giving a goodly portion of their time and energy to his cause.

"It's not the effort of just a few which will count most, however, it's the interest and help of every person, all pulling together. . . which will bring results in lowering the burden of TB here", the chairman said.

Alabama keeps 94% of all Christmas Seal funds raised right in the state—nearly 80% remains in the county in which it is raised.

Mrs. Williams says, "The more money raised in Chilton County, the quicker we will get rid of TB".

IT'S MY OPINION

By BOB TUCKER

THE BIG FOOT OF "BIG BUSINESS"

IT HAS BEEN our impression for a long time that big businesses take advantage of the public and small enterprises in such a way as to be undemocratic and downright unfair. They give the false impression that their ONLY intentions are for the best interests of the public, but. . .

Take advertising for instance! Uncountable numbers of businesses send out uncountable dollars worth of uncountable "free" feature mats to weekly newspapers each week—usually through a syndicate. Somewhere in the feature will be a name brand product (usually more than once) and the idea is for the newspaper to run this anywhere from six inches to 30 or more inches of free advertising for the questionable privilege of using the material. We do not know the methods the company's use for paying for this "publicity" and we don't know the methods by which they determine the benefits derived from this type of advertising, but we do know that they would have much better standing with the newspapers of the country if they would do their advertising directly with the newspap'r.

So—they advertise on TV and pay big prices for it—then let TV run their free stuff too. Newspapermen do not consider the "privilege" of running these big names in their papers ample reward for their efforts. In other words, the country press cannot possibly afford all this free advertising and get nothing in return save a pat on the back from big business.

Big business does great things for our country through research and good will—why then should they try to get something for nothing from the weekly press—the backbone of the nation's freedom of speech?

Call it crying, whining, whatever you please—we don't care. It is, in a sense, the fault of the newspapers for running it in the first place. Editors should completely refuse to run the free advertising and then maybe a little paid advertising would result.

This particular problem is on the shoulders of the nation's weekly editors and publishers and it is up to them to put a stop to this mockery—by re using to run it.

There are numerous Press Services, charging a nominal fee for their services that prepare and sell news features that do not contain advertising for big businesses in their lines. Thus, the newspaper buys a service. The sneaky way some big businesses have of trying to advertise for nothing is wholly unethical. No, you aren't required to print it—but you can bet your sock that if they didn't intend to get some results from it they wouldn't bother with it.

Many company's trade—that is, you run their advertising and they'll send mats of your choice for you to use as you see fit. This, though not the best way, is at least acceptable. Newspapers do not like to mix their news with their advertising—their readers won't accept it, and if that weren't enough, it is not good journalism—because it is obviously general, non-exclusive and lacking in local color and interest.

They offer the country editor something for nothing and too many times, he doesn't realize that it's exactly vice-versa—he's the one who is paying—and through the nose

They advertise everything from ladies dresses to soup and back to car accesories and it's ridiculous! And the way they try to hide the advertising in a good news feature is doubly ridiculous.

OR MANY LANES

THE BEST PAVEMENT FOR AMERICA'S GREAT NEW ROADS IS CONCRETE . . . on all counts!

CONCRETE ROAD ARITHMETIC
Moderate First Cost
+ Low Maintenance Cost
÷ Long Years Of Service
= Low Annual Cost

The Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 provides that the Federal government will pay 90% of the cost of building the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways. The states, however, must bear the entire burden of maintaining it!

In fairness to taxpayers that means that the pavement chosen should be the most durable. It also should be the least costly to maintain. Concrete is the answer on both counts!

Roads built to Interstate System standards may cost less—and in no case much more if built with concrete. And once built, concrete roads need far less maintenance and serve much longer than other kinds. All these facts are a matter of record!

Whether the roads have only two lanes or many, you, as a taxpayer, will profit from the choice of dependable, long-lasting concrete, the pavement which has proven best on all counts.

FOLKS and THINGS About Town

by Ben

SHERIFF Hugh Champion complimented the citizens of Chilton County highly this week on their conduct under extreme tension due to the tragedy at Lomax, when a Negro fired on deputies and private citizens on a public road. It is definite proof that all citizens of the County respect law and order and are willing to lend their services at any time to see that it is preserved.

INCIDENTALLY Sheriff Champion told us that he would be a candidate for the office of Sheriff and would qualify at the proper time. He would run for a full term, having been appointed by Gov. Folsom to fill the unexpired term of R. O'Dell Payton.

POLITICALLY speaking we learn of another definite candidate who will enter the spring campaign. He is Joe Graham who says he will be a candidate for State Senate when the time comes. That makes two who have definitely stated they will run. Besides Joe there is Alex Hayes. That race should be a humdinger!

TWO brothers had been rivals all their lives and their constant efforts to top each other may have helped them to attain high rank in their respective professions. One entered the priesthood and became a cardinal. The other went into the military service and became a general. One day with each dressed in the garb of his calling, they met unexpectedly at a railw[illegible] station. The cardinal, who h[illegible] tapped his brother on the shoulder and inquired: "Por[illegible] on time?" The general, seeing who it was that had asked the question, replied: "I believe it is madam, but do you think you should be traveling in your condition?"

DURING all the excitement the other night at Lomax Hugh Champion had a little girl in the front seat of his automobile. Ever so often he would tell the girl to keep down and be careful—not to get in the way. It was a very frightened little girl and to her the world was coming to an end, she was living a nightmare. The Sheriff would talk to her and assure that he was there to protect her, she had nothing to fear. Finally a chance came to take her away to a safer place and get her away from it all. She trusted the big law enforcement officer and was safe and secure under his protection. She was a little colored girl that ran out of the house where the trouble started and a man was killed.

OUR deepest sympathy to Lloyd Popwell and his family. Mr. Bob was buried this week at the age of 84. He had been around a long time and Clanton won't be Clanton without seeing him come by on his way to his pressing shop. He had been in bed for several months and had suffered much during that time. We hope the family takes strength from the knowledge that many friends mourn with them.

"MARY", said hte young bridegroom, "Now that we're married you must give up your forty dollar a week job." "Why certainly I will darling," answered the bride. "The way I figger it", continued the bridegroom, "you'll have to make at least $50.

Certificates Offered—

Football Stadium For Clanton Not 'So Much Fantasy' Say Drive Supporters

THE CHILTON County High School Athletic Association, organized two years ago through the CCHS Parent-Teachers Association for the sole purpose of building a stadium, is now offering Stadium Certificates for sale. The Association was asked to relieve the crowded playgrounds and arrived at the solution providing the new football field so that the old field could be utilized for more practical purposes.

The field has been built to modern specifications just east of the present field. It drains four ways from the center, includes plans for irrigation, has adequate space between the field and the stands, gates are planned for the greatest advantage.

In other words, honest (and we might add, strenuous) efforts are being made to insure Clanton a modern football stadium of which we can be proud.

Best estimates indicate that all this will cost about $15,000.00. The Association proposes to sell any interested party non-interest bearing Stadium Certificates repayable over an eight year period from football receipts. This plan has the approval and full support of S. E. Waters, high school principal; in fact, he has signed each certificate.

Valued at $100.00, the certificates are transferable on notice to the Association and will entitle the holder to one reserved seat in a reserved section that will be fenced, at no extra cost. The repayment [illegible] will be set up from a [illegible] drawing, but the right to reserved seats will continue for a full eight years.

James Duke Heflin, treasurer of the Ass'n. is ready and willing to furnish you with one or more certificates. You may also negotiate through these gentlemen: Mr. J. Hollis Jackson at 187, Mr. Ed Mullins at 647, Mr. Cecil Murrah at 48[illegible], Mr. S. E. Waters at 204, or Mr. Ott Miller at 511.

The tentative completion for the campaign drive is November 28th. This is a civic undertaking—do what you can to support it.

World Champion Wrestler At Local Armory Nov. 23rd

THE CLANTON Armory on Saturday, November 23 at 8:15 will be the scene of one of the best wrestling exhibitions ever witnessed in this vicinity.

In answer to demands from fans promoter Gulas has obtained the services of Tor Yamato and is matching him with the Junior Heavyweight Champion of the World, Mike Clancy.

It seems Yamato has it in mind to relieve Clancy of his title. Mike has other views on the matter.

Also, in the preliminary, is Penny Banner, the "blonde bombshell" tangling with "sweet little" Joan Mullinax. Both girls are rated high in the top ten of the nation and should give the crowd a good show.

Miss Banner, it is quoted, wants a stab at the World's Title. Miss Mullinax makes no comment on the subject, but it is no doubt her ambition to see that this does not happen.

See the advertisement in this issue of the News for further details of these bouts.

Christmas Seal Sale Is Now In Progress

TUBERCULOSIS can happen to anybody.

"The annual Christmas Seal Sale is now underway and is aimed at putting a stop to this disease before it happens to more of us", said Mrs. R. C. Williams, chairman of the Seal Sale for Chilton County.

"Prevention and early discovery are the only means by which TB can be wiped out", said Mrs. Williams, stressing the part Christmas Seals play in paying for programs of prevention and cure.

8 Negroes In Jail--

One Killed, Several Wounded In Shooting Fray At Lomax

ONE DEPUTY SHERIFF WAS seriously injured and four other persons slightly wounded in a shooting fray at Lomax, Alabama last Saturday night and Sunday morning. Floyd Porter, deputy Sheriff, is in a serious conditon at the Veteran's Hospital at Birmingham. His left arm was mangled by a close-range shotgun blast as he was pursuing and trying to arrest a Negro for shooting at he (Porter) and three other white men while he was checking their driver's licenses.

The shooting started near the home of Willie Hunt and was resumed in a church yard nearby. Some 20 or 30 shots were fired from the Hunt home, it was stated.

Four deputies had stopped a car from Jemison to check the licenses when a shotgun blast echoed from a Negro house on the side of the road where the Sheriff's car and the motorists were stopped.

[illegible]

Forty-three year-old William Dunigan was shot to death when he refused to surrender to the officers and continued shooting at them after the officers had identified themselves and pleaded with him to come out of his home.

Officers from Clanton worked closely with the Sheriff and his men and several Highway Patrolmen were dispatched here from Montgomery. Sheriff Butler of Montgomery and a deputy also came to lend their aid.

Hundreds of citizens gathered at Lomax Saturday night and offered any services to the Sheriff, but according to Sheriff Hugh Champion at no time was there any show of mob rule and every citizen obeyed the Sheriff's orders when they were given.

The four deputies wounded were Floyd Porter, Charlie Jones, Joe Bryant and Albert Kendrick.

Willie Hunt confessed Monday to taking part in the shooting, but did not confess shooting the officer. [illegible] T. Reed, Percy Crockett and [illegible]cie Hill are also being held in county jail in the shooting. Names of four other negroes being held were not obtained.

The clinic has a two-fold purpose. First, it gives a greater knowledge of RA methods in building stronger chapters, meeting the boys' needs and increasing interest and attendance. Second, since the RA program is now under the Baptist Brotherhood's sponsorship, the clinic is designed to give each layman a better understanding of RA work and its fundamentals.

Parents Have "A Day At School" With Better Speech Club

ON FRIDAY, November 15th, the parents of the 6th grade pupils of Mrs. Mary Thomas were invited to attend "A Day At School" as guests of the Better Speech Club.

The day began promptly at 9:00 a.m. Martha Johnson, the Club hostess, greeted each visitor at the door and invited them in. After the visitors were seated by Dent Williams, Jr. Martha gave a most interesting explanation of the materials and aids used by Mrs. Thomas in her methods of instruction. These materials and aids included pull down maps, paintings, encyclopedia, film projector, a piano, and many, many others. One of the most interesting articles in the room was a real meteorite that fell in Chilton County a few years ago. If you have never seen a meteorite, it would be well worth your time to pay a visit to the Better Speech Club and see this one.

The officers of the Club were introduced by Mrs. Thomas and are as follows: Dent Williams, Jr., president; Dan Brock, vice-president; Geraldine Edwards, secretary; Vandy Head, treasurer; Martha Johnson, hostess.

The students then introduced their parents and pinned on each parent a red and white badge with the letters AEW signifying American Education Week.

ONE of the rules of life, it seems, is that we never realize the pleasures of life until we look back on them.

IF YOU want to keep your head up—keep your feet on solid ground.

PEOPLE aren't like wells—you don't get the best from them by pumping them.

WHEN people disagree you know they are thinking for themselves.

CONTENTMENT may be a virtue, but it is certain death to enterprise—or to a growing community we might add.

BE SURE—sooner or later, your little white lies will make you blue.

IT COULD HAPPEN HERE----

UNDER A FORT WAYNE, Indiana, dateline in the daily papers this week we read of two 17-year-olds, a white girl and a negro boy, being sentenced to jail terms because they would not stop dating. Such comes from integration of our schools and public places and will never meet with the approval of the Southern people.

We heard someone say the Democrats were as bad as the Republican Party so far as integration was concerned. This is not so. Maybe they were referring to the Northern Democrats, but surely they know little of the feelings of the Southern Democratic Party if they think such a thing.

The true Southern Democrat will fight to the last ditch for our heritage and our Southern way of life.

FOREIGN-AID AT THE EXPENSE OF SMALL BUSINESS

"IF CONGRESS CAN DIG up billions of dollars in appropriations for foreign aid and other assistance and subsidy programs, then certainly it should be able to find the nickel and dime sums needed for meaningful small business tax relief."

This is what C. W. Harder, President of National Federation of Independent Business, told Senate Small Business Committee during its tax hearings at Portland, Oregon, this week.

The Federation president said that survey polls by ballots sent by small businessmen direct to their Congressmen, and personal interviews by Federation representatives, show that a wav of fierce resentment has built up among independents at the grass roots because of the fact that while both Parties came out flatfooted in their 1956 Platforms for small business tax revision, Congress has failed to move off dead center on this issue.

Surveys of grass roots sentiment show, he continued, increasing majorities demanding action on more rapid tax charge offs on purchases of used equipment. . . installment payments on estate taxes. . . greater opportunities for all independents to build "rainy day" reserves. . . ax cuts for smaller corporations. . . optional payment of business taxes at corporation or partnership rates. . . bills to make it easier for the self-employed to finance their private retirement plans.

Mr. Harder said that small businessmen simply can't understand why Congress and the Administration have hedged on tax cuts because of "fear of unbalancing the budget," when there is every reason to believe that both must have known the shape of fiscal things to come at the time they made their promises. He noted that there's much talk about reduction of individual income taxes. But, he continued, definite action must be taken to reduce the burden on smaller businesses which generate nationally upwards of 70% of the paychecks which individuals receive, and which in some areas generate 100% of this individual taxpayer earning power.

But despite all discouragements, he told the Senators, small businessmen are still optimists enough "to believe that shown the light, Congress will make good on its tax reduction promises."

This is so, he said, because inedpendents know that by their own words Congressmen have shown they see the pressing need for small business tax cuts, and because independents refuse to believe that Congressmen would deliberately lead them down the primrose path. He emphasized that the honor of Congressmen themselves and their Parties are definitely bound up in what they do on the tax issue.

He called on members of the Small Business Committee to use the authority conferred on them by the Senate as the accredited spokesmen for independent enterprise in the Upper Chamber, to drive home with all Senators the urgent need for tax reduction as soon as the 2nd Session of the 85th Congress meets in January.

"WHY, HE WAS IN HERE ONLY YESTERDAY"

That's how it happens—quick—like that! In communities all over America, people "who were here only yesterday" are gone forever—killed in highway traffic accidents.

Help Prevent Traffic Deaths

FIRST—Drive safely and courteously. Observe speed limits and warning-signs. Where traffic laws are obeyed, deaths go DOWN!

SECOND—Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws. Where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

WHERE TRAFFIC LAWS ARE OBEYED – DEATHS GO DOWN!

IN THIS ISSUE of the News appears the obituaries of a 20-month old boy and his 27-year-old mother — killed in an automobile accident.

Nothing in this world tears at our feelings as does this seemingly unnecessary loss of life—particularly when it involves so innocent a couple.

Somehow we can feel—in a very small way—the sorrow shared by this family. They have lost an irreplaceable object in their lives—a human life—dear to them.

Human lives are dear to us all—until we get behind that wheel and then we apparently forget the subject.

Here only yesterday—and today, an eternity away—and too many times due to the carelessness of someone who just wasn't thinking at the moment.

SC Practices Learned Well By Jemison Voc. Ag. Students

OBSERVING NOT ENOUGH; THEY LEARN FROM PRACTICAL APPLICATION

MEMBERS of the Vocational Agriculture classes in the Jemison High School believe in soil conservation. They have been studying various methods of controlling erosion in their classes, recently.

They found that there was no single method that would control erosion, but that many practices must be carried out in order to conserve soil and water on their farms. Some of the control practices studied were re-foresting the land, planting legumes, grasses or other close growing crops, contour cultivation, strip cropping, terracing and establishing vegetative outlets for terraces. The boys have learned to operate terracing instruments and begun to assist their fathers and other local farmers with their terracing programs. Last week they helped Tom Strain of the Collins Chapel Community re-terrace 20 acres of his land.

Never Before' Challenge To People Of Clanton

By BOB TUCKER

THE EFFORTS of the Chilton County High School Athletic Association to build a football stadium for Clanton at an estimated expense of $15,000 is without a doubt an acceptable contribution to the welfare and betterment of our community and its citizens. The men behind this concentrated drive for funds are stalwarts in the community and good intentions are their only goal, short of achievement.

Can Clanton, with its six thousand residents support two causes at once—of such great magnitude—and still give both the attention and effort they rightly deserve? The other effort is the Community Center drive, now being pushed by civic clubs and individuals.

Though there may be no doubt in the minds of some that our City CAN support these two drives, the question on the top is, will they? Will one scare the other off, so to speak?

The Athletic Organization was brought into being two years ago for the purpose mentioned; the Community Center drive has been under observation for at least that long. Neither of these undertakings outweighs the other in importance as far as necessity is concerned.

We need them both and we need them badly.

What then, is the situation at hand? The Community Center Drive, though not by a long measure forgotten, is nonetheless lagging in its efforts to raise the necessary funds for its all important function. The Athletic Association, on the other hand, is making renewed efforts toward attainment of their goal.

Efforts on the part of Community Center supporters are widespread, and deep-rooted and, we think they have firmly grasped the situation—up to now. Now—where's the go?

Life is such that people's minds will not dwell on one subject for an indefinite period without becoming hostile toward the subject. Are we dragging it out too long without some show, some sign of life?

We would definitely not like to see one good cause consume another. By the same token, we would not like to see the lagging spirit of one cause public poisoning of both.

We, as a community, have in our power, and the opportunity is upon us to build something for our youth, the likes of which we've never seen in Clanton or Chilton County. A dream come true. Would we putter it away on the false hopes that it will work itself out? If so, it will work itself—completely out!

We can either mis-manage both the projects to death or we can combine our efforts and accomplish the seemingly impossible.

It is unfortunate that two such fine causes are overlapping in their efforts, but it is for that reason that greater stickability and effort is needed

One thing remember—no matter if you're for it, against it, or indifferent to it—it's for our kids—mine and yours—what is more important to you?

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE is the way we Dodge dealers feel about competitors' efforts to match the Swept-Wing 58. They lowered the roof some, but left the sides high. Their windshields got smaller while ours got bigger. So much for styling. Then, for another important comparison, take ride. Here's Dodge with Torsion-Aire suspension that just about everybody admits is the greatest advance in sway-free, dip-free, silent going that any car offers. So what do these other cars do? They borrow an air suspension system that's been used in buses for two years! (Costing well over $100.00 extra.) And most of 'em still don't have push-button driving—much less Dodge TorqueFlite—the proven automatic transmission. Tigers Tear Red Devil Line To Pieces; 55-7

By JERRY GRAY

On Thursday night, November 14 the CCHS Tigers humbled the Verbena Red Devils by a score of 55 to 7.

It appeared that the game should be called no contest, as the Tigers scored three TD's and the same number of extra points in the first quarter. The Tigers received the opening kick-off and promptly marched the pigskin to paydirt from the one yard stripe. Ralph Davis, fullback made the score. The second tally came after Verbena relinquished the ball and halfback James Knight skirted right end on a 10-yard run to cap off the second score. The final score of the period came when Neal Bice, rambled 54 yards for a TD and CCHS led the contest 21 to 0 at the quarter.

In the second quarter the complexion of the game changed only slightly. This was due to the Verbena score midway into the period.

The Red Devils lone score came on a 30-yard pass from Quarterback William Rice to Jimmy Hull who was waiting in the end zone.

The Tigers, despite all their power could manage only one TD in the second period. This came on Charlie Gray's driving run thru the middle of the Red Devil line. The extra point was good and at the end of an action-filled half the score was CCHS 28 to 7.

The seven points the Red Devils scored made only 14 points scored against Clanton in eight consecutive games.

The third quarter produced two more Tiger TD's and one extra point.

James Knight brought the fans to their feet as they watched him ramble down the field on a terrific 90-yard touchdown sprint. After the Red Devils had relinquished the ball once more, the Tigers went to work again sending Hershel Billingsley down field on the receiving end of a 62-yard pass play from quarterback Charlie Gray.

The Red Devils tried desperately to get back into the ball game.

Three times on as many different drives the Verbena quarterback went back to heave the old pigskin downfield and three times he saw it plucked from the clouds by the ever alert Tigermen.

The fourth quarter brought very few plays of spectacular nature, but the Tigers crossed the Verbena goal twice more for TD's.

James Knight laced the ends for his 3rd tally of the night and second string flash [illegible] through the opposition for the final TD and the score read 55 for Clanton and 7 for Verbena.

Activities Reported 'On The Up' At Mt. Creek This Week

By Miss Arlene Brown

Dr. Berkstesser of the State Baptist Board visited our church recently and presented a film on Stewardship. Everyone enjoyed this very much. A short business meeting was held after the film. We discussed meeting our budget and working on the Sunday School additions.

MR. C. T. Stephens appointed a committee to discuss questions which people would like to ask about our church, the things it engages in, and how we can improve it. On this panel were Mrs. Alice Hudson, Mrs. Velma Adnerson, Mr. G. C. Kicker, Jr., and Mr. C. T. Stephens, chairman.

LAST Wednesday night the RA's met and had a wonderful program, centered around the cooperative program. They learned that you don't give TO, but give THROUGH it. It merely channels the money you give to all missions which the program supports.

They also planned a party and discussed it. Mr. G. E. Grant is the R. A. Counselor.

THE GA's held their weekly meeting on the same night. The discussion was on different missions which funds support the various missions.

WE had a very good prayer meeting and also choir practice last week; also a very good Sunday School on Sunday which was well-attended. Miss Delores Alley and Sidney Hudson rendered a very beautiful duet, "Only A Touch".

AMONG our visitors this week were Mr. and Mrs. Esby Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Adams and families of Marbury. We extend to them and all visitors a cordial invitation to worship with us again.

All ladies are urged to attend the Mission Study on Thursday (Today) at 10:00 a.m. Bring a covered dish.

Prayer services will be held on Thursday nights for the next two weeks, please keep this in mind.

ALL young and old are urged to begin making plans to attend the Unity Associational mass meeting the first Monday night in December

Tomatoes: Fruit, Vegetable or Animal

WELL, there are still those who are of the opinion that there is only one kind of tomato and that's the two-legged variety, but as far as growers and farmers are concerned, the edible type is a fruit—according to botanists of today Back in 1893 the U. S. Supreme Court ruled it was a vegetable.

Although there seems to be some question about the field variety—there is no doubt in the minds of the first class mentioned above. That's one advantage, anyhow.

Asian Flu Lets Nobody By; Even Swine Get The Bug

THE ASIAN flu bug has been busy this fall distributing germs to people over the country. But, according to the animal specialists, humans aren't the only ones who are pestered by these pests.

Asian influenza can spread from man to swine, as did the 1918 flu epidemic.

Further studies along this line are at present being made by the U. S. Public Health Service and some midwestern colleges.

Influenza is one of more than 80 diseases that can be transmitted from man to animal and this is the time of year when hogs get flu.

The best way to handle swine influenza—like everything else is to stop it before it starts.

The flu bug doesn't have much chance with a healthy animal. Best preventatives, therefore, are plenty of good feed, thorough sanitation to control internal parasites and adequate housing to prevent hogs from chilling in drenching winter rains.

Bad cases of flu can be treated with penicillin, sulfa and other drugs according to experts.

STANTON NOTES

BOSSY TRAMPLES PROFIT—
Green Chop Feeding: A New Look At Grazing

IT MAY PAY growers to feed live-tock freshly-cut, chopped green forage—rather than sending the animals out to graze.

A recent study made on several Pennsylvania dairy farms by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Pennslyvania Agricultural Experiment Station indicates that, for many farmers, green-chop feeding may be more profitable than grazing.

Basis of this belief comes from the fact that cows trample and waste up to 40 percent of available feed while grazing lush growth. Therefore, it might save money to harvest the crop and feed it to a greater number of animals while they're confined.

This system may prove to be economical, but dairy operators are urged to consider such things as crop rotation and weather hazards before adopting the green-chop feeding method on their own farms.

If, after careful consideration, the dairyman decides the green-chop feeding system is best for his place, he should use recommended material sand methods for the new operation. For instance, field choppers are used more, thus cutting the hourly overhead expense of the choppers.

Self-unloading wagons and feed bunks are a must for green-chop feeding. The cost of the equipment is partly offset by less travel in taking cows to and from pasture, reduced fencing requirements, and elimination of extensive watering systems in distant pastures.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

By C. WILSON HARDER

Along about 1933 it became fashionable in Washington to bring college professors into government, either on the payroll or as advisors. This continues.

* * *

Thus, there has long been a question as to what extent this fad has harmed the nation. Of course, any criticism of this practice usually results in loud clamors of "anti-intellectualism." Seemingly, anyone who wants to match practical economic experience with the tenets of classroom theory is considered as rather uncouth intellectually.

C. W. Harder

And while even such an institution as the highly touted Harvard School of Business has turned out some outstanding business leaders, these shining examples are undoubtedly far outweighed by those who achieved only mediocre success, or even turned out downright flops.

And it must not be forgotten that it was largely college professors who set up years ago the basis for the present inflation; for much of the present unrealistic tax policies.

A case in point occurred recently in Los Angeles when the Senate Small Business Committee held one of it's current series of meetings on how taxation is affecting small business.

Witness after witness, astute business operators, told the committee which was represented among others by Sen. Hubert Humphrey, (Minn.), Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, (Calif.) and Sen. Barry Goldwater, (Arizona), that present federal tax structures are making it difficult for small business to get working capital that is available to huge concerns who float stock issues, or in other ways, raise funds.

In order to permit small business to finance itself out of earnings, it was brought forth that the present jump of tax rates from 30% to 52% when earnings pass $25,000 is unrealistic. It was proposed that instead a graduated system by set up.

* * *

But Dean L. C. Lockley of the Southern California School of Commerce, present, for some strange reason jumped in with both feet in opposition.

Said the Dean "The cause of any difficulty is not in the nature of smallness of business but in the lack of knowledge of small businessmen. If we can work to increase the economic and commercial knowledge of the small businessman, his problems will very probably be solved."

On this basis, he opposed any tax relief for small business. While the Dean's practical experience is not known, it could be possible his actual experience in securing capital has been confined to buying a car on installments, or making a personal loan secured by his salary.

Of course, it may be possible that Dean was propagandizing for huge Federal grants for cushy jobs for underpaid professors on government payroll turning out pamphlets telling small businessmen how to do business.

Yet, if this were his purpose, it seems a shame that all of the Dean's great knowledge of business is so wasted. If he is so sure of himself, there is wonder why he doesn't go into business and make a fortune for himself. At one time in Washington there was a "Brain Trust" that raised a lot of havoc with pretty cocksure demeanor, yet in the years intervening since this group went out of power, there appears no great evidence that any of them became great business leaders.

Telephone Talk

HELLO, EVERYONE! Thanksgiving is almost here, and most of us are already thinking about turkey and dressing, cranberries, and sweet potato pie. But I'm sure, too, this holiday of thanks brings to mind our families—the ones who can't be with us when we sit down to enjoy our turkey. So this year, my family is planning a surprise for the folks away from home. We're calling them Long Distance. You might like to do the same with your family. (Bargain rates apply all day.) Isn't it nice to know that Thanksgiving or any other day, you can say "hello everyone" to family or friends across the miles by Long Distance?

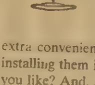
OH YES, a reminder to help you to speed-up your long distance calls - keep a list of your out-of-town numbers in a handy Blue Book so you can place calls by number. If you don't have a Blue Book just call Mrs. Parsons or Mrs. McGee at our business office and we'll be glad to send you one. Remember, calling Long Distance by number means you're calling station-to-station at bargain rates, and you save even more on Sunday, or any day after 6 p.m.

* * *



MY WIFE SAYS there's nothing like a new hat to cheer her up. I guess men feel the same way about a bright new tie. Well, a little extra color in the house can do a lot, too. And that gets me to my favorite subject: additional phones in color! They not only add a happy dash to a room but make for extra convenience, as well. Why not check with us about installing them in your den, kitchen, bedrooms—wherever you like? And, gentlemen, instead of a hat, try perking up your wife's spirits next time she's out of sorts with a color phone or two. They do wonders!

8,760 HOURS TELEPHONING? Who could this be? One of the ladies? A teenage daughter? No, it's men . . . and the average amount of time we spend in a lifetime on the phone. Seems like we're pretty gabby, but maybe that's really not so much talking when you consider the things we accomplish quickly and economically by telephone.

LONG AWAITED—

Ala. Power Co. Given Go Sign On Proposed River Expansion

Statement of Thomas W. Martin, Chairman of the board of Alabama Power Co.

ALABAMA Power Company's board of directors meeting in Montgomery recently took the final step to make effective the license for its proposed Coosa River project. The license was issued September 4, 1957, by the Federal Power Commission subject to acceptance by the Company. "This acceptance by our board," said Thomas W. Martin, board chairman, "makes it possible for us now to complete detailed plans for the beginning of the first structure in the project.

This will be Weiss Dam at Leesburg in Cherokee County.

The construction of four new dams and power plants and the rebuilding of an existing dam on the Coosa River will follow in a sequence set forth in the license.

We hope to begin preliminary construction work shortly."

The objections of the intervenors from Cherokee County, who protested the issuance of the license, were overruled by the Federal Power Commission, but they have a right to appeal to the courts. The Company hopes that a final disposition of their contentions will be made promptly if there is an appeal, so that the commencement of construction will not be delayed.

Mr. Martin pointed out the employment benefits resulting from the comprehensive development of the Coosa River.

"While the benefits of employment on the construction of the projects themselves are substantial," he said, "they are not nearly so great as the long-time aspects.

Construction payroll will, of course, provide immediate business and a lift to the economy not only to the area in the general vicinity of the projects, but will extend far beyond them into manufacturing centers in this state and elsewhere—any vicinity in which there is a supply of the services, materials and equipment that will be involved in this tremendous project."

Mr. Martin emphasized that as the projects are completed, and possibly even before, there will be accelerated interest in the development of the area and that recreational features alone will provide a volume of business and related employment with a value of millions of dollars per year.

"The stabilization of the river level," he said, "will fix with a certainty the locations at which industrial development can take place without the possibility of an industry having to move or modify its operations because of some possible future development which would change the high water level.

impoundment of the waters on the Coosa also will make available substantial industrial water supplies to municipalities located on the streams or within reasonable pumping distance."

With respect to the Warrior River program, Mr. Martin stated that the Company formally accepted the license from the Federal Power Commission some days ago. Under this license, the Company will build the Lewis Smith Dam on the border of Walker and Cullman Counties, at a site known as Upper New Hope, and also will install generating facilities in the Bankhead Lock and Dam near Tuscaloosa. He reported that this week bids have been received for the preliminary work such as clearing, the building of access highways and the driving of the tunnel by which the river flow will be by-passed while construction is under way. The Lewis Smith Dam will be an earth and rock fill dam approximately 300 feet high.

It is calculated that all of the rainfall from the watershed serving this area will be trapped and utilized and that only once in 50 years or more will any water go over the spillway serving the dam.

This provides substantial flood control benefits. The dam will make possible the regularizing of the flow of the Warrior River, thus resulting in substantial aid to navigation, particularly during low water periods. It also will make available to the City of Birmingham a plentiful supply of industrial water.

"While these projects are large and will cost about $160,000,000," Mr. Martin stated, "they represent only approximately one-fourth of the expected power needs to develop within our service area during the next 10 years. We have large steam additions under construction near Mobile and at our Gorgas Steam Plants in Walker County. The power generated by these additions will, of course, feed into the Company's general transmission network and all areas will benefit. Besides these there is under construction at Wilsonville, Alabama, the large Southern Electric Generating Company plant in which Alabama Power Company is half owner. All told we expect that our capital requirements within the next decade will be several times the cost of the hydro electric plants for increased generating capacity and related facilities. This we are planning to undertake because of our unbounded faith that the last half of the twentieth century belongs to the South and that Alabama will get her share of this growth. We expect to continue our active work in the field of industrial development in cooperation with others to accelerate this growth."

C. W. Stuart Co. Celebrates 105th Year of Service

The C. W. Stuart Company of Newark, New York State, has just celebrated its 105th year of continuous operation, making it one of the small handful of successful business organizations to accomplish this feat. The Stuart Company is one of the nation's largest distributors of quality plants, shrubs, and other nursery stock products.

President Bernald C. Bush pointed out this week that many of the company's present sales representatives are sons and grandsons of men who started with the organization more than a half-century ago. "We believe this — coupled with the many thousands of letters from satisfied customers — is the greatest testimonial any company could ask."

The C. W. Stuart Company is beginning an intensive recruiting and training program throughout the country this month.

Out On Limb; Picks CCHS Over Childersburg 14-12

GAME TO BE PLAYED TONIGHT AT CHILDERSBURG

Due to the fact that there is only one game being played this week we find ourselves with ample space to elaborate for a change.

The game of games—CCHS vs. CHILDERSBURG—For the first time this season we should see the CCHS Tigers battling for their lives. It'll probably be the first and last game of the season for the Tigers in which the opponents provide able competition.

It has been said that comparisons don't mean very much when your deciding who's going to win a ball game; nevertheless we shall attempt to make them.

The CCHS record for the season stands at 8 victories and no losses while Childersburg's record is marred with two losses to seven wins.

These two losses for Childersburg were at the hands of Talladega—13 to 0 and Sylacauga—19 to 12.

Chilton County High played Columbiana and won 55-0. Childersburg beat Columbiana 53 to 0.

The Tigers took Wetumpka 27 to 0. Childersburg topped Wetumpka 27 to 12.

Here we find CCHS with a 15 point edge; but the latter game was played on Wetumpka's home field, so we allow a six point home game edge.

By these comparisons the Tigers should win by about nine points.

What did these comparisons prove? Absolutely nothing!

Departing from the usual custom of not picking the score here's the way we see it—CCHS 14 — Childersburg 12.

This is the final week of the season for County teams.

Last week's results left us with four games picked correctly and we missed nary a one which brings our season's total up to 31 games predicted right and seven games not to be mentioned.

THE BEST PAVEMENT FOR AMERICA'S GREAT NEW ROADS IS CONCRETE... on all counts!

CONCRETE ROAD ARITHMETIC
Moderate First Cost
+ Low Maintenance Cost
÷ Long Years Of Service
= Low Annual Cost

The Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 provides that the Federal government will pay 90% of the cost of building the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways. The states, however, must bear the entire burden of maintaining it!

In fairness to taxpayers that means that the pavement chosen should be the most durable. It also should be the least costly to maintain. Concrete is the answer on both counts!

Roads built to Interstate System standards may cost less—and in no case much more if built with concrete. And once built, concrete roads need far less maintenance and serve much longer than other kinds. All these facts are a matter of record!

Whether the roads have only two lanes or many, you, as a taxpayer, will profit from the choice of dependable, long-lasting concrete, the pavement which has proven best on all counts.

GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama at the Regular Session 1957, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that the said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months from the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months from the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 17, 1957; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"The bonds issued hereunder, together with the bonds now or hereafter outstanding under authority of Amendment XVIII, proposed by Acts 1923, page 594, and proclaimed ratified November 15, 1924 (Proclamation Record D., page 107) and Amendment C, proposed by Acts 1953, page 436, and proclaimed ratified December 28, 1953 (Proclamation Record, Volume I, page 144), together with redemption premiums thereon, shall be payable from any funds heretofore and hereafter derived from the proceeds of the tax at such rate or rates not exceeding one-half of one per centum of the assessed value of the property situated in the county which may from time to time be levied and which has been levied under Amendment XVIII and also from the proceeds of any tax or taxes levied under this Amendment; and the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners or other governing body of Mobile County is hereby vested with full authority to continue to levy a tax in the amount authorized by said Amendment XVIII, until all bonds issued pursuant to this amendment have been paid in full, or provision for such payment made, without again submitting the question of levying such tax and issuing such bonds to the qualified voters of Mobile County.

"The proceeds from each sale of any of the bonds shall, after payment of the expenses of issuing the same, be covered into the county treasury and set apart therein in a special trust fund to be designated the 'Public School Bond Fund.' The money paid into such fund shall be disbursed to the custodian of county school funds, and shall be used solely for the acquisition of public school sites, for the construction, reconstruction, alteration and improvement of public school building facilities, for the procurement of equipment therefor, and for payment of obligations incurred for any of such purposes in Mobile County.

"The Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners or other governing body of Mobile County is hereby vested with full authority except as limited herein, to provide the terms of the bonds and to provide for the sale and issuance thereof; and such county governing body is hereby specifically authorized to pledge to the payment of such bonds so much of the proceeds of any tax hereinbefore or hereafter levied pursuant to Amendment XVIII, which has not already been pledged to the payment of other bonds of the county, and so much of the proceeds of any tax levied pursuant to this amendment as are needed for the payment of the bonds hereby authorized. The bonds may be sold, executed and delivered at any time and from time to time, may be in such forms, denominations, series and numbers, may be of such tenor and maturities, may bear such date or dates, may be in registered or bearer form either as to principal or interest or both with rights of conversion into another form, may be payable in such installments and at such place or places, may bear interest at such rate or rates payable and evidenced in such manner and may contain provisions for redemption at the option of Mobile County to be exercised by said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners or other governing body of Mobile County at such date or dates prior to their maturity and upon payment of such redemption price or prices, all as shall be provided by said county governing body in the resolution or resolutions whereunder the bonds are issued. The principal of each series of bonds shall mature in annual installmnets in such amounts as shall be specified in the resolution or resolutions of the said county governing body under which they were issued, the first of which installments shall mature not later than one year after the date of the bonds of such series and the last of which installments shall mature not later than twenty-five years after the date of the bonds of the same series. When each series of bonds is issued, the maturities of the bonds of that series shall, to such extent as may be practicable, be so arranged that during each then succeeding fiscal year of the county the aggregate installments of principal and interest that will mature on all bonds that will be outstanding hereunder, immediately following the issuance of the bonds of that series, will be substantially equal; provided, that the determination by the said county governing body that the requirements of this sentence have been complied with shall be conclusive of such compliance and the purchasers of the bonds with respect to which such determination is made and all subsequent holders thereof shall be fully protected by such determination. None of the bonds shall be sold for less than face value plus accrued interest thereon to the date of delivery, and all of the bonds shall be sold only at public sale or sales, either on sealed bids or at public auction, after such advertisement as may be prescribed by the said county governing body, to the bidder whose bid reflects the lowest net interest cost to the county computed to the respective maturities of the bonds sold; provided, that if no bid deemed acceptable by the said county governing body is received all bids may be rejected.

"The bonds shall be signed in the name of the County of Mobile by the Chairman of the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioner or other presiding officer of the county governing body and shall be countersigned by the County Treasurer, and the seal of the county, if any, or a facsimile thereof, shall be impressed, printed or otherwise reproduced thereon and shall be attested by the signature of the clerk of the county governing body; provided that a facsimile of the signature of any one or any two (but not all) of the officers whose signatures appear on the bonds may be reproduced on any of the bonds in lieu of being manually signed thereon. Any coupons attached to the bonds and representing installments of interest thereon shall be signed with the facsimile signature of the chairman of the county governing body, which facsimile signature shall constitute sufficient authentication of said coupons.

"All bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment, together with the interest income therefrom, shall forever be exempt from all taxation in this State.

"The provisions of this amendment shall be self-executing, and authorization from or other action by the Legislature shall not be a prerequisite to the issuance of bonds hereunder; provided, however, that the Legislature may enact appropriate legislation, not inconsistent with this amendment, respecting the use of the proceeds from the bonds and providing for the payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next pre[illegible] [illegible]ay the 17th day of Decemb[illegible] 1957 in each county in the State of Alabama in a [illegible] paper published in said co[illegible]y.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery on this the 15th day of October 1957.

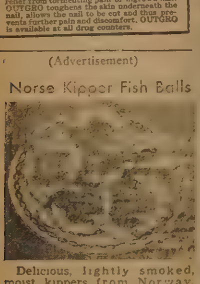
Norse Kipper Fish Balls



Delicious, lightly smoked, moist kippers from Norway, caught in the cold mineral rich waters of the fjords, have a distinctive flavor all their own. They are ideal in salads, canapes, sandwiches and a wide variety of hot main meal dishes. What's more, Norway kippers are decidedly economical and are packed in easy to open aluminum cans. Here's a Norway kipper recipe suggestion which will add zest at party time.

Ingredients: 4 (3¼ oz.) cans Norway kippers; 4 large potatoes; 2 eggs, beaten; 2 tbsp. butter; flour; salt, pepper to taste.

Cook potatoes in salt water. When tender, drain and mash Drain the juice from the Norway kippers and add to potatoes. Cut kippers into small pieces and add to potatoes with eggs, butter, salt and pepper. Blend thoroughly. Form into balls, roll in flour and fry in deep fat (3 to 6 minutes) until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper and serve hot. Yield: 80 to 90 kipper balls.

CHILTON FARM'RS ELIGIBLE FOR EMERGENCY AID

SELDEN REPORTS FOUR COUNTIES IN 6TH DIST.

ACCORDING to an announcement by Rep. Armistead Selden's office this week, Chilton County is one of four counties in the 6th District that have been designated as eligible for emergency loans thru the Farmers Home Administration in 1958. The others are Perry, Shelby and Tuscaloosa Counties.

These counties are among those designated by the Acting Secretary of Agriculture, True D. Morse, as disaster areas for the purpose of FHA loans due to the heavy damage to crops caused by excessive rainfall during the month of September.

Before leaving for the NATO Conference in Paris, Congressman Selden had urged the Agriculture Department to make it possible for farmers in the damaged-crop areas of the 6th District and throughout Alabama to apply for the emergency loans.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

WHAT TO DO ABOUT THE DEPRESSION

In these days of unprecedented prosperity, when our living standards are at the highest they have ever been and America is the envy of the world, many people are worrying about what they shall do when the depression comes. They fear a real catastrophe will visit our country. They believe that there is going to be much unemployment and difficult times for everyone. Already by their thoughts and actions, they are ready to enter a darkened realm of mental depression—to be lost in despair, fear and want.

Fear of facing the future in want or hardship is not a new thing. The desire to gain material wealth and possess peace of mind is an age-old pursuit.

One day two brothers, who were disciples of Christ, entered into a dispute about the correct division of a certain inheritance. The quarrel became so acute that they asked Jesus Christ to be the judge for them. He answered them so profoundly that man is still trying to fathom the wisdom of his answer: "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things which he possesseth." Then He proceeded to unfold to them a story about a certain rich man who possessed such great wealth that he had not sufficient room to store it. So he said to himself, "I know what I will do. I will build greater barns and there will I store all my wealth. And I will say to my soul, 'Now you have security and peace of mind. Sit back and take it easy.'" But God was displeased with this selfish, independent kind of attitude and He said to this man, "Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee!"

You see, the only real security against mental or material depression is in God. Jesus said your life is more than food and your body is more than clothes.

I cannot foretell what the future will be for all of society But I can tell you what God says about His people. He said, "Why do you worry?" Did you not notice that God feeds the little birds, paints the lily, colors the grass, and takes care of all of his possessions? Then do you not believe that He is very much concerned about you? How much more value are you than the lilies of the field?

The Word of God gives us the best insurance policy against mental and material depression of anything I know. Find for me, if you can, anything that is not covered by this verse: "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine . . . ? No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through Him who loved us For I am sure that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor anything else in all creation will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Romans 8:35, 37-39)

S. S. Benefits For Women 62 And Over

WOMEN who are at least 62 years of age might be well-advised to contact their social security office. Under the new social security law, benefits are payable to the wife of a retired worker, to the widow of a deceased worker, or to the working woman herself upon retirement at age 62 instead of age 65, J. W. Overstreet, Jr., District Manager of the Birmingham social security office, said today.

The widow who draws on her deceased husband's account receives her full benefit, three-fourths of the monthly benefit he had accumulated, at age 62. Benefits for the wife or working woman who draws before age 65 are reduced, however. The reduced benefit is permanent and applies after age 65 as well as before.

A wife's benefit at age 62 is reduced by 25%. A woman drawing on her own account at age 62 receives a benefit reduced by 20%.

Mr. Overstreet suggested the Social Security representative, who is at the Court House in Clanton every Wednesday should be contacted for details.

We think the readers will enjoy the edition more than the usual run of special Christmas editions because it will be, well, let's say "different".

SUNDAY School Teacher told the class that "The man named Lot was warned to take his wife and flee out of the city, but his wife looked back and was turned to salt." The little boy asked: "What happened to the flea?"

LETTER comes to us from Rev. R. E. Wilkins from Calvert Baptist Church at Calvert, Ala. He wants to give all the good people of Chilton County his best wishes and invites them to stop in to see him when through his community. Calvert is 35 miles north of Mobile on Highway 43.

LUTHER Kendrick, former Sheriff, will be a candidate for the same office next spring when time comes to qualify and make the race. Looks like that office holds attraction for several local upstanding citizens.

AND while we're on politics, it looks like B. L. Adams is set to make the race for Probate Judge. Things point to the fact that he is starting to get ready to run.

OVER THE TOP—

DESPITE BAD WEATHER 140 PTS. BLOOD GIVEN

THE RECENT Blood Bank collection that took place at the First Methodist Church in Clanton netted 140 pints of blood from donors. More than enough for the quota.

The Bank was held on Friday, November 22nd and the weather was very inclement.

Mrs. Maye P. Esco, general supervisor of the operation had this to say about this very successful Blood Bank:

Thanks--

To the A&P Tea Company, Dixie Food Store, Yellow Front, Pig's Super Saver, Piggly Wiggly and Mr. Roy Traywick of the Coca Cola Bottling Company for his donation and Mrs. Ellen Brinker for sweet milk.

The six local doctors served willingly and well, as they always do and the volunteer workers and nurses were splendid.

Many thanks to Miss Helen Parrish, Church Secretary and Rev. Griffin Lloyd, pastor for their complete cooperation.

And of course—last but by no means least—thanks to the donors, who gave of their time and their blood to help save another life.

GREETINGS

PAUSE ON THIS DAY...

DEAR GOD, on this Thanksgiving Day,
We give Thee thanks; we stop and pray.
TO THANK Thee for the peace that's still
In hearts and minds throughout the world.
FOR BOUNTIOUS lives that overflow
With rich rewards from day to day;
AND NEIGHBORS, who, just as ourselves,
Will pause a while, give thanks, and pray.

SO IF we may for just a while,
Thank Thee for these blessings heaped
UPON US all; we give our thanks,
For as we've sown, so shall we reap.
AND THOUGH we don't deserve it all
Lord, we'll try to make it good,
AND THROUGH some meager way of ours
Show an humble gratitude.

OUR HEARTS and minds are open Lord,
To Thy divinely guiding way:
AND ON this day we feel Thee near;
"He's not unheard," is what we pray.
AND SO, to feast, and all the while,
We keep in mind the Master's Plan:
WOULD THAT all men throughout the earth,
Pause on this Day—and understand.
—AMEN

Radar Unit Installed—

Mayor Issues Fair "Suggestion" To Local Speeders

"TRAFFIC in Clanton and elsewhere has increased each year, each month and each day until it has become a major problem for us as in other cities.

Why has it become a major problem? To answer that question would take a rather lengthy discussion, but a few of the reasons are:

So many cars on our streets and highways make conditions crowded When you have large numbers of people driving, you have some fast drivers which speed signs do not impress. For these fast drivers, we (the City) have bought a Radar Units checks speed and records same, therefore, there will not be a question of how fast you were traveling when a ticket is issued

So many people speed without thinking or realizing they are driving fast. Some do not realize the danger, or do not care. Regardless of which group you [illegible] to reduce speeding in Clanton

Some of our drivers do not notice stop signs. These signs have been put up for your protection as well as the driver of other cars, also those persons that may be crossing at the intersection. We have had several persons walking that were hit by cars that did not observe stop signs.

from The Bible

For God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power and of love and of a sound mind.—(Timothy 1, 7.)

When we trust in God completely, we are freed from the fear and fearful imaginings which are born of human weakness. We become strong and courageous in the release and the exercise of the divine strength and power that is within us—the God-given spirit that fills and rules us when we let it do so.

Who Can Vote, And Where To Do It

HOW FARMERS vote in the Cotton Marketing Quota Referendum to be held throughout the Nation's cotton-growing area on December 10 will determine a great deal for you individually, Mr. Farmer!

First of all it will determine whether quota penalties will apply and second it will also determine the level of price support for 1958 crop cotton.

Eddie Owen, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee is quoted this week as saying the referendum is of vital concern to Chilton County farmers, and should be dealt with accordingly.

According to reports the marketing Quota program will be in operation for next year's crop if at least two-thirds of the votes cast in the referendum are in favor of the program. In this case, price support will be available to growers who comply with their farm allotments for the 1958 crop of upland cotton at a level between 75 and 90 percent of parity, and quota penalties will apply on any "excess" cotton.

If more than one-third of the votes are against quotas, there will be no quota penalties and the price support level to eligible growers will drop, accordingly to 50 percent of parity

Even though quotas are disapproved, acreage allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support.

All farmers who were engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1957 will be eligible to vote in the referendum.

The Referendum will be held between the hours of 8:00 A.M. and 7:00 P.M. on Tuesday, December 10, at the following polling places:

WHEN Thanksgiving comes can Christmas be far behind?

DON'T ridicule the opinion of others—theirs may be right, you may be wrong.

ANY man can see the reason for his neighbor's failure, but never the reason for his own.

GENIUS is handed out to a few, but the average man has to gain success the hard way.

WE'VE noticed that if you pay as you go, the trip is much more enjoyable.

Vote For Amendment No. 5----

HALF A HUNDRED LOCAL citizens met Friday afternoon to discuss Amendment No. 5 and from the expressions obtained it looks like a sure thing to pass.

Amendment No. 5 provides for four and a half million dollars through a bond issue, for much needed buildings and equipment for research and instruction in agriculture and veterinary medicine at Auburn. Agriculture is the backbone of our local economy and what benefits the farmer, benefits you. If by voting for this amendment we can help our farmers, we are only helping ourselves.

The Amendment specifies that the money will be raised by bonds—no new taxes will be added to your present tax load—and these bonds will be retired in 20 years from general funds of the State.

Why do we need more research and instruction?

As Mayor Hollis Jackson, County Chairman for Amendment No. 5, pointed out, the same old cubby holes used 25 years ago for research and instruction at Auburn when he attended, are still in use.

More adequate facilities are badly needed and you can do your friends, the farmer, a big favor by voting "yes" on Amendment No. 5, at the polls on December 17th.

THE COURAGE TO LIVE----

(From the Meridian Star)
Meridian, Mississippi

MAN'S GREATEST POSSESSION is his faith and courage.

The courage to live on and to achieve good things.

A newspaper story served to remind us of this.

The newspaper article referred to Jack Hayes, a leading citizen of Clanton, Alabama. Hayes, as some sportsmen might remember, was once a star second basemen for the Washington Senators and later for the Chicago White Sox.

Then, when he began to miss grounders and his batting average fell off, he went to a doctor only to discover that he was losing his sight. He subsequently went completely blind.

He returned to his home, but refused to give up.

He was actve in many things and was elected county tax collector, holding the position for twelve years. He ran an automobile agency and was in the real estate business.

Grateful baseball fans have donated $6,000 on one night to insure the education of his son, and that is to be used soon, since his son is about ready to enter college.

However, the best part of the story is yet to come. Hayes, getting on surprisingly well, decided he needed to take up sports again.

He was not interested in taking them up for pay, but for the recreation he needed.

Accordingly, the blind citizen of Clanton, Alabama, began practicing with a golf club. He became surprisingly accurate with the clubs.

Not long ago he entered the National Blind Golfers' tournament which was held in Birmingham, Alabama. Although he had been playing only a short while, he came in seventh and today is enjoying golf tremendously.

All of which should remind us that our handicaps and our troubles can be overcome to a large degree.

Faith, courage and the will to win, will do the job.

By "TUCK"

IF you want a thing to be a success—put something of yourself into it!

THE important thing to remember this Thanksgiving is not so much what we're thankful for, but that we be thankful for something and tell the Good Lord so—in our own way—that's freedom, friend; and you should exercise and enjoy the privilege.

WHY does man, and to include in this broad understatement—woman, always want a scrap—and no matter who with. Folks, it seems, are always after newspaper people to "fight back" "sic 'em". Oh yes, and one of their most favorite lines is "we'll back you up all the way". They might "back up" all the way, but too many times that's all it amounts too. They honestly do want a scrap alright, but they want you to be the bone and they the bystander. These particular people, with whom we disagree, have their own idea of what constitutes a "good newspaperman". A good newspaperman prints facts, but will avoid any antagonistic viewpoints if they be detrimental to the character of any individual. If this is not enough, he also has his own character to shepherd and the esteem which people might hold for him as a newspaperman would diminish rapidly were he to take up the stick and join in the fray. The newspaper is the voice of the people that's true and the newspaperman, the custodian, but he also should be gifted with the integrity to see when one individual is out to get another and chooses the press to accomplish his ends. That's not news—it's propaganda.

AND while we're on this 'near and dear' subject to us—we were accused this week (by parties unknown) of not presenting all the news—a fact which we readily admit. Sometimes, howdver, we feel if we were to print absolutely all the news, a lot of folks would be ashamed to show their faces the next day. In other words friend, what's your definition of news?

NOW here this! The Civitan Club of Clanton is again sponsoring the sales of fruit cakes this season and they only ask that (if you're skeptical that is) you ask somebody who has bought one before and that's all the selling they need do. No foolin' though, those fruit cakes—if you like fruit cake—are just plain everyday, old-fashioned, like mother used to try to make, GOOD and you can't afford to miss out. Check this week's News for advertisement of same.

IT seems to us—after some dealings of late—that some businesses charge their customers for the mismanagement of their employees.

WHAT some folks do with words is sometimes unspeakable.

SEEMS the Peoples Savings Bank has done some remodeling of late. Reason we mention it is that they didn't consult us about the change and we figger we have a pretty big interest in the place. Not according to their figguring, but according to ours'. Anyway, we're glad to see they finally got James Duke cornered so he can't blab about our credit standing every time we go in to borrow money. Of course we don't get it—but like the fellow said—sooner or later somebody's gonna make a mistake and it ain't gonna be us!

YOU know it always seems that when you put a broad subject—one of greatest magnitude on a small scale, certain points are easier to solve. It looks like "all" world leaders would take that into consideration next time they have a summit meeting or United Nations gathering or NATO Conference. One point however, is the fact that the desire to accomplish must be there in the first place—a situation not always prevailing. What a waste!

14 States Are Sending Pork To Great Britain

ALABAMA was the first state in the U. S. to outlaw the use of live virus in the hog cholera control program.

Because other states did not prohibit treatment with live virus, Alabama was, at one time, the only state from which Great Britain would accept pig meat.

Since Alabama's acceptance, however, 13 other states have followed her lead and are eligible to export meat to England.

Reports this week disclosed that British authorities would like to see more states following the road pioneered by Alabama and export more meat to their shores. Besides Alabama, the states that prohibit the use of live cholera virus are Tennessee, Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana, South Carolina, Montana, Utah, New Mexico, Arkansas, North Dakota, Illinois, Wisconsin and Kentucky.

It's My Opinion--

A Change Of Course; Good Or Bad At Present?

It has been said—by us if by no one else—that changing horses in the middle of the stream is more dangerous than surveying the problem a little ways out.

We have surveyed the problem of a new Community Center for Clanton and in the past few weeks it has become increasingly apparent that people are losing confidence in the efforts of the Community Center Project.

We would like to point up here, however, that it seems to be those who are least connected with the project who are becoming more restless about it's outcome.

Patience, apparently not being one of their virtues, they are making claims now that the thing has not been publicized enough.

Recently we compiled a folder made up entirely of clippings from the Chilton County News regarding the intentions, progress and expectations of this project and it contains many, many columns of material on the subject.

The book is yours for the asking, and it should prove that the project has not gone unheralded.

Some details, however, are not mentioned in these articles. This is the beef. The major issue seems to be "what are we going to do with it and how will it be handled?" It is an issue well-taken and, to say the least, important to us, collectively.

We disagree with these people, only to the point that they are not putting first things first—though this is important, it is important ten-fold to see the job finished. A Center—once built—we can assure you, would have proper management. Do you contest that fact, when so many people would be willing to do their part to see to it?

These skeptical do-gooders are, as we've said before, necessary to our society and they do serve a purpose.

Some are damaging the efforts of others.

There are others, however, who after voicing their opinion against the proposed plan, have constructive matter to add to the project [illegible] worth listening to.

For instance, Mr. Leo Thompson came to us last week and went into detail as to how the gymnasium and facilities already available at Chilton County High School, with the proper treatment, could be transformed into a satisfactory facsimile of a Community Center and one that would suffice until arrangements could be made about the complete Center.

The segregation-integration issue was naturally mentioned, but the biggest thing was the money—it could be done for a fraction of what a Center would cost us. Also, he feels that donations will never attain the staggering sum which will be necessary.

Here now, is where we stand pat. Funds CAN be raised, but we reluctantly agree with Mr. Thompson when he says they aren't likely to be. But, we could do it.

Our opinion is that this idea has merit and should be strongly considered by the Community Center Committees. Mr. Thompson failed to show us any reason why he shouldn't voice his opinion openly, before the committee if necessary. We feel he should.

Under the Board of Education, as a governing body, a board of trustees can be formed to preside over the entire proceedings.

Public acceptance of this idea, as it is today, is not likely, because there will be a feeling of hostility towards any new efforts after the "obvious failure" of previous ones. Human nature to give up when it doesn't involve "me" personally.

Let us say here, that it will be de-facing to no one to back track a ways and pick up a new set of reins. If we did set our sights too high for present satisfaction then let's admit it and get started out again.

No public failure is complete unless one hundred percent of the people lose confidence in themselves as one body. Our opinion is, that with the right enthusiasm Clanton can still realize a dream and the only added expense being perhaps a few egos—and who pray tell, will miss them greatly?

Speaks To Race--

Proud Negro Woman Says "Do Not Push Integration"

(Reprinted From The Pickens County Herald)

MANY NEGROES are honest and straight thinking, and are not being filled by false promises of their hypocritical "friends".

Sudie Mae Lewis, a negro woman now living in Chicago, wrote the following letter to the editor of The Jackson Daily News, Jackson, Miss.

"Editor, Daily News:

I have written several leading magazines supported by the NAACP but have yet to see one in print or a word of acknowledgement. So once again I turn to my white friends to get action.

I have taught many colored children in the deep south, & was born and raised in the cotton fields myself.

To some, this may sound like a starved, inhuman existence; let me say here that those were the happiest days of my life.

I am getting on in years now; my health is gone. I long to spend my last days and be buried deep in Mississippi soil. I want my own kind of people to lay me away in a Christian manner in a free church yard.

Eleven years ago I heeded the wild tales down there of the wonderful north. I came to Chicago with the hope of being a society lady like I had heard so much about. But what I want to tell my people—the colored people of Mississippi, is this: Just being allowed to sit up front on the crowded buses and here and there a colored child in school with the whites does not mean and will never mean that the respectable white people will take you into their hearts and homes fully and freely as they do one of their own kind.

And the whites that will and do are just mixed trash that any self-respecting negro will do well to shun.

"DO NOT PUSH INTEGRATION"

I beg you to listen to one who knows about these things. For your own sake, the welfare of the coming generations, DO NOT PUSH INTEGRATION—Stop and think these things through.

It just means giving up your own life and none of us can ever be happy trying to adjust and conform to the rigid rules laid down for us by white society.

When you give up your own schools and churches you are giving our last hold on your precious freedom.

Down there (South) you can meet and mingle, serve God in our own way, shout and sing if you feel like it. Here (North) you would get thrown in jail if you attempted to shout to God in church or anywhere else.

Down there you can have your own entertainment in your own way. Nobody disturbs you so long as you don't disturb the peace. You have as good schools there as anywhere in this world and a lot more freedom than you will find on northern trails.

If you can't be anything worthwhile in a segregated school, you certainly won't amount to anything worthwhile in an integrated school.

"BE PROUD OF YOUR OWN RACE"

One other thing I have learned I want to pass on to you—nine out of every 10 dollars you hand over to the NAACP goes to pay the white agitators of newspapers and magazines. This is no hearsay, I've worked for them and I know. Their price is high. They are well-paid to peddle their agitation and stir up trouble. And all they care about is the money you hand them. Just try paying them a social call.

In fact, the whole north, both black and white is sick and tired of the mess it's made of his entire segregation business.

Stick to your own way of life, be proud of your own race instead of trying to push and shove into places where you won't be happy.

Today, I have no regrets I was born black. I have done what I could to help my race improve their way of life. Don't ever blame the white race or any other race for any of your failures. The fault is purely your own. We all have the same opportunity. It's up to each race to rise or fall.

You've never had it so good as you have in dear old Dixie today. God being willing, I'm coming home to Mississippi this fall where black is black, white is white, and all a friend to man.

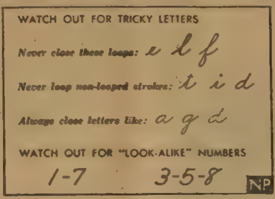
Hints For Christmas Mailing

Hundreds of thousands of Christmas cards and packages will be lost this year because of illegibly written addresses. Servicemen overseas, relatives, friends, business associates—all will be part of a disappointed army whose mail goes astray, because, as a national magazine recently stated, we have become a "nation of scrawlers."



WATCH OUT FOR TRICKY LETTERS
Never close these loops: e l f
Never loop non-looped strokes: t i d
Always close letters like: a g d
WATCH OUT FOR "LOOK-ALIKE" NUMBERS
1-7 3-5-8
NP

Yet a few simple rules and just a little attention to it will improve anybody's handwriting immediately, says the Handwriting Foundation in a special appeal aimed at cutting down losses.

All addresses, says the Foundation, should be written in at least three well-spaced lines, with zone numbers included. This goes for the return address as well. Take special care with the "tricky" letters and numbers shown on the chart.

Your signature, on greeting and gift cards, should be legible Include the last name when identification might otherwise be in doubt. If it's a family card, make the children part of the greeting, and let them sign the card, too.

For far away friends and relatives, add a short note—a few words of greeting and maybe a promise of a longer letter soon. A New Year's card is appropriate for friends you've forgotten at Christmas. And never give money gifts to the postman, milkman and others without at least the personal touch of your signature.

You don't have to be an artist to decorate a card or gift package. A pen and colored inks (try red and green for Christmas) is all you need. A tree in outline, some stars, a few heavy dots . . . and you've drawn your own Christmas spirit. Another personal touch is a note in an envelope attached to the outside of a gift package.

As for next year's greeting card and gift list, compile it now. Write each name on a separate index card, and alphabetize them in a file box to simplify additions and changes. Or keep a booklet, with blank pages between names for newcomers. Such a list prevents embarrassing duplication or omission at card-sending time.

And always remember, concludes the Handwriting Foundation, that the written message is part of the Christmas spirit. Be sure to make the message legible.

Mechanized Woodyard---

Big Enterprise Opens Industry At Coopers

THE RECENT opening of International Paper Company's Coopers Woodyard was announced this week by W. E. Gibbons, Northern Area Forest Superintendent.

This new mechanized woodyard is located on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad south of Coopers on Highway 31.

Mr. Gibbons said that the company expects to purchase $250,000 to $300,000 worth of pulpwood annually from local pulpwood producers and dealers at this one woodyard. A measure of the economic importance of a healthy forest business can be found in an estimate by the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association that one pulpwood truck operating full-time represents an annual business of at least $22,500.

In addition to providing a permanent market for the pulpwood crops of tree farmers and forest landowners within a radius of 30 miles of Copers, much of the company's conservation program, including management and harvesting advice and free timber marking services, will be channeled through the woodyard.

Ray Chastain has been appointed woodyard foreman, head scaler and clerk. He is in charge of the entire operation and he also accurately mersures each truck load of pulpwood that arrives on the yard.

After each truck has been scaled, it is mechanically unloaded onto rail cars for shipment to International's Mobile Mill. Therrell Smith is the machine operator.

Anyone interested in visiting or inspecting this new mechanized woodyard may do so by contactin Mr. Ray Chastain at the woodyard office.

WOMEN'S STUDY CLUB PLANS FOR HOLIDAY SEASON

THE MEMBERS of the Women's Study Club of Clanton have begun the fall season with great enthusiasm for the coming Club year.

Their first meeting in October was held in the home of Mrs. L. G. Nichols, president of the Club. All members enjoyed a splendid program presented by Mrs. Herman Lecroy, entitled How To Grow Old and Like It.

At the November meeting at which Mrs. Richard Scott was hostess, four new members were welcomed into the Club. They were Mrs. Guy Higgins, Mrs. James Studdard, Mrs. Kinyon Vinson and Mrs. Lawrence Wright.

After the regular business meeting, a very informal discussion of the Club's plans for the coming Holiday Season was held.

Refreshments were served to those present and the meeting was dismissed.

By C. WILSON HARDER

There is a strange paradox in Washington that often puzzles many observers.

Obviously, this nation, and its people, abhor communism.

Yet under export licenses issued by the Dept. of Commerce, this nation is engaging in trade with Russia and other communist bloc nations in Europe.

C. W. Harder

In fact, according to Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks, this trade is rapidly growing, or increasing at the rate of about $1 million per month. In fact, it is possible volume this year may approach somewhere around $100 million.

The U. S. is exporting to Russia, Poland, Rumania and East Germany such items as [illegible] coal, synthetic rubber, graphite electrodes, hides, cigarettes, hops and other items.

Yet it is strictly against government policy to do any trading with China where there is a vast market. Between China and adjacent asiatic nations, almost half of the world's population is located. Of course, they are largely controlled by communists, and thus this nation cannot trade with them.

But so are the U.S.S.R. and the nations of Eastern Europe controlled by communists.

Now the $64,000 question seems to be this. What yardstick is used to determine for trade purposes which communists are tolerable, which are intolerable.

In other words, has official Washington now developed some secret scale of determining the degrees of communism so that there is now officially classified good communists, bad communists, and in-between grades of communists

On the other hand, there are some observers who say it is not so confusing. They claim that through the British Crown Colony at Hong Kong there is quite a lively and profitable trade between Britain and China.

Mariners [illegible] the south China coast report there is a great deal of shipping in these waters. In fact, at times the seas are quite crowded with shipping, in this area of the world.

Either, they claim, there is a heavy amount of commerce by somebody with China, or the Chinese are just crazy to sail hither and yon on pleasure excursions.

Others claim these reports of commerce is a reason State Dept opposes American newspaper men being permitted to go into China for a look-see around.

If the government has a strict embargo against exporting to any communist nation, that could be understood. But trade with Russia, hands off China, doesn't appear to be a coherent policy.

Situations such as this have caused many to wonder if there is actually an American policy.

Or is the strategy to keep just enough turmoil alive in the headlines so that when a reduction in taxes seems possible, a grave new danger can be trotted out as justification for keeping taxes high. It seems more than a coincidence that every time a major cut is threatened in foreign aid, in taxes or governmental expenditures, stories are released in Washington of great new enemy weapons, or an expected assault on Formosa, or some other danger to peace.

WEEK'S REPORT FROM JEMISON AND VICINITY

By Mrs. George Naish

The Hammer—

Consider the hammer: A good one never loses its head and flies off the handle; it finds the point and drives it home; it hooks on the other side and clinches the matter firmly. Occassionally it makes mistakes, but it rectifies them. It keeps pounding away until the job is done, it is the only "knocker" in the world that does constructive work.

QUEST CLUB MET

Art and Religion in Africa was the theme of the November Quest Club meeting at the Jemison Baptist Church, Tuesday night, November 19th. The program was presented by Mrs. Verta Mae Langston.

Mrs. Carl Glass, president, called the meeting to order. The Club Collect was read in unison. All business was suspended.

In discussing the program theme Mrs. Langston gave these highlights of art and religion in Africa: Traditional Religious Beliefs, Rituals or Rites, etc. There are no artists by name in Africa, their art interest is used mainly in connection with their religion. Masks and ancestors are the principal models used. The question: "What of Africa Today?".

At the close of the program Miss Sybil Langston requested all members to cooperate in operation Santa Claus for Bryce Hospital.

A lovely arrangement of white mums, centered with a cross design in red mums graced the table. Members and guests enjoyed a social hour, refreshments of coffee, fruit cake and nuts were served.

MEETING OF JR. GA's

The Junior Girls Auxiliary of the Jemison Baptist Church met at the home of the counselor, Mrs. Lonnie Cobb on Thursday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. The meeting was called to order by the president, Jane Porter. The Watchword, Star Ideals and Pledge of Allegiance were given and the GA Hymn sung.

The Stewardship Program "Robbing God" was given and all 7 girls gave a part. The scripture was read by Linda Clements. The counselor led the closing prayer.

Members present: Jane Porter, Carolyn Thornhill, Peggy Lewis, Sandra Lee Rogers, Mary Ann Bolton, Lynda Clements, Patricia Vines and two new members, Charlotte Reynolds and Judy Lewis.

WSCS MEETING

Mrs. Dezzi Littlejohn was hostess to the WSCS on Sunday afternoon, November 10 at 2:30 o'clock. The program "Quadrennial Goals" was presented by Mrs. Edna McNeill.

The goals sought in student work at higher institutions will be spiritual objectives and higher education. Six members were present.

The hostess served homemade cake and coffee.

Malathion: Pioneer Insecticide

NO RESIDUE ON PLANTS

ONE OF the latest aims of today's researchers is to develop chemicals that will leave little or no residue on crops, plants, or fruits.

Most of the current insecticides do leave residues. Because most chemicals are toxic, government agencies have placed strict limitations on the amount of residue. Insecticides of the future will be designed to disappear rapidly from the plant once the insect threat is over.

Of the chemicals now being used, the one that most nearly fits this description is malathion.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

MIRACLES OF TODAY!

Are there no more miracles? Yes, just this last Summer God took a few handfuls of grain which farmers cast on their fields and fed the whole population of the world. He did this as easily as He took five loaves and fed the five thousand people while He was on earth. No miracles? Well, in the Autumn He changes the dews of the night and the showers of morning into beautiful fruits in the same manner that He once turned water into wine.

Many who read these lines seem powerless to believe in miracles. Life is so commonplace . . . each day is but the same old routine. But for those who believe, every day is a new opportunity to conquer through the power of faith in God.

A mother wrote this letter to me a short while ago:

"Our little three-year-old daughter, Linda, had suffered for over a year from a rare kidney ailment. It finally was diagnosed as glomerulo nephritis, probably brought on by tonsil poisoning. She was swollen all over so that she couldn't wear her clothing and the bottoms of her feet were so round that she couldn't balance herself. In fact, the physician warned us that any type of exertion might cause her to drop dead at any moment. We prayed and asked others to pray for her, but somehow we fell short in our faith.

"Our doctor decided, with our permission, to experiment with injections of cortisone. These reduced the swelling and improved her condition generally, but every time we tried to leave off the injections she immediately began to swell again. We took her to our minister. He told her that he would put his hand on her head and pray and God would make her well. He did pray for her and from that day forth she told everyone she was well.

"Within three weeks, we took her to the doctor for a monthly check-up. He was amazed to find that she was normal for the first time and asked what in the world we had been doing for her. When we told him that she was healed through the power of God, he said, 'Well, something certainly happened.'

"Today she is living a normal life and playing with other children as if she had never been sick. The doctors are impressed and say that no other similar case on record has ever shown the remarkable recovery that she has made."

The above account is, however, not a rare occurrence to people who believe that God is good. You see, you are His property . . . His dwelling place. He desires His house to be in first-class condition. He is able to keep it that way. Remember, He is a carpenter, a builder. He is also the Great Physician. You are His child. Would a physician forsake his own sick child? No! Then look to Him and believe in Him for your own healing.

Take heart! Every day, every hour, every moment is a miracle; and God's miraculous power is at work every moment of every hour of every day.

First Six Proposed Amendments Concern Your Health As a Citizen

By Geoffrey B'rt
Ala. State Publicity Director

THE FIRST six proposed amendments which Alabamians will vote on this December 17th are all tied together in a rather neat package. They are inter-related.

Whereas Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 6 are for better health in the State; Nos. 1 and 5 are directly concerned with adding more payrolls, and better farm incomes, to increase the earnings of the State which, in turn and over the years, will help pay for Amendments Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 6.

Amendment no. 1 is for the building of river docks and river development; No. 5 is to improve and expand the Auburn school of scientific agriculture and make room for more students to receive a veterinary education.

These first six amendments are all for bond issues. None of them involve any new taxes.

In addition, State voters will be weighing carefully the pros and cons of 19 other amendments also to be voted on December 17th.

Amendment No. 1 is for a $10 million bond issue without any new tax, though only $3 million will be able to be used at first, and the other $7 million cannot be spent until the Legislature authorizes it, for later river development programs.

The $3 million would be spent building river docks and warehouses in various parts of the State.

INDUSTRY EXPANDS ON RIVER BANKS

As America's industrial might both expands and decentralizes, it is locating new plants on the banks of rivers. Industry needs water to manufacture its goods, and also for cheap transportation of its raw materials and finished goods. Alabama has about the finest system of rivers in the nation. The Tennessee River flows north to Chicago and the Port of New York via the Mississippi, Missouri and new St. Lawrence Seaway, etc. The south flowing Warrior and Tombigbee, like the Alabama Coosa and Tallapoosa, flow into the great Port of Mobile The Chattahoochie goes South into the Texas to Florida Intra-coastal Canal and the Gulf of Mexico. And so forth, and so on.

But these rivers have to have locks and dams, and they also have to have river bank docks and harbors in order to be useful as locations for industrial expansion.

NEW INDUSTRIAL SITES

Amendment No. 1 is aimed at building such river docks and warehouses, similar to three such facilities already in the making at Florence, Decatur and near Huntsville. The Amendment could also assist further development of the Tennessee River in addition to that which is already being accomplished at those three centers.

Amendment No. 3 is for a $3 million bond issue to construct new buildings at the deplorably overcrowded and largely out-of-date Talladega Institute of the Deaf and Blind. There will be no new taxes for this, but industrial payrolls, such as those earned on river bank plants, and incomes from agriculture, will help pay for these needed improvements over the years.

Amendment No. 4 is for the badly needed $4,00,000 bond issue, without new taxes for the University of Alabama Medical School so that it can expand, and also conduct more basic research for you, and you and you.

Amendment No. 6 will allow the State to sell $2 million worth of bonds, with no new taxes, to match Federal funds for building TB hospitals, health centers and general hospitals.

So four of these first six proposed Constitutional amendments are aimed at better health services for Alabamians, and two are for raising more and better payrolls for the State. Thus, the six are closely related.

"Come on, George. Coonskin caps just aren't being worn this season!"

Childersburg Sits Tigers Down Hard; 27 To 8

By JERRY GRAY

LAST THURSDAY, night th CCHS Tigers suffered thei defeat of this fast exiting footbal season.

This single blemish (and wh blemish) on the CCHS slate cam at the hands of the powerful Childersburg Tigers.

The first quarter saw CCHS kicking off to the Childersburg eleve but on the fourth down they punte to James Knight who bobbled th ball momentarily, but,

On the first play from scrimmage James Knight hit the line where he appeared to be stopped, but with a mighty twist he spun awry on an 83-yard TD gallop.

CCHS was off and running. . for a while.

Shoemaker received the kick f the Cats standing on his own 10-y line. With his interference form the gallant little quarterback gat ed in the pigskin and raced for th sidelines where he tightroped in the end zone.

The extra point was good and th score—Childersburg 7 - CCHS 6.

From this point it was 'good glory' for the CCHS Tigers.

The second quarter of play fou the Childersburg Tigers scoring on more. This time on a 30-yard pa play from Shoemaker to Ron Hic son.

At the halftime the score w 13 to 6—Childersburg.

Half-time ceremonies included e hibitions by bands from Clanton a Childersburg.

The "dominating force" for t rest of the game was Childe and they scored twice more

One TD came in the third qua ter when quarterback John Sh maker let one fly to Saeur for 40-yard TD.

The final Childersburg TD ca when quarterback Shoemake went to the air and let the p go. Verton gathered the ball and was all by himselm.

The pass and run play wa for 55 yards and a TD.

CCHS scored points once in the game. This came when V ton gathered in a punt in the e zone where he fell. The refer ruled it a safety which made final score Childersburg 27, CC 8

Sometimes the ball bounce the wrong direction. Sometime team loses by a mere twist o . . . and sometimes a team is sim outplayed by another.

Hospital And Nursing Home--

Ladies Auxiliary In Full Swing With Efficient Membership

THE NEWLY organized Ladies Auxiliary of the Chilton County Hospital and Nursing Home met in the reception rooms of the Home on Friday, November 5th with 42 present.

Mrs. Dick Hayes, acting chairman, called the meeting to order and presented to the group the plans of the Auxiliary and also the report of the nominating committee, which had met at the home of Mrs. Omar Reynolds.

Some of the plans include a program for Thanksgiving and Christmas. Flowers will be furnished by the Ward's Flower Shop of Clanton in December and the Marcus Flower Shop, Clanton in January.

Mrs. Hayes stated that she was very pleased to see so many interested in doing something for the sick and aged.

Mr. Sudduth, administrator of the Hospital assured the group that he and his associates were grateful for the efforts being made to organize this Auxiliary and that he hoped the first phase would be to visit with and make the patients feel welcome and happy.

Mrs. Hayes stated that the Auxiliary will meet every three months and the next meeting will be on February 7, 1958. In the meantime the following officers and committees, which were unanimously elected will be busy working and planning:

Chairman, Mrs. O. H. Armstrong; co-chairman, Mrs. J. W. (Dick) Hayes; secretary, Mrs. W. A. Willis; treasurer, Mrs. L. H. Bodden; publicity chairman, Mrs. R. M. Tucker. (others on this committee include Mrs. Mamie C. Smith, Mrs. Flem Higgins and Mrs. Hugh Jones); Thanksgiving committee, Mrs. O. H. Armstrong, Mrs. R. M. Tucker, Mrs. Lester Jones, Mrs. Tol Kunkel and Mrs. Clara Ward.

Christmas committee includes:

Mrs. Clara Ward, flowers; and the two local Garden Clubs, decorations.

After the business session, Mrs. Hayes turned the meeting over to Mrs. Willis, who presented the guest speaker, Mrs. Gilbert L. Vaughn, who is president of the University Hospital Auxiliary in Birmingham.

Mrs. Vaughn gave a most informative and helpful talk on ways in which the Auxiliary could function successfully. She is a very enthusiastic Auxiliary Worker and brought much enthusiasm to those present. She offered her assistance at any time. She answered many questions for the members and led in a very informal discussion, concerning rules and regulations by which the Auxiliary should begin functioning.

There were thirty-three paid memberships at this meeting and since this will be the present source of financing this project, it is hoped that there will be many who will join and pay dues.

Anyone who wishes to become a member please contact any of the above mentioned officers or chairmen.

Attending this first Auxiliary meeting were: Msds. Morgan Reynolds, W. A. Willis, H. K. Christiansen, Guy Higgins, Hance Alred, Dick Hayes, Ben Sims, A. A. Bazzell, John Hollis, A. L. Farley, O. H. TWO LANES . . . OR MANY LANES
THE BEST PAVEMENT FOR AMERICA'S GREAT NEW ROADS IS CONCRETE . . . on all counts!
CONCRETE ROAD ARITHMETIC
Moderate First Cost
+ Low Maintenance Cost
÷ Long Years Of Service
= Low Annual Cost
The Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 provides that the Federal government will pay 90% of the cost of building the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways. The states, however, must bear the entire burden of maintaining it!
In fairness to taxpayers that means that the pavement chosen should be the most durable. It also should be the least costly to maintain. Concrete is the answer on both counts!
Roads built to Interstate System standards may cost less—and in no case much more if built with concrete. And once built, concrete roads need far less maintenance and serve much longer than other kinds. All these facts are a matter of record!
Whether the roads have only two lanes or many, you, as a taxpayer, will profit from the choice of dependable, long-lasting concrete, the pavement which has proven best on all counts.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"The State of Alabama is authorized to become indebted for building, construction and improvement purposes at Alabama Polytechnic Institute at [illegible], and in evidence of the indebtedness so incurred to sell and issue, in addition to all other bonds of the State, interest bearing general obligation bonds of the State not exceeding four million five hundred thousand dollars ($4,500,000) in principal amount. The bonds shall be general obligations of the State of Alabama and the full faith and credit and taxing power of the State are hereby pledged to the prompt and faithful payment of the principal of the bonds and the interest thereon. The proceeds from the sale of any such bonds shall, after payment of the expenses of their issuance, be set apart in a special fund in the state treasury to be designated the 'Alabama Polytechnic Institute Building Bond Fund'; and such proceeds shall be used exclusively for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, and improvement of college building facilities; including the acquisition of sites and equipment for such facilities, for use by the School of Agriculture, the Agricultural Experiment Station, and the School of Veterinary Medicine of The Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn; provided, that the plans and specifications for any building constructed with money from said special fund shall be approved by the Alabama Building Commission or any agency designated by the Legislature as its successor.

"The Board of Trustees of The Alabama Polytechnic Institute is hereby vested with full authority, except as limited herein, to provide the terms of the bonds and to provide for the sale and issuance thereof. The bonds may be sold, executed and delivered at any time and from time to time, may be in such forms, denominations, series and numbers, may be of such tenor and maturities, may bear such date or dates, may be in registered or bearer form either as to principal or interest or both with rights of conversion into another form, may be payable in such installments and at such place or places, may bear interest at such rate or rates payable and evidenced in such manner, and may contain provisions for redemption at the option of the state to be exercised by said board at such date or dates prior to their maturity and upon payment of such redemption price or prices, all as shall be provided by the said board in the resolution or resolutions whereunder the bonds are issued. The principal of each series of bonds shall mature in annual installments in such amounts as shall be specified in the resolution or resolutions of the said board under which they are issued, the first of which installments shall mature not later than one year after the date of the bonds of such series and the last of which installments shall mature not later than twenty years after the date of the bonds of the same series. When each series of bonds is issued, the maturities of the bonds of that series shall, to such extent as may be practicable, be so arranged that during each then succeeding fiscal year of the state the aggregate installments of principal and interest that will mature on all bonds that will be outstanding hereunder, immediately following the issuance of the bonds of that series, will be substantially equal; provided, that the determination by the said board that the requirements of this sentence have been complied with shall be conclusive of such compliance and the purchasers of the bonds with respect to which such determination is made and all subsequent holders thereof shall be fully protected by such determination. None of the bonds shall be sold for less than face value plus accrued interest thereon to the date of delivery and all of the bonds shall be sold only at public sale or sales, either on sealed bids or at public auction, after such advertisement as may be prescribed by the said board, to the bidder whose bid reflects the lowest net interest cost to the state computed to the respective maturities of the bonds sold; provided, that if no bid deemed acceptable by the said board is received all bids may be rejected.

"The bonds shall be signed in the name of the State by the Governor and countersigned by the president pro tempore of the board of trustees of The Alabama Polytechnic Institute, and the great seal of the State of Alabama or a facsimile thereof shall be impressed, printed or otherwise reproduced thereon and shall be attested by the signature of the Secretary of State; provided, that facsimile signatures of any one or any two (but not all) of said officers may be reproduced on any of such bonds in lieu of being manually signed thereon. Coupons attached to the bonds and representing installments of interest thereon shall be signed with the facsimile signature of the State Treasurer, which facsimile signature shall constitute due and sufficient authentication of said coupons.

"All bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment, together with the interest income thereon, shall forever be exempt from taxation in this State.

"The provisions of this amendment shall be self-executing and authorization from or other action of the Legislature shall not be a prerequisite to the issuance of bonds hereunder."

"The State of Alabama is authorized to become indebted for building, construction and improvement purposes at the University of Alabama Medical Center, in Birmingham, and in evidence of the indebtedness so incurred to sell and issue, in addition to all other bonds of the State, interest-bearing general obligation bonds of the State not exceeding four million five hundred thousand dollars in principal amount. The bonds shall be general obligations of the State of Alabama and the full faith and credit and taxing power of the State are hereby pledged to the prompt and faithful payment of the principal of the bonds and the interest thereon. The proceeds from the sale of such bonds are hereby appropriated and shall be used exclusively for the acquisition of lands adjacent to the University of Alabama Medical Center, in Birmingham, and to provide funds to be used to match federal funds granted by the National Institute of Health of the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare for construction and equipment of a medical research building and to match federal funds granted under the Hill-Burton Act for the construction and equipment of a nurses' home at the Medical Center; provided that the expenses incurred in connection with the sale and issuance of the bonds may also be paid from such proceeds.

"The Board of Trustees of the University of Alabama is hereby vested with full authority, except as limited herein, to provide the terms of the bonds and to provide for the sale and issuance thereof. The bonds may be sold, executed and delivered at any time and from time to time, may be in such forms, denominations, series and numbers, may be of such tenor and maturities, may bear such date of dates, may be in registered or bearer form either as to principal or interest or both with rights of conversion into another form, may be payable in such installments and at such place or places, may bear interest at such rate or rates payable and evidenced in such manner, and may contain provisions for redemption at the option of the state to be exercised by said board at such date or dates prior to their maturity and upon payment of such redemption price or prices, all as shall be provided by the said board in the resolution or resolutions whereunder the bonds are issued. The principal of each series of bonds shall mature in annual installments in such amounts as shall be specified in the resolution or resolutions of the said board under which they are issued, the first of which installments shall mature not later than one year after the date of the bonds of such series and the last of which installments shall mature not later than twetny years after the date of the bonds of the same series. When each series of bonds is issued, the maturities of the bonds of that series shall, to such extent as may be practicable, be so arranged that during each then succeeding fiscal year of the state the aggregate installments of the principal and interest that will mature on all bonds that will be outstanding hereunder, immediately following the issuance of the bonds of that series, will be substantially equal; provdied, that the determination by the said board that the requirements of this sentence have been complied with shall be conclusive of such compliance and the purchasers of the bonds with respect to which such determination is made and all subsequent holders thereof shall be fully protected thereby. None of the bonds shall be sold for less than face value plus accrued interest thereon to the date of delivery, and all of the bonds shall be sold only at public sale or sales either on sealed bids or at public auction, after such advertisement as may be prescribed by the said board to the bidder whose bid reflects the lowest net interest cost to the state computed to the respective maturities of the bonds sold; provided, that if no bid deemed acceptable by the said board is received all bids may be rejected.

"The bonds shall be signed in the name of the State by the Governor and countersigned by the president pro tem pore of the Board of Trustees of the University of Alabama and the great seal of the State of Alabama or a facsimile thereof shall be impressed, printed or otherwise reproduced thereon and shall be attested by the signature of the Secretary of State; provided that facsimile signatures of any one or any two (but not all) of said officers may be reproduced on such bonds in lieu of their manually signing the same. Coupons attached to the bonds and representing installments of interest thereon shall be signed with the facsimile signature of the State Treasurer, which facsimile signature is hereby adopted as due and sufficient authentication of said coupons.

"All bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment, together with the interest income thereon, shall forever be exempt from taxation in this State.

"The proceeds from the sale of bonds hereby authorized, after the payment of all expenses of the sale thereof shall be set apart in a special trust fund in the State Treasury to be designated The University of Alabama Medical Center Bond Fund; and such proceeds shall be used solely for the purposes, hereinabove enumerated, for which the bonds are authorized to be issued; provided that the plans and specifications for any building constructed with moneys from said special fund shall be approved by the Alabama Building Commission or any agency designated by the Legislature as its successor.

"The provisions of this amendment shall be self-executing and no further authorization from the Legislature shall be a prerequisite to the validity of any bonds issued hereunder."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957 in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery on this the 15th day of October 1957.

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months from the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 17, 1957, and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"The bonds issued hereunder, together with the bonds now or hereafter outstanding under authority of Amendment XVIII, proposed by Acts 1923, page 594, and proclaimed ratified November 15, 1924 (Proclamation Record page 107) and Amendment C, proposed by Acts 1953, page 436, and proclaimed ratified December 28, 1953 (Proclamation Record, Volume I, page [illegible]), together with redemption premiums thereon, shall be payable from the funds heretofore and hereafter derived from the proceeds of the tax at such rate or rates not exceeding one-half of one per centum of the assessed value of the property situated in the county which may from time to time be levied and which has been levied under Amendment XVIII and also from the proceeds of any tax or taxes levied under this Amendment, and the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners or other governing body of Mobile County is hereby vested with full authority to continue to levy a tax in the amount authorized by said Amendment XVIII, until all bonds issued pursuant to this amendment have been paid in full or provision for such payment made without again submitting the question of levying such tax and issuing such bonds to the qualified voters of Mobile County.

"The proceeds from each sale of any of the bonds shall, after payment of the expenses of issuing the same, be covered into the county treasury and set apart therein in a special trust fund to be designated the 'Public School Bond Fund.' The money paid into such fund shall be disbursed to the custodian of county school funds, and shall be used solely for the acquisition of public school sites, for the construction, reconstruction, alteration [illegible] ment of public school buildings, for the procurement of equipment therefor, and for payment of obligations incurred for any of such purposes in Mobile County.

"The Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners or other governing body of Mobile County is hereby vested with full authority except as limited herein, to provide the terms of the bonds and to provide for the sale and issuance thereof; and such county governing body is hereby specifically authorized to pledge to the payment of such bonds so much of the proceeds of any tax hereinbefore or hereafter levied pursuant to Amendment XVIII, which has not already been pledged to the payment of other bonds of the county, and so much of the proceeds of any tax levied pursuant to this amendment as are needed for the payment of the bonds hereby authorized. The bonds may be sold, executed and delivered at any time and from time to time, may be in such forms, denominations, series and numbers, may be of such tenor and maturities, may bear such date or dates, may be in registered or bearer form either as to principal or interest or both with rights of conversion into another form, may be payable in such installments and at such place or places, may bear interest at such rate or rates payable and evidenced in such manner and may contain provisions for redemption at the option of Mobile County to be exercised by said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners or other governing body of Mobile County at such date or dates prior to their maturity and upon payment of such redemption price or prices, all as shall be provided by said county governing body in the resolution or resolutions whereunder the bonds are issued. The principal of each series of bonds shall mature in annual installmnets in such amounts as shall be specified in the resolution or resolutions of the said county governing body under which they were issued, the first of which installments shall mature not later than one year after the date of the bonds of such series and the last of which installments shall mature not later than twenty-five years after the date of the bonds of the same series. When each series of bonds is issued, the maturities of the bonds of that series shall, to such extent as may be practicable, be so arranged that during each then succeeding fiscal year of the county the aggregate installments of principal and interest that will mature on all bonds that will be outstanding hereunder, immediately following the issuance of the bonds of that series, will be substantially equal; provided, that the determination by the said county governing body that the requirements of this sentence have been complied with shall be conclusive of such compliance and the purchasers of the bonds with respect to which such determination is made and all subsequent holders thereof shall be fully protected by such determination. None of the bonds shall be sold for less than face value plus [illegible] the [illegible] all of the bonds [illegible] public or private sales, [illegible] public [illegible] as may be [illegible] governing [illegible] the bidder whose bid [illegible] net interest cost to the county [illegible] to the respective maturities of the bonds sold, provided, that if no bid deemed acceptable by the said county governing body is received all bids may be rejected.

"The bonds shall be signed in the name of the County of Mobile by the Chairman of the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioner or other presiding officer of the county governing body and shall be countersigned by the County Treasurer, and the seal of the county, if any, or a facsimile thereof, shall be impressed, printed or otherwise reproduced thereon and shall be attested by the signature of the clerk of the county governing body; provided that a facsimile of the signature of any one or any two (but not all) of the officers whose signatures appear on the bonds may be reproduced on any of the bonds in lieu of being manually signed thereon. Any coupons attached to the bonds and representing installments of interest thereon shall be signed with the facsimile signature of the chairman of the county governing body, which facsimile signature shall constitute sufficient authentication of said coupons.

"All bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment, together with the interest income therefrom, shall forever be exempt from all taxation in this State.

"The provisions of this amendment shall be self-executing, and authorization from or other action by the Legislature shall not be a prerequisite to the issuance of bonds hereunder; provided, however, that the Legislature may enact appropriate legislation not inconsistent with this amendment, respecting the use of the proceeds from the bonds and providing for the payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957 in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial, or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"7. To levy and collect, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special county privilege license tax or taxes of not exceeding one percent paralleling the state sales and use taxes imposed by Chapter 20 of Title 51, Code of Alabama (1940) as amended.

C. W. Stuart Co. Celebrates 105th Year of Service

The C. W. Stuart Company of Newark, New York State, has just celebrated its 105th year of continuous operation, making it one of the small handful of successful business organizations to accomplish this feat. The Stuart Company is one of the nation's largest distributors of quality plants, shrubs, and other nursery stock products.

President Bernald C. Bush pointed out this week that many of the company's present sales representatives are sons and grandsons of men who started with the organization more than a half-century ago. "We believe this — coupled with the many thousands of letters from satisfied customers — is the greatest testimonial any company could ask."

The C. W. Stuart Company is beginning an intensive recruiting and training program throughout the country this month.

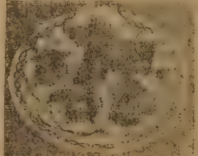
Norse Kipper Fish Balls



Delicious, lightly smoked, moist kippers from Norway, caught in the cold mineral rich waters of the fjords, have a distinctive flavor all their own. They are ideal in salads, canapes, sandwiches and a wide variety of hot main meal dishes. What's more, Norway kippers are decidedly economical and are packed in easy to open aluminum cans. Here's a Norway kipper recipe suggestion which will add zest at party time.

Ingredients: 4 (3¼ oz.) cans Norway kippers; 4 large potatoes; 2 eggs, beaten; 2 [illegible] butter; flour; salt, pepper to taste.

Cook potatoes in salt water. When tender, drain and mash. Drain the juice from the Norway kippers and add to potatoes. Cut kippers into small pieces and add to potatoes with eggs, butter, salt and pepper. Blend thoroughly. Form into balls, roll in flour and fry in deep fat (5 to 6 minutes) until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper and serve hot. Yield: 80 to 90 kipper balls.

THIS controlling speed by radar [illegible] the local driving public on their [illegible], and the teenagers are having a field day". Seems a lot of the adults are getting citations and the teenagers are giving the older drivers a lesson in safe driving—none have been caught up to date. One mother got caught exceeding the speed limit the other day and her young son called her in and said: "Come here Mother and have a seat, I want to talk to you".

CLANTON Quick Freeze makes good sausage. Don't tell this to Cohen and Lillie Stapp, but some women from Greenville the other day stopped by a local cafe on their way to Birmingham and got one of the employees there to order 10 pounds of the Chilco product and have it there for them when they returned on their way home. You know the old saying: if a man build a better hunk of sausage. . .

AND about this fellow who was late for work. He called the office and told his boss: "Boss, I have only ten minutes to get to work on time, and you know about this radar". Yep, he was late!

DID you hear about the lady who waited for her husband to pick her up after work? As the minutes ticked by she grew angrier and angrier and finally when he didn't show up after an hour she caught a bus home as mad as a wet hen. She stormed in the front door and demanded "Why didn't you come after me?" The husband looked up from the evening paper and replied, "You had the car, dear."

IN CASE you haven't started, it's time to do your Christmas hinting.

FRIENDS of Mr. Mally White will be glad to learn that he is doing much better and will return home within the next week or ten days. Mr. White has, you know been confined to a Birmingham hospital for the past several months.

DECEMBER 12th is the last day for voting absentee in the December 17th election. Mrs. C. Dele Cobb says she will be in her office all day Saturday and may be called at her home Sunday by anyone who wishes to vote an absentee ballot. So if your work calls you out of town on election day and your only chance to mark an absentee ballot is Saturday or Sunday, Mrs. Cobb is willing to accomodate.

COLORED WOMAN THREATENS GROCERY CLERK WITH BUTCHER KNIFE

EFFIE CAMPBELL caused much excitement at Pig's Grocery late Monday afternoon when she rushed into the store with a knife and reportedly tried to attack one of the clerks.

Jack Meek was on the register at the front door when the Negro woman entered with the knife and took out after him. He ran through the store to try to keep out of her way and back out the front door.

In the meantime Lewis (Pig) Headley, owner, saw the commotion and went to the sidewalk to protect his clerk.

Eye witnesses report that the woman then turned on "Pig" and he fired two shots from a pistol into the ground to scare the woman.

This seemed to sober her enough so that she caused no further trouble until officers arrived.

She is being held at County Jail charged with assault with attempt to murder.

IT'S A MAN, A PLANE, NO IT'S A PARACHUTE!

RUMOR persists about a man bailing out in a parachute in the Refuge Community last week, but the truth is—there was no "fatal accident" or excitement. A crash crew came up from Montgomery's Maxwell Field to help the Sheriff's forces search for a man, a plane, or a parachute.

What they found was the small "brake" parachute carried by some jet planes. It had apparently fallen off in flight and thus the tal of a rumor

No accident, no excitement to speak o —just a parachute.

A GOOD SEASON TO "SCATTER A LITTLE BRIGHT SUNSHINE"

IF YOU WOULD like to scatter a little sunshine and make some people very happy take time to go out to the Nursing Home and spend a little while with the people there. Talk with them, read for them, write a letter for them, to one of their loved ones far away, or have prayer with them.

You see, they are people who have spent their younger years, doing such things as this for others, and now they are tired and body worn, but not spiritually weary by any means.

They can make you feel better by just having visited with them.

They are from different cities and they need to make new friends. They are residents of the Chilton County Nursing Home and the folks in authority welcome you to come out for a visit.

Those who live in this lovely, very hospitable home at the present time include: Mr. and Mrs. Willis Williams, Mrs. Mattie Mason, Mrs Lattie Parrish, Mrs. Belle Wade Mrs. Lela Culp, Mrs. Genie Collins Mrs. Nora Headley, Mrs. Lillie Stokes, Mr. James Fancher, Mr Monroe Mims and Mr. James Stephens.

Go to see them! They need your visit!

ALABAMA AMERICAN LEGION IS PIONEERING UNIQUE MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

THE ALABAMA Department of e American Legion, on December 1957 initiated perhaps the fairest, well as the most unusual, contest ver to be conducted, and one which will bear great resemblance to the [illegible] of the rejected lover who [illegible]d on his horse and rode in every direction.

State Legion Officials began early Wednesday morning, Dec. 4th, an "Endless Chain" Membership Drive, which will cover every nook and cranny of Alabama before it is ended eight days later.

Three fast, but safe-driving cars bearing the Endless Chain" identification on top and manned by [illegible]erg-hatted State Commander [illegible] H. (Marshall Dillon) Wiehand [illegible] Vice Commander Robert ([illegible] of Cochise) Wilder and Ad[illegible] E. Lawson M. (Cheyenne) Lynn, will take off to cover an "every post itenerary" on a schedule so carefully planned that minutes are split to meet it.

Each of the three cars will add to their passenger lists as the home communities of the District and Area officials are reached, and it is predicted that the greatest number of Legion Officials and membership workers in history will be engaged in the solicitation of membership dues in the course of these eight days.

To instill the incentive for competition in the "Endless Chain" drive, a clever and unique plan has been devised whereby every Post and every Legionnaire will be in automatic competition for a cash prize of $100.00. Every membership card collected from every Post will be deposited in a locked cage in the "Endless Chain" automobiles at the time such car visits the city or town. These cards will be deposited in the cage by a representative of each local Post, then all cards will be [illegible] on December 12th when the cars have reached State Headquarters in Montgomery.

On Friday, December 13, one card will be drawn from the cage in which all cards are consolidated, and the person to whom that card is issued will receive $100.00.

If that person looked up a Legion Post official and voluntarily paid his dues, he will receive $200.00. If the Post to which the winning Legionnaire belongs is over its 1958 quota, it will receive $100.00 cash, if not, it will receive $50.00; and the veteran who asked for and collected the dues of the winning Legionnaire will also receive $100.00.

Look for the Sheriff, the Marshall and Cheyenne in your town during the time between December 4th and December 12th.

AT COUNTY AGENTS'—

FARMERS NEW TAX GUIDE IS NOW AVAILABLE

THE FARMER'S 1957 tax guide is now available to growers over the state.

Farmers may receive the guide from their county agents. However, according to reports, it is essential that you act now because Internal Revenue Service officers can only send out these forms to farmers who have requested them.

The farmer's knowledge and understanding of expenses, depreciations and other tax deductions explained in the guides can save him money. It is evident that every farmer wants to know how to manage his farm so he won't have to pay more than his fair share of taxes.

The correct method of making out a farm record will also prove useful to the farmer, both for management purposes and income reports for taxes and social security.

The guide is very much like the 1956 edition, however, the changes and revisions that have been made will be of great benefit to the farmer.

Since it is impossible for the county agent to make out individual tax returns for farmers, the grower can help himself by knowing how to assemble and use information about his farm business.

STATE OF ALABAMA
A PROCLAMATION
GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama at the Regular Session 1957, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that the said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months from the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months from the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 17, 1957; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"The bonds issued hereunder, together with the bonds now or hereafter outstanding under authority of Amendment XVIII, proposed by Acts 1923, page 594, and proclaimed ratified November 15, 1924 (Proclamation Record D., page 107) and Amendment C, proposed by Acts 1953, page 436, and proclaimed ratified December 28, 1953 (Proclamation Record, Volume I, page 144), together with redemption premiums thereon, shall be payable from any funds heretofore and hereafter derived from the proceeds of the tax at such rate or rates not exceeding one-half of one per centum of the assessed value of the property situated in the county which may from time to time be levied and which has been levied under Amendment XVIII and also from the proceeds of any tax or taxes levied under this Amendment; and the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners or other governing body of Mobile County is hereby vested with full authority to continue to levy a tax in the amount authorized by said Amendment XVIII, until all bonds issued pursuant to this amendment have been paid in full, or provision for such payment made, without again submitting the question of levying such tax and issuing such bonds to the qualified voters of Mobile County.

"The proceeds from each sale of any of the bonds shall, after payment of the expenses of issuing the same, be covered into the county treasury and set apart therein in a special trust fund to be designated the 'Public School Bond Fund.' The money paid into such fund shall be disbursed to the custodian of county school funds, and shall be used solely for the acquisition of public school sites, for the construction, reconstruction, alteration and improvement of public school building facilities, for the procurement of equipment therefor, and for payment of obligations incurred for any of such purposes in Mobile County.

"The Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners or other governing body of Mobile County is hereby vested with full authority except as limited herein, to provide the terms of the bonds and to provide for the sale and issuance thereof and such county governing body is hereby specifically authorized to pledge to the payment of such bonds so much of the proceeds of any tax heretofore or hereafter levied pursuant to Amendment XVIII, which has not already been pledged to the payment of other bonds of the county, and so much of the proceeds of any tax levied pursuant to this amendment as are needed for the payment of the bonds hereby authorized. The bonds may be sold, executed and delivered at any time and from time to time, may be in such forms, denominations, series and numbers, may be of such tenor and maturities, may bear such date or dates, may be in registered or bearer form either as to principal or interest or both with rights of conversion into another form, may be payable in such installments and at such place or places, may bear interest at such rate or rates payable and evidenced in such manner and may contain provisions for redemption at the option of Mobile County to be exercised by said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners or other governing body of Mobile County at such date or dates prior to their maturity and upon payment of such redemption price or prices, all as shall be provided by said county governing body in the resolution or resolutions whereunder the bonds are issued. The principal of each series of bonds shall mature in annual installmnets in such amounts as shall be specified in the resolution or resolutions of the said county governing body under which they were issued, the first of which installments shall mature not later than one year after the date of the bonds of such series and the last of which installments shall mature not later than twenty-five years after the date of the bonds of the same series. When each series of bonds is issued, the maturities of the bonds of that series shall, to such extent as may be practicable, be so arranged that during each then succeeding fiscal year of the county the aggregate installments of principal and interest that will mature on all bonds that will be outstanding hereunder, immediately following the issuance of the bonds of that series, will be substantially equal; provided, that the determination by the said county governing body that the requirements of this sentence have been complied with shall be conclusive of such compliance and the purchasers of the bonds with respect to which such determination is made and all subsequent holders thereof shall be fully protected by such determination. None of the bonds shall be sold for less than face value plus accrued interest thereon to the date of delivery, and all of the bonds shall be sold only at public sale or sales, either on sealed bids or at public auction, after such advertisement as may be prescribed by the said county governing body, to the bidder whose bid reflects the lowest net interest cost to the county computed to the respective maturities of the bonds sold, provided, that if no bid deemed acceptable by the said county governing body is received all bids may be rejected.

"The bonds shall be signed in the name of the County of Mobile by the Chairman of the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioner or other presiding officer of the county governing body and shall be countersigned by the County Treasurer, and the seal of the county, if any, or a facsimile thereof, shall be impressed, printed or otherwise reproduced thereon and shall be attested by the signature of the clerk of the county governing body; provided that a facsimile of the signature of any one or any two (but not all) of the officers whose signatures appear on the bonds may be reproduced on any of the bonds in lieu of being manually signed thereon. Any coupons attached to the bonds and representing installments of interest thereon shall be signed with the facsimile signature of the chairman of the county governing body, which facsimile signature shall constitute sufficient authentication of said coupons.

"All bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment, together with the interest income therefrom, shall forever be exempt from all taxation in this State.

"The provisions of this amendment shall be self-executing, and authorization from or other action by the Legislature shall not be a prerequisite to the issuance of bonds hereunder; provided, however, that the Legislature may enact appropriate legislation, not inconsistent with this amendment, respecting the use of the proceeds from the bonds and providing for the payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957 in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery on this the 15th day of October 1957.

"Any provision of the constitution or laws of the state of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, Bullock County shall have full and continuing power and authority to do any one or more of the following, provided that such action is first approved by a majority of the qualified electors of the county who vote at an election held for such purpose.

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association or corporation.

Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 9 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the county or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special county privilege license tax or taxes of not exceeding one percent paralleling the state sales and use taxes imposed by Chapter 20 of Title 51, Code of Alabama (1940) as amended.

"8. "9. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"10. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of Bullock County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the judge of probate or the secretary of state, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon the county.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. Holiday Breads Are Traditional Favorites

DURING THE HOLIDAY SEASON, even bread is transformed into a festive looking treat that can easily double as a dessert. Sugar Information, Inc. has prepared a recipe for Bohemian Twist—filled with fruits and nuts, and topped with a creamy icing—that will dress up any meal during the coming season, from breakfast right on through to an evening snack.

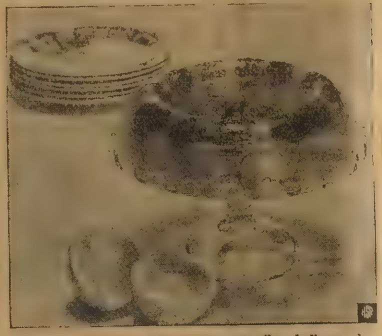
BOHEMIAN TWIST

1 cup milk	2½-3 cups sifted flour
½ cup sugar	½ cup raisins
½ teaspoon salt	½ cup chopped blanched almonds
¼ cup melted butter	2 tablespoons candied lemon peel
2 eggs, well beaten
1 envelope dry yeast

Scald milk, sugar, salt and butter together in a saucepan. Pour into large bowl, let stand until lukewarm. Blend in eggs and yeast; mix until yeast is dissolved. Stir in enough flour to make a soft dough; cover and set aside for 20 minutes.

Turn out on floured board and knead until dough isn't sticky. Knead in raisins, almonds, and lemon peel. Divide dough into 4 ropes about 12 inches long. Join ends at top; twist a pair of ropes together and press, side by side. Place on greased cooky sheet; let rise until double in bulk. Brush with melted butter. Bake at 350°F. for 55-60 minutes. Cool. Spread bread with butter icing, using 4 cups confectioners' sugar, 4 tablespoons cream and 1 teaspoon Vanilla flavoring. Decorate with blanched almond slivers and cherry halves.

Dessert Dividend for Dieters



Counting calories? Sharpen up your pencil and discover how we've subtracted 96 calories from each serving of this delightful sherry dessert jelly. Simply by eliminating all of the sugar normally used in the recipe, and using instead the non-caloric sweetener. Sucaryl, we've reduced the calorie count of this lovely dessert from 180 calories per serving to just 84. Mighty sweet figuring, don't you agree!

Best part is, you just can't taste the difference. For this sweetener gives cooked and baked foods a natural, sugar-like flavor—without adding a single calorie. Easy to use, too. Just mix it right in with the other ingredients.

For pretty party fare, mold the jelly in a ring mold with Sucaryl-sweetened cooked prunes arranged in the bottom of the mold. When firmly set, unmold and garnish the center of the ring with a bouquet of fragrant mint leaves. Be sure to tell your guests they can enjoy this sweet and lovely dessert with an easy conscience. (You'll have to tell them, for they'd never guess that all this deliciousness adds up to so few calories!)

Prunes in Jelly

12 small prunes	3 envelopes plain gelatin
1 cup water	½ cup cold water
1 tablespoon Sucaryl solution or 24 Sucaryl tablets	1 cup sherry
	2 cups orange juice

Combine prunes, 1 cup of water and Sucaryl in small saucepan; cook over medium heat until prunes are soft. Drain prunes, reserving liquid. Pit prunes and place in bottom of a 1½-quart oiled ring mold. Soften gelatin in ½ cup cold water. Combine sherry, orange juice and the hot prune liquid. Add to the softened gelatin, stirring until gelatin dissolves. When slightly thickened, pour over prunes in ring mold. Chill until set.

Makes 8 servings. Each serving contains 84 CALORIES; 39 grams protein; 0.1 gram fat; 12.1 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 180 CALORIES.

"The State of Alabama is authorized to become indebted for building, construction and improvement purposes at The Aalbama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn, and in evidence of the indebtedness so incurred to sell and issue, in addition to all other bonds of the State, interest bearing general obligation bonds of the State not exceeding four million five hundred thousand dollars ($4,500,000) in principal amount. The bonds shall be general obligations of the State of Alabama and the full faith and credit and taxing power of the State are hereby pledged to the prompt and faithful payment of the principal of the bonds and the interest thereon. The proceeds from the sale of any such bonds shall, after payment of the expenses of their issuance, be set apart in a special fund in the state treasury to be designated the 'Alabama Polytechnic Institute Building Bond Fund'; and such proceeds shall be used exclusively for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, and improvement of college building facilities; including the acquisition of sites and equipment for such facilities, for use by the School of Agriculture, the Agricultural Experiment Station, and the School of Veterinary Medicine of The Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn, provided, that the plans and specifications for any building constructed with money from said special fund shall be approved by the Alabama Building Commission or any agency designated by the Legislature as its successor.

"The Board of Trustees of The Alabama Polytechnic Institute is hereby vested with full authority, except as limited herein, to provide the terms of the bonds and to provide for the sale and issuance thereof. The bonds may be sold, executed and delivered at any time and from time to time, may be in such forms, denominations, series and numbers, may be of such tenor and maturities, may bear such date or dates, may be in registered or bearer form either as to principal or interest or both with rights of conversion into another form, may be payable in such installments and at such place or places, may bear interest at such rate or rates payable and evidenced in such manner, and may contain provisions for redemption at the option of the state to be exercised by said board at such date or dates prior to their maturity and upon payment of such redemption price or prices, all as shall be provided by the said board in the resolution or resolutions whereunder the bonds are issued. The principal of each series of bonds shall mature in annual installments in such amounts as shall be specified in the resolution or resolutions of the said board under which they are issued, the first of which installments shall mature not later than one year after the date of the bonds of such series and the last of which installments shall mature not later than twenty years after the date of the bonds of the same series. When each series of bonds is issued, the maturities of the bonds of that series shall, to such extent as may be practicable, be so arranged that during each then succeeding fiscal year of the state the aggregate installments of principal and interest that will mature on all bonds that will be outstanding hereunder, immediately following the issuance of the bonds of that series will be substantially equal, provided that the determination by the said board that the requirements of this sentence have been complied with shall be conclusive of such compliance and the purchasers of the bonds with respect to which such determination is made and all subsequent holders thereof shall be fully protected by such determination. None of the bonds shall be sold for less than face value plus accrued interest thereon to the date of delivery, and all of the bonds shall be sold only at public sale or sales, either on sealed bids or at public auction, after such advertisement as may be prescribed by the said board, to the bidder whose bid reflects the lowest net interest cost to the state computed to the respective maturities of the bonds sold; provided, that if no bid deemed acceptable by the said board is received all bids may be rejected.

"The bonds shall be signed in the name of the State by the Governor and countersigned by the president pro tempore of the board of trustees of The Alabama Polytechnic Institute, and the great seal of the State of Alabama or a facsimile thereof shall be impressed, printed or otherwise reproduced thereon and shall be attested by the signature of the Secretary of State; provided, that facsimile signatures of any one or any two (but not all) of said officers may be reproduced on any of such bonds in lieu of being manually signed thereon. Coupons attached to the bonds and representing installments of interest thereon shall be signed with the facsimile signature of the State Treasurer, which facsimile signature shall constitute due and sufficient authentication of said coupons.

"All bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment, together with the interest income thereon, shall forever be exempt from taxation in this State.

"The provisions of this amendment shall be self-executing and authorization from or other action of the Legislature shall not be a prerequisite to the issuance of bonds hereunder."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957 in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

"In addition to all taxes now or hereafter authorized by the Constitution and laws of Alabama, Russell County shall have the power to levy and collect a special county-wide school tax of eight mills on each dollar's worth of taxable property in Russell County, the proceeds of which shall be used exclusively for public school purposes; provided that such tax and the purpose or purposes thereof, and the time such tax is proposed to be continued, shall have been first submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of the county and voted for by a majority of those voting at such election. The special tax provided for herein may be renewed from time to time, in the maner provided herein, for such periods of time as are necessary. If any proposal to levy the tax is defeated in any election, subsequent elections thereon may be held at any time. The elections provided for herein shall be called, held, conducted, paid for, and governed otherwise in the manner provided for an election on the school district tax authorized in Amendment III Article XIX of the Constitution of Alabama, by Article 7, Chapter 10, Title 52, Code of Alabama (1940). The tax collector shall distribute the proceeds of this special tax in such manner as to turn over to the custodian of the county school funds of Russell County the revenue derived from the tax levied on all taxable property situated outside the corporate limits of Phenix City, such revenues to be used by the county board of education for educational purposes in connection with schools located or to be located outside the corporate limits of Phenix City, and to turn over to the custodian of school funds of the city school system of Phenix City the revenue derived from the tax levied on all taxable property situated within the corporate limits of Phenix City, such revenues to be used by the city board of education for educational purposes in conection with schools located or to be located within the corporate limits of Phenix City.

"In the event that any special property tax authorized herein shall be authorized by a majority of the qualified electors voting on the question at the eelction, the county board of education of Russell County and the city board of education of Phenix City may, at such times as to them seem necessary and proper, sell and issue their tax anticipation bonds for the purposes for which the tax was authorized, which bonds shall be in such amounts as the respective board of education shall designate and, except as othewise provided herein, shall be subject to the provisions of the general laws now pertaining to the issuance by county and city boards of education of capital outlay warrants, and no further election shall be required for the issuance of such bonds. The revenue derived from the sale of these bonds shall be expended by the county board of education and the Phenix City board of education for public school purposes only. Any bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall be payable solely out of the proceeds of the special property tax hereby authorized, all or any part of which may be pledged therefor. The bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall constitute negotiable instruments, although payable from a limited source, and shall be eligible for the investment of trust funds The bonds shall not constitute general obligations of the county and shall be in addition to all other bonds or warrants which the county or city boards of education have heretofore issued or are authorized to issue under the Constitution and laws of Alabama."

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

SUCCESS CAN BE A HABIT

Have you noticed that there are some people who seem to have the habit of succeeding in whatever they do? In fact, each success seems to lead to another success and that success seems to make the next achievement easier Well that is absolutely true Success can become a habit and each one can make it easier to succeed again

The Bible tells us. "Unto everyone that hath shall be given and he shall have abundance" The truth is that the man who succeeds carries within himself an inner assurance that he will succeed again Each past success helps strengthen his confidence. I can think of only one exception to this rule. It is a man who became known as the Great Emancipator Had he let his failures stop him he would not have achieved the great successes in life that he did Here are some of his failures to mention only a few Eight times he was defeated for public office. once he failed in business. he suffered a nervous breakdown, and for 23 years endured an unhappy marriage Only did he enjoy success intermittently But with every defeat or failure he arose. dusted himself off. and tried again At the end of the road his reward was waiting. for in 1860 he was elected president of the United States. His motto was: "With God's help. I cannot fail." That man was Abraham Lincoln, the Great Emancipator.

But others think along this line: "I've tried this once before but I failed More than likely I will fail again." And there may be those who encourage them in this attitude by reminding them of their past failures.

Do not discuss your failures with others or let it come into your mind to even think of failing. First of all, decide on something that is good that you wish to do and by all means allow nothing, absolutely nothing to stop you Then crown this success with another until you form the habit of succeeding

I am reminded of a portion of a poem that has a simple but pungent message: If you come to a place that you can't go through, or over or under, the thing to do is to find a way around this impassable wall. Don't say, "I'll go my way or not at all." If the mountains are high, go through the valley. If the streets are blocked, go up an alley. If the parlor car is crowded, don't scorn a freight. If the front door is locked, go around to the side gate. To reach your goal in life this advice is good I've found. If you can't go over or under, go around. But with God's help. we can't go under for going over.

This is, however, a vital secret that you need to know God wants you to be a winner and He will help you. Ask His guidance and He will give it. There is no way to fail if you trust Him Remember. success is yours You may climb the ladder one step at a time. but "success" can be a habit. You can do all things through Christ.

Dialdehyde Starch—

New Tanning Agent Showing Great Promise In U. S.

EVERYONE knows that corn is fine for raising livestock, but now corn is being used on the animals after they are dead, also.

A new corn product developed by U. S. Department of Agriculture utilization researchers is being used to help turn animals' hides into new and superior types of leather.

Researchers believe the product—dialdehyde starch—will produce garment and glove leathers with unique properties. The starch would also offer definite economic advantages—such as enabling the U.S. to produce its own tanning agents.

At present, we import all of our tanning agents—240 million pounds per year—from other countries. Chrome ore, the source of a chrome chemically used over the world to tan light leathers, is imported from Africa and other parts of the world.

Vegetable tannings from bark and wood—used primarily for tanning shoe soles and upholstery—come from South America, Africa, France, and Italy.

Another advantage of having a tanning agent from this domestic crop that is always available is that it presents some new possibilities for leather use.

For instance, dialdehyde starch makes an off-white leather which would be easier to dye into pastel shades than would be chrome-tanned blue leather, say USDA specialists. Also, leather tanned with dialdehyde starch could be washed in soapy water without losing its tanning or becoming hard and inflexible.

JEMISON FFA PRESENTED WITH PUREBRED BULL

THE JEMISON FFA Chapter recently received a registered Hereford bull through the Sears, Roebuck and Co. Foundation.

The young bull is from some of the best blood lines in the State of Alabama according to L. C. Shields, Jemison FFA adviser

The animal will be used by the organization to improve the beef in the herds of the Jemison School Area.

The FFA members are busy getting a good pasture ready for the animal and at present they are feeding him a balanced ration in preparation for the show to be held during the State Fair in Birmingham next fall.

Harry Benson, local FFA President, states that any chapter that is planning to beat his chapter in the calf show will "have to get on the ball", because he expects his chapter to come away with the blue ribbon.

However, he did say his chapter wishes all others good luck in the competition.

A Salute to ETOWAH COUNTY
The Industrial "Giant" of Northeast Alabama

Located amid the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains, Etowah is the home of Alabama's second largest industrial center—the thriving City of Gadsden. Rich in natural resources and provided with an abundant water supply, Etowah has become one of the South's best developed industrial counties.

Among the more than 100 products manufactured by the county's diversified industries are steel, iron, textile, and rubber commodities, pottery, farm machinery, and countless other useful items. From its productive farm lands, cotton is Etowah's principal income crop.

The Brewing Industry, too, makes a large contribution each year to the prosperity of Alabama. In 1956, a total of $6,405,915 was paid by the Industry in state, county and municipal taxes. The fact that beer — the light, bright beverage of moderation — pays its way so handsomely helps keep your tax bill down.

Boon For Bouncing Big Babies Too:

Anemia due to lack of iron in the blood is widespread today among infants six to eighteen months of age, according to a panel of leading medical scientists meeting recently at the University of California.

Today's bigger, bouncier babies need more iron than the smaller babies of yesteryear did, the doctors say. By the time a big, fast-growing baby is six months old it may have used up the tiny but all-important store of iron it had at birth. The result, of course, is anemia. And the answer usually is extra supplies of iron, fast.

But in the past physicians have found it hard or impossible to get infants and children to take iron. Youngsters dislike nasty-tasting iron medicines and sometimes can't or won't keep them down. Besides, iron in medicines taken by mouth is frequently not absorbed by the body at all. On the other hand, transfusions and injections into the vein are normally undesirable and even risky, particularly for infants.

Now, however, medical science has come along with a solution to these problems: a new iron-dextran preparation called Imferon. With it, doctors now can safely inject iron into an infant's muscle with no pain or side effects. A recent report in Pediatrics, journal of the American Academy of Pediatrics, says that a series of three or four shots not only cures the iron deficiency but can give a baby all the iron it needs during its first year of robust life.

PRACTICALLY anything in the world can be made popular by passing laws against it.

THE easiest thing in the world to do is to make bad matters worse.

YOU seldom recognize your weaknesses until your bad habits have a firm hold upon you.

ANYTIME that business and pleasure are combined, it's business that gets the worst end of the deal.

A SELF-MADE man may have his faults, but he's still better than a machine-made politician.

YOU gotta have plenty of grit if you expect to leave your footprints in the sands of time.

TWO reasons for disharmony in the home are her love of drygoods and his love of wet goods.

IT'S TRUE that sympathy goes to the underdog, but a man's money usually goes on the top dog.

AUTOS BRIGHT IN '58----

NINETEEN-HUNDRED fifty eight, it appears, is to go down in automotive history as "the year of dazzle"!

Never before in the half-century of growing competition for every man's favor, has the industry provided as much gleam and glitter.

The reasons are two-fold: First, in the interest of promoting safety, the car builders have agreed to soft pedal horsepower claims and to emphasize styling. Second, the availability of stainless steel—the last word in bright metal that stays bright, that is easily worked and highly resistant to scratches and dents—provides just the encouragement needed to go all out on shiny trim.

We feel therefore, that it is encumbent upon us as a matter of public service to warn our readers to get out their sun glasses before they go car shopping—or even driving for that matter.

The automobile industry, for sure, is providing us with a bright outlook for 1958.

OUR RADAR STREETS----

RADAR EQUIPPED police cars caused much excitement and more condemnation the past week by our driving public.

It is a good thing. It is obvious that it made the driver speed conscious and caused us all to keep a closer watch on our speedometer.

But; it will only work and be of value to the public if every driver is treated alike. No favorites can be shown and no tickets destroyed. That is the only way respect for the law can be maintained.

Don't get us wrong. We are as guilty as the next one of letting the little needle glide slowly past the forty, the fifty and sometimes the sixty mark, when we are rushing here or there in our daily life. But, this does not mean that we are not willing to pay the fine if we have broken the law. We do not believe the majority of the mothers and fathers who have children going to and coming from school will agree that the radar controlled streets of our city is not a good thing. We all need to be cautioned now and then on our driving habits.

ELVIS PRESLEY WILL APPEAR AT CLANTON DRIVE-IN THEATRE ON SUNDAY, MONDAY AND TUESDAY NIGHTS, DECEMBER 15th, 16th and 17th

"LOVING YOU" IS SAID TO BE ELVIS AT HIS BEST.

... we will aye be true to thee;

Our memorable State song reminds us that on December 14, 138 years ago one of the greatest states in the U. S. was born---the State of Alabama.

Our State has come a long way since that time, but it still stands for what it was born to preserve, the rights, freedoms and liberty of its citizens.

DECEMBER 14, 1957 is the 138th Birthday of Alabama. A magic Alabama! An Alabama with a turbulent history---but with a heart as soft as "Southern Hospitality".

Alabama's flag has come through several wars and has given native sons in two world wars to preserve our hertage. The flag is a field of white with a Saint Stephens Cross, the bars of red crossing in the center.

Her coat of arms is striking. Adopted in 1939 it has on its shield the emblems of five governments that have held sovereignty over her for the past 400 years: Spain, France, England, the United States, the Confederate States and again the United States of America. The shield is supported on either side by eagles, symbolic of courage and strength. The crest is a ship, similar to the ones used in Bienville's time.

"We dare defend our rights" with the Goldenrod, the state flower and the Yellow Hammer, the bird symbol.

Alabama owes its name to the Alibimo Indians and most of its rivers and towns have an Indian heritage in their names.

Alabama boasts a God-fearing, home and family-loving peoples, who will defend their State to the last man in any instance. Instilled in their hearts is the spirit of this great Land of ours. Proud they are to be Americans and prouder still to have the privilege of being a part of "Alabama, Alabama. . . All I have and am are thine. . . Take and serve thyself with me. . . I will e'er be true to thee."

IT'S MY OPINION—

AN OLD-FASHIONED CHRISTMAS IS THE BEST

P-L-E-ASE, DON'T CHANGE OUR CHRISTMAS

By BOB TUCKER

THE SEASON fast overtaking us is Christmas. It has always, and we hope, will always be, the symbol and the celebration of peace, love and good will in the world.

And though the world changes down through the years these three things: peace, love and good will remain constant and do not change in their generous meanings.

We, therefore, are of the opinion that an old-fashioned Holy Christmas is the best Christmas and we are in determined and complete disagreement with those who would change Christmas and modernize it. To our way of thinking, it's almost sacrilegious.

We believe in the modern world with it's progress and invention, but we feel that Christmas, since it was not "invented" with its old hymns, carols, poems and prayers is one part of our lives that cannot be improved upon with our new inventions and "modern" ideas.

Some people seem to use the term "modern" rather loosely anyway.

It is true that some people have forgotten what the word Christmas really means. It's our opinion that the way to reinstate it in their minds and more important, their hearts, is to sing them an old carol or hymn or recite the Christmas story from the Old Bible. Plain old down-to-earth Christmas — that's the way it was meant to be—for Jesus was born in a stable.

We want people to take their proper places on Christmas and in their pageants and glorifications of the season. Let us sing "Silent Night", "O Little Town Of Bethlehem" and "We Three Kings". These are the symbols of Christmas in all its glory, warmth and soul-stirring beauty that only songs, sung by thankful hearts can bring.

Would you change all of this?

We don't want our children to learn the Bible Stories of Christmas from some crackpot version set to modern music that is about as much like Christmas as the Fourth of July.

As we said, the Bible, which cannot be improved upon, is the best place to get the Christmas Story—the only place. Please, let's follow it in our Pageant themes and music this year and break away from this "Change Christmas Attitude". Don't let's ruin this beautiful season by letting "moderns" shove something at us that we don't really approve of. For heavenis sake, if you can't stand up for Christmas and all it means—what can you stand up for?

Modern methods are O.K., as long as they are confined to the kitchen and the laundryroom.

As far as we're concerned, this season of Christmas is the happiest, saddest, best time of the year. It's the most impressive to us to try and be a little better. And—the more old-fashioned the better!

And if we had it in our power to control the elements—we'd have snow on Christmas eve!

By C. WILSON HARDER

The Congressional Joint Committee on Reduction of Non Essential Federal Expenditures, headed by Sen. Harry Byrd, (Va.) and with Rep. Clarence Cannon, (Mo.) as vice chairman, is having a rough time of it.

C. W. Harder

In other words, they just can't seem to keep ahead of the constantly increasing federal payroll, let alone find out what over 3 million people on the federal payroll actually do to justify their salaries.

There has just been released a report by this committee on the subject of the number of government employees in July of this year, as compared to June of this year.

Interestingly enough, civilian employment in the Dept. of Defense dropped 1,278, employees outside the continental U. S. dropped 1,415, and employment in government industries dropped 2,471, while employment of foreign nationals dropped 4,995.

* * *

Thus, on this basis, it looked as if the committee could report some progress toward bringing economy to government.

But that does not prove out to be the facts, as civilian employment in the executive branch of the government, excluding the Defense Dept., jumped from June to July by a total of 7,552 persons. Thus, after taking allowances for reductions as already reported, forces of bureaucracy swelled 6,274 in one month.

Here, then, is a hard fact when consideration is given to a rumored drive to reduce taxes in next Congressional session.

The nation's independent businessmen, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, have made it clear time and again that a tax reduction is necessary to permit small business to lay aside enough from profits to compete. A special sub committee of the Senate Small Business Committee is making a nationwide tour gathering further evidence.

Yet, the big point remains. How can government continue to hire more and more people and still cut taxes. There are some silly situations.

For example, State Dept. employment dropped 182 between June and July. Yet the total employed by State Dept. of 33,805 in July includes the foreign give away officials. This activity showed an increase of 283 persons for a total of 11,732. Thus, a third of State Dept. is eng[illegible] in tossing billions [illegible] world.

Thus, some [illegible] inclined to [illegible] State Dept. means [illegible] how many [illegible]. It is also wondered if there is any coincidence that the State Dept. apparently curtailed [illegible] diplomatic corps, increa[illegible] foreign give away [illegible] prior to the Am[illegible] visit of the Queen of England.

So there are rumors of forthcoming tax cuts. But rumors have long been out concerning tax relief for small business. This was a platform plank of both parties last election.

Therefore, it appears to size up pretty much as follows.

There can be early tax cuts, and slashes in government spending, but it is going to depend on a great deal of activity by Congressional leaders who favor such moves, plus a lot of support for them.

Clanton Puts Cap On Season By Mauling Montevallo 39-0

By JERRY GRAY

THE NIGHT of Thanksgiving eve the Chilton County High Tigers capped o.f a very successful football season as they topped the Montevallo Bulldogs by an overwhelming score of 39 to 0. The Tigers 9th victory and 7th shut-out of the season.

The Tigers wasted no time in locking the game up, as Charlie Gray scampered across the goal line from the five to climax a 69 yard drive.

The remainder of the first quarter found the Tigers with their backs to the wall as Montevallo attempted to get into the score column on some devastating passes from quarterback Milt Terrill.

The Tigers found paydirt only once in the second quarter. This came when halfback James Knight received a punt on his own 34 and scampered 66 yards for a TD. The extra point was good, and at halftime the score was 13 to 0 in favor of Clanton.

The third quarter found the Tiger backfield making mincemeat of the Montevallo [illegible], and not doing bad [illegible] scored [illegible] more touchdowns.

Scoring TD's for the Tigers in the second half were Larry Culpepper from 6 yards and from the 2 yard line.

End Hershel Billingsley scored twice on passes from Charlie Gray.

When all the votes were in the tally sheet read CCHS 39, Montevallo 0.

CCHS	Statistics	Montevallo
5	Passes Attempted	4
3	Passes Completed	3
11	Passes Incpt. by	0
17	First Downs	9
0	Fumbles Lost	1
65	Yards Penalized	15
304	Rushing Yards	137
60	Passing Yards	51
364	Total Yards	188

This year the CCHS Tigers had one of the most successful seasons they have ever had and in each game they showed a fine spirit of good sportsmanship.

One might think that the Tigers had little competition this season, but the scores don't always tell the story. The game won by the most points could possibly have been the toughest.

C. W. Stuart Co. Celebrates 105th Year of Service

The C. W. Stuart Company of Newark, New York State, has just celebrated its 105th year of continuous operation, making it one of the small handful of successful business organizations to accomplish this feat. The Stuart Company is one of the nation's largest distributors of quality plants, shrubs, and other nursery stock products.

President Bernald C. Bush pointed out this week that many of the company's present sales representatives are sons and grandsons of men who started with the organization more than a half-century ago. "We believe this — coupled with the many thousands of letters from satisfied customers — is the greatest testimonial any company could ask."

The C. W. Stuart Company is beginning an intensive recruiting and training program throughout the country this month.

Sandbucket or Foam, Your Farm Needs Fire Extinguisher

YOUR FARM DOESN'T STAND CHANCE IN FIRE WITHOUT EQUIPMENT

The barn that is burning may be yours Mr. Farmer, or your next door neighbors. In such a case, do you have the proper equipment to satisfactorily control a blaze if it occurs in your barn or your farm home.

All farmers should take extra precautions and know what to do if a fire should break out on their land.

Because of the greater number of heating devices used in homes and farm buildings during cold weather, the threat of fire is greatest during this season. For this reason, fire extinguishers are a must for every farm, as they provide a practical and inexpensive means of reducing fire damage.

Fire extinguishers should be of sufficient capacity to control fires at their start. In many cases water, dirt and buckets of sand will smother a fire.

Portable commercial extinguishers should be of a type that can be refilled locally or on the farm.

Check them regularly to make sure they are ready for instant use. And teach every member of the family to use them.

It isn't wise to have only one type of extinguisher on the farm. There are several kinds of fire, each of which requires a different type of extinguisher. Smouldering fires take a lot of water. But water on an oil fire will spread the flame. And substances which conduct electricity can relay severe shock from an electrical fire.

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months from the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 17, 1957; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"Except as hereinafter limited, bonds which may be issued under the provisions of the amendment to the constitution which was proposed by Act No. 125 adopted at the First Special Session of the Legislature of 1956 and which was ratified by the electors at the general election held on November 6, 1956, and proclaimed ratified on November 15, 1956, may be executed and delivered from time to time in such forms, denominations, series and numbers, may be of such tenor and maturities, may bear such date or dates, may be in registered or bearer form either as to principal and interest or both with rights of conversion into another form, may bear interest at such rate or rates not exceeding 4% per annum payable semiannually and payable and evidenced in such manner, may contain provisions for redemption at the option of the state at such date or dates prior to their maturity and upon payment of such redemption price or prices, and may contain such other terms and conditions not inconsistent with the provisions hereof, all as may be provided in the order of the Governor providing for the issuance thereof which shall be made at the time of each sale of any of said bonds. When each series of said bonds is issued, the maturities of the bonds of that series shall, to such extent as may be practicable, be so arranged that during any then succeeding fiscal year of the state the aggregate installments of principal and interest that will mature on all of the said bonds that will be outstanding hereunder, immediately following the issuance of the bonds of that series, will be substantially equal; provided, that the determination in the order under which the bonds of such series are issued that the requirements of this sentence have been complied with shall be conclusive of such compliance and the purchasers of the bonds with respect to which such determination is made and all subsequent holders thereof shall be fully protected thereby. None of the said bonds shall be sold for less than face value plus accrued interest to the date of delivery, and all of the said bonds shall be sold only at public sale or sales, either on sealed bids or at public auction, after advertisement in a financial journal published in New York City at least one time not less than ten days prior to the date fixed for the sale, to the bidder whose bid reflects the lowest net interest cost to the state computed to the respective maturities of the bonds sold; provided, that if no bid deemed acceptable by the Governor is received all bids may be rejected."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957 in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

TREES...
a cash crop

America has many kinds of land—some best suited for cultivated crops like corn or cotton, some best for growing trees. Both kinds can produce regular cash crops year after year. If protected from fire, insects and disease and harvested wisely, America's 461 million acres of commercial forest land will always produce the wood this nation needs.

Wearable Used Clothes Make Welcome Gifts

HABIT ASKEW but it doesn't mean a thing, as this cheerful nun in Chile proudly carries used clothing to be distributed among the needy. The classroom is the scene of "try-ons" for mother and daughter, whose happiness is self-evident. The annual Catholic Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Collection appeal will be made in all Catholic churches to continue the program of distribution of wearable clothing, shoes, blankets, etc. among the needy in all parts of the world. Give to your local Catholic church.

The incidence of need in Chile is great. Currently, there are approximately two million people, the majority of them children, who are destitute. Through Catholic Relief Services-National Catholic Welfare Conference, the distribution agency of the American Bishops, clothing, surplus foods and medicines are being shipped to these people in the hope that the high mortality rate among the children can be cut down.

Ala. Farm Bureau Federation Endorses 5 Proposed Amend.

TO PROMOTE HEALTH, EDUCATION OF PEOPLE

MONTGOMERY—The Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, with nearly 70,000 member families, has officially endorsed five proposed constitutional amendments designed to promote the health, education and well being of the people. The five are among 25 subjects to be voted on at the special election December 17th.

Voting delegates from the 67 counties endorsed these five proposals during the 1957 annual convention:

No. 2—A $3,000,000 bond issue for building and improvement purposes at the Alabama Institute for Deaf and Blind, Talladega.

No. 3—For raising the authorized interest rate from 3 percent to 4½ percent on a $4,000,000 bond issue already ratified for buildings at state hospitals for mental deficients, but which have not been sold due to the low interest rate limitation.

No. 4—A $4,500,000 bond issue for buildings and improvements at University of Alabama Medical Center in Birmingham.

No. 5—A $4,500,000 bond issue for buildings and equipment for the School of Agriculture, Experiment Stations, and School of Veterinary Medicine at Auburn.

No. 6—To raise the authorized interest rate from 2½ to 4 percent on a $2,000,000 bond issue already authorized for hospitals, health centers, tuberculosis hospitals and related medical facilities.

Alabama FBF Pres. Walter L. Randolph said that efforts had been made for many years to get badly needed facilities at Auburn, but with only limited success. He pointed out that the Dec. 17 voting will provide opportunity for the people to solve the problem without additional taxation, since bonds will be retired out of current revenues.

Randolph said rural people also have an important stake in an expanded medical college, the Talladega school where scores of handicapped children are housed in outmoded and potentially dangerous facilities, the state mental institutions, and expanded local hospital facilities.

WHAT'LL I GIVE FOR CHRISTMAS? Oh-oh, it's that time again, time to start thinking about gifts to please the hard to please. If this is your problem, here's a good tip—extension phones in nine beautiful colors. Just one call to our Business Office and you can strike ever so many names from your list! We'll gift wrap and deliver before Christmas, or, if you prefer we can furnish gift certificates. And why not equip gift phones with extras, too: light-up dials, no-tangle spring cords, volume controls that let you tune up or down the voice of the person you're talking to. Try it! See if Merry Christmas phones won't wrap up a lot of your "what-to-give worries," make your shopping easier and put a smile on the face of those who receive them.

WHAT'S ON THE PROGRAM? Sometimes we wish we knew, especially when we're trying to get up something interesting for our clubs, school or church. We just wish someone would show up and say, "I've got a speaker and everything for you!" Well, that can happen. Your telephone company has a service that provides a wide variety of lectures, films and demonstrations by experienced speakers . . . all without charge. Check with me and I'll bet we can find quite a few good programs that will interest your group and can be conveniently scheduled.

AND CHARGE IT, PLEASE! That's what you can say to the operator when you have a Long Distance Credit Card. For salesmen and other folks who travel a good bit it's really handy because it can be used anywhere: in public phone booths, in a customer's office, at a friend's. The charges will be put on your home or office bill, whichever you like. Think you might like your own Long Distance Credit Card? Call us, and we'll fix you up.

WE learned with regret the passing of Jim Plott this week. Jim served four years as Representative from this County and gave us our splendid road department, he being the "daddy" of the bill and pushed it through the legislature. Without his work in his County's behalf we would never have accomplished the road system we now have.

A "THANK YOU" FROM JAYCEES

THE CLANTON Jaycees extend their thanks to each person who had a part in making the recent Christmas Parade a success. Special thanks go to the Clanton Garden Club, The Clanton Study Club, e Women's Study Club and to members of Beta Sigma Phi.

A D. HEADLEY ELECTED TO CO-OP BOARD

A.D. Headley of Collins Chapel Community was recently elected a member of the Board of Trustees of the Central Alabama Electric Cooperative. He replaces S. D. Deach of Verbena who resigned after serving on the Board for [illegible] ars.

Mr. Headley is well-known throughout Chilton County for his avid interest in horticulture. He operates a 338 acre farm and specializes in peaches and other fruits.

A native of Chilton County, he was born on a farm between Billingsley and Clanton and has farmed most of his lime; first helping his dad and later going into business for himself. He graduated from the Isabella High School in the class of 1936 and attended the Sears, Roebuck and Co. short course at Auburn the following year.

After marrying Miss Geraldine Payton of Chilton County, they moved to a farm of their own in the Fairview Community. Later they moved to the Collins Chapel Community where they have resided ever since.

Among his other civic accomplishments, Mr. Headley has held a Ford Tractor dealership in Thorsby for six years and has a large and happy family of seven children. They are: Lougene, 17; Billie Joyce, 13; Carl, 11; Patsy Dean, 9; Shirley Nell, 7; Bennie Kent, 4 and Peggy 1½.

He has been supervisor for the Emergency Loan branch for the FHA and for six years has been secretary-treasurer of the Chilton County Purchasing and Marketing Association. He is a member of the Farm Bureau. He is, at present, an active participant on the building committee of his church, Collins Chapel Baptist.

To A Three-Year-Old—

Even In Hospital, Birthday Is An Important Event

TO A youngster of three years, a Birthday is an event of some note and should be celebrated. Being abed in the hospital is of no consequence.

Especially if your in the Chilton County Hospital, as little Lynn Plier of Jemison found out.

It seems Lynn was a sick little man on this big event and he stated to his nurses that he didn't like to be sick—especially on his birthday.

The Chef, Elmer Gilbert, great guy that he is cooked Lynn a birthday cake and some of the staff got together and Lynn had the makings of a pretty fine Birthday celebration

He is shown here with Mary Alice Short, director of Nursing Services; his mother and Elmer Gilbert, head Chef at the Hospital.

Mr. Gilbert says this special service, although preferred, is not confined to three year olds. All you have to do is be sick. 'Being sick is no fun, as Lynn has testified, but they sure do their best to make you forget your troubles out at Chilton County Hospital.

BASKETBALL—

TIGERS SUFFER AT HANDS OF GENERALS

By JERRY GRAY

THE CHILTON County Tigers lost to the Generals of Lee Tuesday night in their first defeat in three starts. They had previously triumphed over Jemison and Suttle.

The Generals came from trailing score of 21 to 14 in the first quarter to upend the Tigers 66 to 58.

The Tigers almost saved the day in the third quarter when they tied the score at 47 up, after some fancy playing.

This win was Lee's second of the season.

A total of 18 fouls were called in the game: 12 against CCHS and 6 against Robert E. Lee.

Carr was the outstanding player for the Generals with 17 points and the same number of rebounds.

Jimmy Fulmer was Clanton's standout performer with a total of 18 points.

Friday, December 13, the Tigers take on Childersburg at the local gymnasium at 6:30 p.m.

A Correction

This is incorrect. A later report states that he will be buried in Montgomery on December 14th at 11 a.m. The body will not be brought to Clanton.

DRASTIC CHANGE IN LOCAL MAIL SERVICE

EFFECTIVE as of December 16, 1957 outgoing mails from the Clanton Post Office will leave the office at 5:10 p.m. instead of 6:30 p.m. This includes both north and southbound mails.

Business firms and hte general public should deposit their mail approximately two hours earlier in order to be included in the afternoon dispatch.

In connection with tihs earlier schedule it would be appreciated if as many business firms and individuals as possibly can, deposit their mail at the noon hour to avoid congestion at the late hour before closing out time for these mails.

Thanks for your cooperation.

New Brunswick has more than 215 covered bridges including the longest one in the World — 1,282 feet over the St. John River at Hartland. These covered wooden structures are still in daily use and are much photographed by visitors to the Province. The bridge roof protects the large timbers of the bridges from weathering and so lengthen their life from 20 to as much as 70 years, engineers say. FNS

Norway Sardine Pudding

Brisk wintry weather calls for hearty, healthful hot meals to satisfy keen appetites. A different and delicious hot dish either for lunch or the main meal, Norway sardine pudding has the added advantage of being both economical and easy to prepare.

Ingredients: 2 (3¾ oz.) cans Norway sardines; 3 medium sized potatoes; 2 medium sized onions; 3 eggs; 1½ cups milk; ¼ lb. butter, melted; salt, pepper to taste.

Method: Grease casserole lightly with butter and cover bottom with a layer of thinly sliced potatoes which have been brushed with melted butter. Place a layer of thinly sliced onions on top of potatoes. Top with a layer of whole Norway sardines and season to taste. Repeat this procedure, but change the order so that the fourth layer will be onions; fifth, sardines, and sixth, potatoes. Beat 3 eggs vigorously with 1½ cups of milk. Add balance of melted butter to the casserole and then the egg and milk mixture, filling casserole to the brim. Decorate top with whole Norway sardines. Bake in 350 degree oven for about 40 minutes, or until pudding turns a golden brown. Yield: 4 to 6 generous servings.

The MYF hopes that each one will keep in mind that they will present their play on December 22. The White Christmas Offering will be taken at that time for the Children's Home in Selma. Let's all make our plans to attend.

Jimmy Learned To Use New Legs

The Accomplishments of a Legless Boy

What's the price of a pair of new legs and the ability to use them expertly? Is it courage, perseverance, implicit faith in one's self and determination to succeed, or all of these? Whatever the quotient, fifteen year old Jimmy Larsen, who lost both legs in an accident with a threshing machine at the age of three possesses it in indivisible king-size portions.

The tiny tot was playing in a field during the threshing season unseen until it was too late. Although most of the Harlan, Iowa physicians were out of town at the time of the accident, enough medical care was forthcoming to save little Jimmy's life. He recovered remarkably soon and less than six months later was being fitted with his first set of artificial legs. Doctors then said it would take months for Jimmy to learn to use his new legs. They didn't know Jimmy Larsen! He was toddling around in two days!

Legless Jimmy Larsen tops roller skating and baseball accomplishments with his excellent playing of the Conn organ. With him are Jean Spalik, his organ teacher from Omaha and Bill McM[illegible]ns, Conn staff organist, who are indeed proud of Jimmy's perseverence and the talent he has displayed.

Today Jimmy does just about everything his friends do and often goes them one better. He plays basketball and baseball, and played on the Jacksonville Cubs, Southwest Iowa's boys' baseball champions, and is justly proud of having done all of his own batting and running.

His mother no longer is anguished by such antics as tree-climbing or roller skating. This is the expression of a normal boy's boundless energy and Jimmy is nothing if not normal. He has been roller skating now for four years at the local roller [illegible] Jack Schnack, the proprietor, who taught Jimmy to skate, still spends a good deal of time with him, taking him through new steps and tricks, eventually teaching him the difficult split, an achievement of consequence for anyone.

Perhaps the most outstanding of all Jimmy's current achievements is his latest. He is now well on his way to becoming an accomplished organist—no simple task when you consider the [illegible] required on the bass pedals. His playing is worthy of guest appearance at the console of the Conn organ on an Omaha TV station, and he is expected to play his first professional engagements shortly at the local roller rink. He will also be playing the Conn organ in local schools for their Christmas programs.

At one time, Jimmy had plans to become a farmer like his father. However he now hopes to devote his time to developing as an organist. Considering the progress he has made thus far on the Conn, he seems to be rapidly approaching his goal and with the same surefootedn[illegible] confidence he has displayed [illegible] very first. Although [illegible] been an uphill struggle [illegible] way, Jimmy has shown [illegible] indication of enjoying [illegible] n for all of [illegible] find [illegible] for our [illegible] If three-year [illegible] could develop into [illegible] Jimmy [illegible] he is [illegible] despite [illegible] of our [illegible]

MRS. O. H. Armstrong, Chairman of the Chilton County Hospital Auxiliary called a special meeting on December 5th, in order that the group might hear a special speaker, Mrs. Palmer Gaillard, Jr. of Mobile. Mrs. Gaillard is a member of the Mobile Infirmary Auxiliary. She is chairman of the committee on Auxiliaries of the Alabama Hospital Association and vice chairman of the council on Hospital Auxiliaries of the American Association.

The three areas in which they could progress most are (1) Volunteer Service (2) Fund Raising and (3) in Community relatidns of public relations.

At this meeting the group voted to join the Alabama Hospital Association as type V membership. They also voted to have a Silver Tea on Sunday, December 22, from 2::30 p.m. until 4:00 p.m. in the parlor of the nursing home. The proceeds will go into funds for beautifying the grounds.

Tips for Safe Holiday Trips

By Jeanne Smith,
Dodge Safety Consultant

PLANNING a holiday trip to visit the family or friends? Don't spoil the reunion with an accident on the highway. Safety experts point out that there are more hazards to threaten a safe journey at this season than at any other time of the year.

Inclement weather and more hours of darkness make visibility poor and highways treacherous. And the holiday spirit often causes drivers to be less alert than usual.

Miss Smith

For a safe and pleasant trip, follow these suggestions from the National Safety Council:

1. Plan your trip so that as much of the driving as possible will be accomplished during the daylight hours.

2. Postpone your trip if the weather is bad or if hail, snow or sleet are predicted for the area in which you plan to drive. Consult the weather bureau for a forecast if you're in doubt.

3. Drive slowly and cautiously. Wet, slippery roads increase emergency stopping distances.

4. Assume that there are icy or wet patches on seemingly dry pavement — especially around curves, beyond hillcrests, on bridges and in shaded spots—and drive accordingly.

5. Be certain your car is in top mechanical condition before attempting any sort of trip. Check windshield wipers, defrosters, headlights, tail lights, brakes and tires. Use reinforced tire chains when the road is covered with snow or ice.

6. If you drink, don't drive.

A POLICY of good motoring manners is the best life insurance a man can have.

TAPERING off on a bad habit is nothing more than kindling a fire for a new start.

LET'S FINISH THE JOB----

VOTERS HAVE ALREADY approved funds which are urgently needed at Bryce, Searcy and Partlow Hospitals at Tuscaloosa and will be asked again to approve these funds on December 17, when the amendments are to be voted upon.

Last November when four million dollars was approved for the purpose of enlarging and equipping our mental institutions, to take care of our present needs, the allowed interest rate was too low and the bonds had no takers.

Amendment No. 3 will provide for an increase in the interest rate of the hospital bonds from the present low of 3 percent to a maximum of 4½ percent. There is no other way to provide the desperately needed funds for these hospitals.

No additional taxes are required. Only an affirmation of the stand already taken by an overwhelming majority of Alabama voters.

Let's finish the job. Let's give our mentally ill and mentally retarded the chance they have so long been denied.

CANCER MEMORIAL GIFTS!

MRS. HUGH JONES, Educational Chairman of the American Cancer Society, for Chilton County, calls attention to the "Memorial Gift" as a way of giving to aid in the fight against cancer. Your contribution fights cancer on three fronts: Education; Research and Service.

Many indivduals make provision in their wills for contribution to the American Cancer Society, Alabama Division, in memory of loved ones or business associates.

Or what could be a more fitting expression of appreciation to a living person, on the occasion of a birthday or anniversary, than a gift to fight cancer.

The American Cancer Society is fighting our battles against cancer—it is only fitting that we do all we can to aid them in this fight.

AND NEXT WE'RE GOING TO DEMAND A SHORTER WORK WEEK!
FINE!
UNION MONOPOLY POWER
INFLATION
PUBLIC AND WHAT ABOUT ME?

Shorter Hours----More Inflation!

LABOR UNION demands for a shorter work week, if granted, would put the nation under the destructive economic crush of more inflation.

Headline-seeking union bosses, arrogant in their monopolistc power, deliberately neglect to tell us that the shorter work week would result in drastically lowered production, spiraling unit costs, skyrocketing prices and depressed living standards.

The shorter work week is an intimidation forced on the American public by Labor Unions. When will we wake up—as a nation—and see that these influences are doing harm that no good they ever did will account for. The fact is, they've gotten too big for their britches. It's up to Americans to put a stop to this false intent to do good.

Labor Unions have an unquestionable place in our way of life—but they are not staying in it. We should not have a government, a nation, ruled by such a force. In its headlong flight to do good for the worker--it has outgrown its original purpose and no longer serves the good purpose for which it was intended.

Do something America! Wake up to your responsibilities. Labor unions are to serve—not to be served! Put them back into their proper channels of activity & see the threat of inflation take a noticeable nosedive.

The hostess served delightful Yuletide refreshments. The home was also decorated very prettily for the Christmas Club Party.

The meeting adjourned, each member wishing each other a Happy Christmas Season.

AMEND. NO. 10 OF INTEREST TO ALL ALABAMA

ONE OF THE MOST crippling problems confronting Alabama hospitals today is the free treatment they provide for the needy ill. And until a special legislative committee looked into this situation, few people realized how serious the problem was.

The interim committee found that hospitals were absorbing a loss of approximately $3,000,000 annually in treating patients who could not afford to pay for their hospitalzation. In an effort to remedy this situation the committee offered to the legislature a long-range indigent sick care program calling for state and county financial participation in meeting the needs of the indigent sick.

The legislature gave solid approval of the plan, even to the extent of making an initial appropriation of $100,000 in state funds to be expended in paying hospital bills for the poor. As approved by the legislature, $25,000 of this amount will be distributed equally among the counties participating in the program while the remaining $75,000 will be used for matching with counties on a dollar-for-dollar basis. Supporters of the program admit this is a modest beginning, but they hope for more state aid in the future.

Once enacted by the legislature the question then arose as to where individual counties would secure money for matching with the state. It is at this point where Amendment No. 10 on the Dec. 17 ballot enters into the picture.

No. 10 would permit an individual county (such as Chilton), by legislative act, to earmark a part of existing hospital taxes for use in the indigent sick care program. At the present time some 25 Alabama counties now collect a tax earmarked for hospital construction and operation. If No. 10 is ratified a part of the proceeds of such taxes could be used for the indigent program; however, only after present debt services have been [illegible].

This amendment does not increase any county tax, nor does it authorize the collection of a new tax. It merely seeks to permit the proceeds of a tax levied for hospitals to be used in part for paying the hospital bills of the poor.

State Rep. Bob Kendall of Evergreen, chairman of the interim committee which made the study, pointed out that hospital officials are unanimously in support of the amendment, as is the State Health Department and other [illegible]ted groups.

"This amendment will give the people of Alabama an opportunity to help a group which has long been neglected the needy [illegible]." Kendall added. "This proposal is [illegible] to the we[illegible] of all th[illegible] [illegible] because the people [illegible] [illegible] pay their hospit[illegible] today are having to pay more due to the loss resulting from the [illegible] who can't pay."

A BIT OF CHRISTMAS, AND WELL DONE

CHRISTMASTIME, unlike any other season, is the glorification of a "spirit" in the minds and hearts of people and at this time deeds are measured more by efforts than by actual accomplishments.

Some seemed to think that our parade last Friday was a colossal flop. Only the conceited and the unnecessary would feel this way.

A small town cannot put on a "Macy's Parade" but we think that the effort put into our parade last week outdid anything Mr. Macy ever saw. As we said the actual accomplishment was nothing like the splendor and extravagant magnificence of a big city parade but the supreme effort put into the undertaking by the Jaycees and members of civic organizations shown through the simpleness and the magnificence was there—you just had to have the Christmas Spirit to see it.

Many floats, decorated cars and even a couple of Santa's helpers pitched in and along with the Chilton County High School Band, put on a show that we think, every citizen should be proud of.

The parade itself radiated the true Christmas Spirit—of people helping people and the Band music [illegible] enough to put any sad sack in a cheerful mood.

Those who condemn it for what it appeared to them were looking too closely. They were looking for fault. We can't help them—but if they get out of their morbid mood, they can't find a better time than now—at Christmastime.

We, personally, were proud that our citizenry felt the need of a parade. Prouder still of the spirit that they manifested in putting the "Bit of Christmas" over to us.

If your heart didn't swell just a little at the sound of the Band playing Christmas tunes—you could have just as well stayed at home.

One thing! We are sorry that more merchants did not see fit to combine their "Spirit" with the program so more people would have taken interest. Commercial you say? Perhaps. Essential—very!

Next year we hope the City as a whole will cooperate still more with the Jaycees efforts. We sincerely hope they are not discouraged: Mr. Merchant: next year do your share—and then some—you are the strong shoulder.

As for the Band—it is our hope that next year—or even this year—someone will see fit to sponsor the Band in outdoor music at Christmastime somewhere in town. You can hear it all over town and there is [illegible] ate a real live band, [illegible] and Christmas music. [illegible] it civic clubs?

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

GOD'S THREE WAYS TO STOP BEING AFRAID

This letter came to my desk a short while ago. It was from a young woman, Miss M. P. of Rockford, Illinois:

"It is hard for me to explain the terrible fear that has tormented me all of my life. As a child I was afraid to be around people. When I had to go to school it was [illegible] for me. Through all [illegible] years I never assoc[illegible] [illegible] the other pupils [illegible] cry because I [illegible] so depressed and lonely.

"This affliction has made my life miserable and unhappy.

"My sister recently said, 'Your fear is an ailment. You should be prayed for and delivered from it.' Is it possible that I can be set free?"

There are many who read this column who also suffer from the awful ma[illegible] fear. I [illegible] to discuss [illegible] this young woman and each of [illegible] "God's Three Ways [illegible] Afraid."

What do you fear? [illegible] poverty, failure [illegible] ness? Do you f[illegible] trayal by your f[illegible] afraid of old [illegible] sesses you, and [illegible] to sleep or rest [illegible] that your un[illegible] caused by you[illegible]

There is an old fable that once a group of people came to the sun and said, "Sun, there is a place of midnight darkness on the earth where it is dark 24 hours a day."

The sun answered, "I will go and search for it." And so the sun searched and searched but could not find it. No wonder! There can be no darkness where the sun is.

[illegible] and immediately the d[illegible] turns. Wh[illegible] is this? [illegible] the same way, faith and right believing are dominant over fear.

Cab Drivers Pass On Safe Driving Pointers

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

CHAUFFEURING YOUNGSTERS to school, basketball games, scout meetings and the like is a big responsibility, calling for expert, careful driving.

Miss Smith

If the many activities of your children and their friends have you in a whirl, relax for a moment and heed some driving pointers from Los Angeles cab drivers.

These professionals know that certain driving techniques and habits can prevent passenger injuries and serious accidents. Clarence Dunbar, director of safety for a leading Los Angeles cab company, has offered the following suggestions to insure the safety of young occupants in your car:

1. Learn how to make smooth, even stops. Children can be thrown to the car floor by a sudden, hard stop.

2. Always shut doors yourself, and never move until you are positive that all doors are securely closed and locked.

3. No excuse is acceptable for a runaway vehicle with youngsters inside. So never leave children in the car with the motor running. The reasons are obvious; children are fascinated by gadgets and seldom can resist the urge to investigate.

4. Likewise, when you park on a grade, turn the wheels toward the curb, put the car in reverse gear, set the handbrake—and remove the key from the ignition.

5. Under no circumstances should you discharge passengers on the traffic side of the street. Children are always in a hurry, but it's worth a few extra seconds to make sure that they leave the car safely on the curb side. Caution them to exit slowly and not to "run wild" once released.

Just as it's the cab driver's job to insure the safety and comfort of his passengers, it's your duty, when you're behind the wheel, to protect the welfare of your young passengers.

Miss Meredith served as "Teens Against Polio" Chairman for Tuscaloosa County last year. She is a student at the Tuscaloosa High School and has received many honors there.

APPLY BEFORE JAN. 17—

PRE MEASUREMENT SERVICE OFFERED CHILTON COTTON AND PEANUT GROWERS

CHILTON COUNTY cotton and peanut growers and farmers participating in the acreage reserve or conservation reserve can arrange to official measurement of their 1958 farm cotton and peanut acreage allotments, as well as Soil Bank acreage and conservation reserve areas, prior to planting time, the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced this week.

To get the premeasurement service, which is being provided on a cost basis, a farmer must file a written request with the County ASC Office prior to January 17, 1958, for allotment crops and permitted soil bank base crops under the Conservation Reserve Program, and when the acreage reserve agreement is signed for permitted Soil bank base crops under the Acreage Reserve Program, says Mr. Eddie Owen, Committee Chrm.

The rate to be charged for the service in Chilton County has been established at $6.50 for each farm, plus 65 cents per acre for each acre or fraction thereof in excess of 5.0 acres, and payment based on this rate must be made at the time the request for premeasurement is filed.

"The premeasuremnt is purely optional," says Mr. Owen. "and is offered as a service to farmers who prefer to have an official measurement to use as a guide."

All cotton and peanut acreage, as well as the acreage reserve and conservation reserve areas in the county will be measured as soon as possible after the crop is established to determine compliance with the acreage allotment-marketing quota and Soil Bank programs. When compliance is checked, the farm will be considered to be within the farm allotment, base or permitted acreage if the crop is planted within the premeasured area.

The Jemison FHA Chapter is very busy this week making preparations for their FFA and FHA Christmas Dinner in honor of their parents which will be December 12.

This is expected to be one of the most decorative and gay festivities of the year.

Mrs. Haywood's 4-H Club Had Christmas Program

In Mrs. Haywood's Room on December 8 the 4-H Club came to order. They started with Christmas singing led by Mike Johnston and Charles Craig. The devotional was led by Jimmy Miller. The pledge to the flag and the 4-H pledge was led by Cecil Wade. Then we told jokes. Randal Fox and Robert Mullins sang a song. Then Mr. John Sellers showed us how to make a lamp.

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

A MAN is not measured by the length and breadth of his body but by the size of his heart and the strength of his soul.

AN EVENT this past Sunday was one we'll not likely ever forget. We weren't the receiver of anything; in fact, we weren't even the giver; just a bystander; but one who thankfully caught the true feeling of the participants.

It was the 50th Wedding Anniversary of a couple for whom we care a great deal—Mr. and Mrs. Ira B. Yeargan of Rt. 3, Clanton. and it was, to say the least, a Golden day for them. Many, many friends and members of the family were by to wish them well and they were obviously pleased with the occasion. About the only remark we heard Grandma make all day was to one of the visitors and she said "50 years is sure a long time to live with a man." She was joking, but we know for a fact that she wouldn't change a single minute of the past 50 years and if she had it to do over again, it wouldn't likely change very much. As for Grandaddy; well, he just took the day in his stride—as he does everything. We can sum Grandaddy Yeargan up very easily, for he is the very personification of the first paragraph in this column. Sunday, December 8th was one day that Minnie and Ira Yeargan got what they deserved—the rich reward of the sincere best wishes of true friends. We hope they see many more "Golden" Anniversaries together.

IT'S NO wonder these new cars are catching the men's eye this year; they've started rounding out the body lines a lot more and any man in his right mind had rather look at round curves than sharp corners.

WE DON'T know a thing in this world about inflation except that we're in it and we don't like it. We wonder if this country has ever put down the threat of an inflation. or is it just a matter of course to stick our foot into it and then take our chances on getting it back. The Lord was good enough to give us a mind to think with and eyes to see with; we're only sorry that some of us—with influence—can't see to think straight.

SAW an old antique putting down the street Friday afternoon long after the parade had come and gone. We were just wondering, could it be possible. . . na-w-w! It couldn't be.

IT IS our opinion that a "STOP-Turn Right on Red" sign under a traffic light has no place at an intersection turning onto a main artery highway. For instance, going over the bridge North of Clanton they might just have well put one up anyway turning north because our noble citizenry didn't seem to notice that there was never one there. But turning onto Highway 22 is a different matter and we think dangerous. We realize the speeding has been cut down considerably, and we're thankful for that, but folks somehow forget about the "STOP" part and just observe the "Turn Right on Red". The way some of us drive you'd think the signs said "Go Right Ahead". We might go a little further and say, ". . . And Get Killed!" We hope the City Fathers will "set us straight" on this matter.

IF YOU could drive an auto 1,000 miles an hour and bring it to a dead stop in two feet, you would an idea of what the recoil system has to do each time a turret gun is fired aboard a Navy ship.

MRS. WILLIAMS SAYS "JOIN FIGHT AGAINST TB, NOW"

"JUST SUPPOSE a member of your family happened to be one of the 2,127 persons in Alabama who were reported to have Tuberculosis in 1956.

"Christmas Seals are on the job to fight tuberculosis. Are you doing your part to protect your home and others by buying and using them so their mission of saving lives can be successful?"

This challenge to increase the fight against tuberculosis was underscored this week by Mrs. R. C. Williams, who, as chairman of the 1957 Christmas Seal Sale in Chilton County, issued a reminder that Christmas Seals protect your home against the disease which kills more Americans every year than all other communicable diseases combined.

STATE OF ALABAMA
A PROCLAMATION
GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama at the Regular Session 1957, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that the said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months from the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months from the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 17, 1957; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"The State of Alabama is authorized to become indebted for building, construction and improvement purposes at The Aalbama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn, and in evidence of the indebtedness so incurred to sell and issue, in addition to all other bonds of the State, interest bearing general obligation bonds of the State not exceeding four million five hundred thousand dollars ($4,500,000) in principal amount. The bonds shall be general obligations of the State of Alabama and the full faith and credit and taxing power of the State are hereby pledged to the prompt and faithful payment of the principal of the bonds and the interest thereon. The proceeds from the sale of any such bonds shall, after payment of the expenses of their issuance, be set apart in a special fund in the state treasury to be designated the 'Alabama Polytechnic Institute Building Bond Fund'; and such proceeds shall be used exclusively for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, and improvement of college building facilities; including the acquisition of sites and equipment for such facilities, for use by the School of Agriculture, the Agricultural Experiment Station, and the School of Veterinary Medicine of The Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn, provided, that the plans and specifications for any building constructed with money from said special fund shall be approved by the Alabama Building Commission or any agency designated by the Legislature as its successor.

"The Board of Trustees of The Alabama Polytechnic Institute is hereby vested with full authority, except as limited herein, to provide the terms of the bonds and to provide for the sale and issuance thereof. The bonds may be sold, executed and delivered at any time and from time to time, may be in such forms, denominations, series and numbers, may be of such tenor and maturities, may bear such date or dates, may be in registered or bearer form either as to principal or interest or both with rights of conversion into another form, may be payable in such installments and at such place or places, may bear interest at such rate or rates payable and evidenced in such manner, and may contain provisions for redemption at the option of the state to be exercised by said board at such date or dates prior to their maturity and upon payment of such redemption price or prices, all as shall be provided by the said board in the resolution or resolutions whereunder the bonds are issued. The principal of each series of bonds shall mature in annual installments in such amounts as shall be specified in the resolution or resolutions of the said board under which they are issued, the first of which installments shall mature not later than one year after the date of the bonds of such series and the last of which installments shall mature not later than twenty years after the date of the bonds of the same series. When each series of bonds is issued, the maturities of the bonds of that series shall, to such extent as may be practicable, be so arranged that during each then succeeding fiscal year of the state the aggregate installments of principal and interest that will mature on all bonds that will be outstanding hereunder, immediately following the issuance of the bonds of that series, will be substantially equal; provided, that the determination by the said board that the requirements of this sentence have been complied with shall be conclusive of such compliance and the purchasers of the bonds with respect to which such determination is made and all subsequent holders thereof shall be fully protected by such determination. None of the bonds shall be sold for less than face value plus accrued interest thereon to the date of delivery and all of the bonds shall be sold only at public sale or sales, either on sealed bids or at public auction, after such advertisement as may be prescribed by the said board, to the bidder whose bid reflects the lowest net interest cost to the state computed to the respective maturities of the bonds sold; provided that if no bid deemed acceptable by the said board is received all bids may be rejected.

"The bonds shall be signed in the name of the State by the Governor and countersigned by the president pro tempore of the board of trustees of The Alabama Polytechnic Institute, and the great seal of the State of Alabama or a facsimile thereof shall be impressed, printed or otherwise reproduced thereon and shall be attested by the signature of the Secretary of State; provided, that facsimile signatures of any one or any two (but not all) of said officers may be reproduced on any of such bonds in lieu of being manually signed thereon. Coupons attached to the bonds and representing installments of interest thereon shall be signed with the facsimile signature of the State Treasurer, which facsimile signature shall constitute due and sufficient authentication of said coupons.

"All bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment, together with the interest income thereon, shall forever be exempt from taxation in this State.

"The provisions of this amendment shall be self-executing and authorization from or other action of the Legislature shall not be a prerequisite to the issuance of bonds hereunder."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957 in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

TREES...
a cash crop

America has many kinds of land—some best suited for cultivated crops like corn or cotton, some best for growing trees. Both kinds can produce regular cash crops year after year. If protected from fire, insects and disease and harvested wisely, America's 461 million acres of commercial forest land will always produce the wood this nation needs.

EMERGENCY—

LOANS ARE AVAILABLE TO SOME FARMERS

APPLICATIONS TO BE MADE TO FHA, CLANTON

Emergency loans are available in Chilton County to eligible farmers whose crops were damaged by excessive rainfall and related weather conditions, Isaac C. Byrd said today.

Funds can be advanced for feed, seed, fertilizer, insecticides, family living expenses and other normal farm expenses. Applications can be made at the Farmers Home Administration Office in Clanton located in the Higgins Building.

To be eligible a farmer must be primarily engaged in farming and have reasonable prospects for success in the farming operations he plans to carry on. In addition he must have suffered substantial loss from the excessive rainfall and other related weather conditions and must be unable to obtain the credit he needs from other sources.

The interest rate is 3 percent. Repayment schedules depend upon purposes for which funds are advanced and upon the estimated income of the applicant. For example, loans for crop production are usually scheduled for repayment when income from the crop is normally received.

Loans for the repair or replacement of equipment and buildings damaged by the rainfall are usually made repayable over periods of from one to ten years.

Adequate security is obtained to protect the Government's interest.

FISH FATALITY BRINGS 'FORTUNE' TO FISHERMEN

STATE TO RESTOCK TWO PUBLIC LAKES

THE ALABAMA Department of Conservation announced today that 110-acre Dallas County Public Lake near Selma and 192-acre Dale County Public Lake near Ozark will be stocked with bluegills and shell crackers this week.

Dallas Lake, in which practically the whole adult fish population died this summer because of a drop of oxygen content in the water has since been treated with chemicals to remove all fish and is being restocked with bream and bass.

It is slated for opening in 1959.

Dale County Lake, which is a new public lake completed in 1957, being stocked for the first time. Bream will be added to both lakes this week to be followed with stocking of bass next spring. Dale Lake is also scheduled to open in 1959.

The Dallas bream stocking was scheduled for Monday, Dec. 9, 2 p.m., and the Dale Lake bream for Friday, Dec. 13, at 10:00 a.m. Fish for the two lakes were reared in Alabama hatcheries during 1957 by the Department of Conservation.

TO K AT RA C C

JUDGE GEORGE C. Wallace, of Clayton, will speak at the Citizens Council in Calera, Alabama, on December 12th.

Judge Wallace presides as judge of the Third Judicial Circuit, which is comprised of Barbour, Bulloch and Dale Counties.

Prior to his selection to the bench Judge Wallace served in the Alabama Legislature for six years. While a legislator, he sponsored the Wallace Industrial Act, which all the cities and towns of Alabama to issue revenue bonds to build industries. As a result of this legislation, many new industries, employing thousands of Alabamians have come to the state.

Judge Wallace sponsored the Wallace Trade School Act that built additional trade schools in Alabama that has trained thousands of Alabama young people. The schools are in Dothan, Tuscaloosa, Mobile, Decatur and a negro school in Jefferson County at Wernoah.

Judge Wallace was elected to Democratic National Convention Committee in 1956, and represented Alabama on the Platform Committee in the Convention.

He also has testified before the House Judiciary Committee against the Civil Rights Bill.

Judge Wallace once stated that he would order the arrest of any federal agent, including the FBI agents, who attempted to investigate his jury box, as was done in Cobb County, Georgia, by the FBI.

While Judge Wallace's speech is to be non-political at this Citizens Council Meeting, it is common knowledge that he has been prominently mentioned as a candidate for governor in the 1958 democratic primary.

Clock for Christmas

Here's a stylish, modern-look clock, ideal for Christmas giving. It's available in white-and-gold, or black-and-gold color schemes. Latest mechanical innovations also are featured in this "Clock of Tomorrow" by Westclox. It has a single knob which winds both clock mechanism and alarm. Chime alarm starts with a slow, gentle ring, then quickens rapidly if the slumberer is a bit slow to "get moving." Luminous, easy-to-reach button on top of case turns alarm on or off. Other features include luminous dial and hands, non-breakable crystal, and all-metal dust-resistant case. This popular Westclox is a natural to delight any member of the family when found under the tree on Christmas morn.

"ALMOST, BUT NOT ENOUGH" is our verdict on how close competitive cars have come to matching the Swept-Wing 58. Take style. Other new cars are "almost" as low in inches, but still seem high and boxy in looks. Some of them are "almost" going to fins, but not enough to really make a difference. Then take performance. None of the other 1958 cars have anything to match the sway-free, dip-free, vibration-free ride of Torsion-Aire. (It's standard equipment.) Most of them still don't even have push-button driving! So after you've seen the "almost" cars, come in and drive a Swept-Wing 58. You'll see why we say: They're catching on, but they can't catch up.

Local Pastor Has Unique Beautiful Shell Collection

To Be Displayed Locally And At The Baptist Assembly

DR. J. GILBERT Hutchinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Clanton, has been asked by the Glorieta Baptist Assembly to place his sea shell collection in the main lobby of the New Mexico Hall.

Dr Hutchinson began collecting sea shells in 1942 while serving with our Armed Forces in the Central Pacific Theatre of Operations. Mr. and Mrs. Harlan F. Benner, of Honolulu, are due much of the credit for this unusual sea shell collection.

According to Dr. Hutchinson this couple took him on his first sea shell hunting trip and provided the necessary equipment.

To find what is known as "Living Specimens" it is necessary to dive for the shells in their natural habitat. Then you cover the shells lightly with sand and allow ample time for the ants to eat the animals out of the shells.

Believe it or not; this process will keep the shells their original brilliant color indefinitely.

Since many of the members of the First Baptist Church and the people of Clanton have not had an [illegible] to see this unusual collection it will be placed on display at the [illegible] on Sunday night December 15th.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Probably the hottest battle shaping up in the forthcoming new Congress will be issue of beefing up nation's anti trust laws.

Many legislators are being affected by the criticism of the last session of Congress based on an excessive amount of time being spent on social problems, rather than the much more pressing economic problems.

C. W. Harder

In addition, the nation's independent businessmen, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, had impressed on the minds of solons their impatience with anti trust enforcement.

* * *

Rep. Emanuel Celler, N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Anti trust sub committee charges that both Justice Dept. and the Federal Trade Commission have shown too much timidity.

* * *

Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney, Wn., a veteran supporter of anti trust laws, claims the problem lies in the fact that Congress has been content to permit too wide a latitude in interpretation of anti trust laws to rest in the executive and judicial branches.

To solve the problem, he is keen on having Congress spell out precisely what violates these laws, thus eliminating the interpretation of them by various bureaucrats according to individual philosophies and viewpoints.

There are also several loopholes in the anti trust laws which some Congressmen seek to plug. For example, Rep. Mason, Ill., has pending a bill which could transfer from the Secretary of Agriculture to Justice Dept. jurisdiction over cases where producer cooperatives are charged with fixing prices through monopolizing or restraining trade.

* * *

As pointed out several times by the nationwide membership of the National Federation of Independent Business, the time is long past when labor unions should also be compelled to observe the anti trust laws.

* * *

Rep. Celler has a bill pending which would include within the definition of "trade or commerce" as set forth in the present anti trust laws, all forms of trade and commerce.

Another problem is that of determining when mergers have the effect of decreasing competition in the market place.

But there are many who feel present rash of mergers is due more to unrealistic taxing policies, than any other factor.

There is substantial evidence that the tax situation that will result on the death of the head of a family business, has reduced the number of family owned businesses, practically forcthem to merge with some of the giant corporations to keep from being stripped by taxes.

And in that area, will undoubtedly be found one of the major incentives for mergers. Many men who have built successful business enterprises and merged them into some big outfit have done so with a great feeling of repugnance, knowing that in doing so they were selling their sons into the life of a corporation employee despite fact they built for years to provide a business for their sons.

* * *

Yet, faced both with the inevitability of both death and present unrealistic tax laws they had to recognize that unless they did merge before they ended up, their business would not be able to survive.

Here's Why Leaves Should Not Be Left On Your Roof

IT'S THRIFTY to save fallen leaves for the compost pile. But the roof gutter is one place where leaves should not be allowed to collect.

In fact, eave troughs should be cleaned of leaves several times before winter sets in, because in the long run it will pay off.

Water dammed up on roofs because of leaves can do a lot of expensive damage. Acid develops as leaves rot, causing metal gutters to corrode.

As for wooden gutters, they may have to be replaced if exposed for any length of time to soggy, decaying leaves, twigs, seeds, or other materials.

Leaves clogged in downspouts can stop the flow of rain water, causing water to stand in eave troughs or wash over the top and down the sides of the house and windows.

Gutters can be cleaned from a ladder using a sturdy whisk broom and dustpan to catch the leaves. A reverse-bent wire hook at the end of a long pole will clean off leaves too far away to reach from a ladder.

Cap screens over the gutter can present a problem when roof-cleaning. But at close range, it's easy to brush the screen free of leaves and other refuse that tend to stick.

Another reason for cleaning roofs besides damage made by rotting leaves is the fire hazard. Sparks flying from nearby chimneys could easily set leaves on top of your house ablaze.

Norway Sardine Pudding

Brisk wintry weather calls for hearty, healthful hot meals to satisfy keen appetites. A different and delicious hot dish either for lunch or the main meal, Norway sardine pudding has the added advantage of being both economical and easy to prepare.

Ingredients: 2 (3¾ oz.) cans Norway sardines; 3 medium sized potatoes; 2 medium sized onions; 3 eggs; 1½ cups milk; ¼ lb. butter, melted; salt, pepper to taste.

Method: Grease casserole lightly with butter and cover bottom with a layer of thinly sliced potatoes which have been brushed with melted butter. Place a layer of thinly sliced onions on top of potatoes. Top with a layer of whole Norway sardines and season to taste. Repeat this procedure, but change the order so that the fourth layer will be onions; fifth, sardines, and sixth, potatoes. Beat 3 eggs vigorously with 1½ cups of milk. Add balance of melted butter to the casserole and then the egg and milk mixture, filling casserole to the brim. Decorate top with whole Norway sardines. Bake in 350 degree oven for about 40 minutes, or until pudding turns a golden brown. Yield: 4 to 6 generous servings.

The money paid into such fund shall be disbursed to the custodian of county school funds, and shall be used solely for the acquisition of public school sites, for the construction, reconstruction, alteration and improvement of public school building facilities, for the procurement of equipment therefor, and for payment of obligations incurred for any of such purposes in Mobile County.

"The Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners or other governing body of Mobile County is hereby vested with full authority except as limited herein, to provide the terms of the bonds and to provide for the sale and issuance thereof; and such county governing body is hereby specifically authorized to pledge to the payment of such bonds so much of the proceeds of any tax hereinbefore or hereafter levied pursuant to Amendment XVIII, which has not already been pledged to the payment of other bonds of the county, and so much of the proceeds of any tax levied pursuant to this amendment as are needed for the payment of the bonds hereby authorized. The bonds may be sold, executed and delivered at any time and from time to time, may be in such forms, denominations, series and numbers, may be of such tenor and maturities, may bear such date or dates, may be in registered or bearer form either as to principal or interest or both with rights of conversion into another form, may be payable in such installments and at such place or places, may bear interest at such rate or rates payable and evidenced in such manner and may contain provisions for redemption at the option of Mobile County to be exercised by said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners or other governing body of Mobile County at such date or dates prior to their maturity and upon payment of such redemption price or prices, all as shall be provided by said county governing body in the resolution or resolutions whereunder the bonds are issued. The principal of each series of bonds shall mature in annual installmnets in such amounts as shall be specified in the resolution or resolutions of the said county governing body under which they were issued, the first of which installments shall mature not later than one year after the date of the bonds of such series and the last of which installments shall mature not later than twenty-five years after the date of the bonds of the same series. When each series of bonds is issued, the maturities of the bonds of that series shall, to such extent as may be practicable, be so arranged that during each then succeeding fiscal year of the county the aggregate installments of principal and interest that will mature on all bonds that will be outstanding hereunder, immediately following the issuance of the bonds of that series, will be substantially equal, provided, that the determination by the said county governing body that the requirements of this sentence have been complied with shall be conclusive of such compliance and the purchasers of the bonds with respect to which such determination is made and all subsequent holders thereof shall be fully protected by such determination. None of the bonds shall be sold for less than face value plus accrued interest thereon to the date of delivery, and all of the bonds shall be sold only at public sale or sales, either on sealed bids or at public auction, after such advertisement as may be prescribed by the said county governing body, to the bidder whose bid reflects the lowest net interest cost to the county computed to the respective maturities of the bonds sold; provided, that if no bid deemed acceptable by the said county governing body is received all bids may be rejected.

"The bonds shall be signed in the name of the County of Mobile by the Chairman of the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioner or other presiding officer of the county governing body and shall be countersigned by the County Treasurer, and the seal of the county, if any, or a facsimile thereof, shall be impressed, printed or otherwise reproduced thereon and shall be attested by the signature of the clerk of the county governing body; provided that a facsimile of the signature of any one or any two (but not all) of the officers whose signatures appear on the bonds may be reproduced on any of the bonds in lieu of being manually signed thereon. Any coupons attached to the bonds and representing installments of interest thereon shall be signed with the facsimile signature of the chairman of the county governing body, which facsimile signature shall constitute sufficient authentication of said coupons.

"All bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment, together with the interest income therefrom, shall forever be exempt from all taxation in this State.

"The provisions of this amendment shall be self-executing, and authorization from or other action by the Legislature shall not be a prerequisite to the issuance of bonds hereunder; provided, however, that the Legislature may enact appropriate legislation, not inconsistent with this amendment, respecting the use of the proceeds from the bonds and providing for the payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 17th day of December 1957 in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

4-H'ers Win $400 Scholarships

As an eager 10-year-old boy watched a 4-H lamp-making demonstration, the first spark of interest was kindled. Frank Eaton, 17, of Carbon Hill, Walker county, wanted to be one of the best electricians in the county. Today he is.

Frank Eaton

After nine high-powered years in 4-H, this young dynamo was named one of six national winners in the 4-H Electric program. He will receive a $400 college scholarship from Westinghouse Educational Foundation.

Going was tough when Frank first started his high voltage career. Even after he sold his first home-made lamps his father was skeptical. So Frank financed his expensive new electrical hobby with more profitable projects in corn, dairy, beef, and gardening.

Frank bought power tools, gave demonstrations on repairing electrical appliances, and turned out more blue ribbon reading and decorative lamps.

Frank's most spectacular display was his Northwest Alabama Fair exhibit. It was an information panel which illuminated the answers in response to push-button questions.

An all-round 4-H'er, Frank is state 4-H vice president and was elected "Mr. Carbon Hill high school" this year. Following his graduation, he hopes to major in electrical engineering at Auburn college where his scholarship will be put to good use.

Sharing favorite recipes brings great satisfaction to Jackie Sue Moore, 17, of Attalla, Etowah county, who knew how to cook and sew before she was old enough to enroll in 4-H.

Jackie Sue is one of six national winners in the 4-H Girls' Home Economics program. She will receive a $400 college scholarship from Montgomery Ward.

During her eight years of food projects, she prepared over 5,000 meals and main courses. She has canned several thousand jars of fruit, vegetables, meat, pickles, and jam. Jackie Sue has made 150 garments and has chalked up over 6,000 hours in home management projects.

Her garden produced much of the food she preserved. "I think it is more fun to cook and can food that is raised in your own garden," she said.

Jackie Sue has a way with cornmeal, too, as she was both county and district winner in a cornmeal cooking contest.

Jackie Sue Moore

This is Jackie Sue's fourth year as president of her local 4-H Club. A talented singer, she leads songs at club meetings. Now she is looking forward to college when her 4-H scholarship will be put to good use.

Both of these national 4-H award programs are conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service and Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

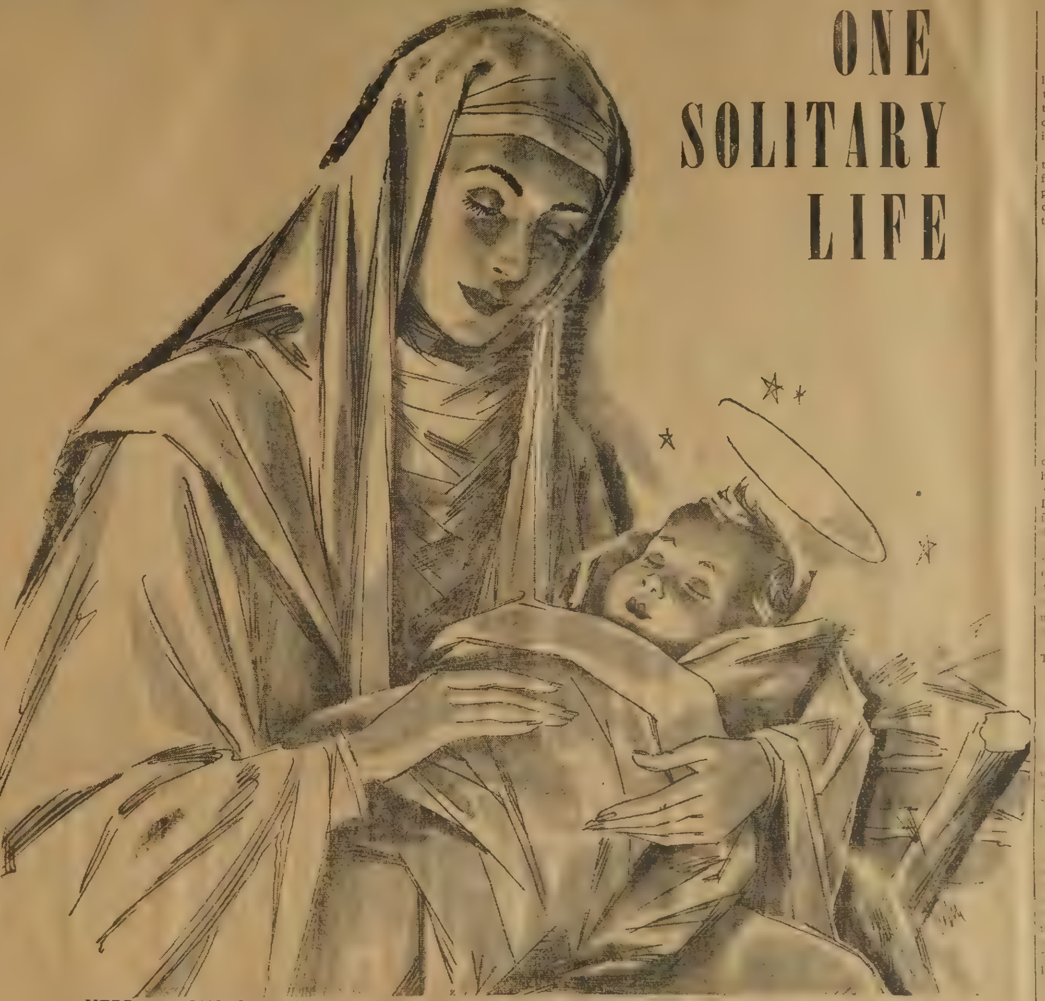
ONE SOLITARY LIFE



HERE IS A MAN who was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in another village. He worked in a carpenter shop until He was thirty, and then for three years He was an itenerant preacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office.

HE never owned a home. He never set foot inside a big city. He never traveled two hundred miles from the place where He was born. He had no credentials but Himself.

HE had nothing to do with this world except the naked power of His divine manhood. While still a young man, the tide of popular opinion turned against Him. His friends ran away. One of them denied Him. He was turned over to His enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed upon a cross between two thieves.

HIS executioners gambled for the only piece of property He had on earth while He was dying—and that was His coat. When He was dead He was taken down and laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.

NINETEEN wide centuries have come and gone and today He is the centerpiece of the human race and the leader of progress. I am far within the mark when I say that all armies that ever marched and all the navies that ever were built, and all the parliaments that ever sat, and all the kings that ever reigned, put together have not affected the life of any upon this earth as powerfully as that One Solitary Life.

What Are Chiltonians Saying, Doing About Christmas Seals

"IT MAKES you feel very humble. . ."

That is the way Myra Williams, this year's Chilton County Christmas Seal Chairman expressed it.

"Yes, it makes you feel humble to read what is in people's hearts," she said.

"Many of the letters that come back are from your personal friends and many contain a check for much more than the three sheets of seals at a penny a seal and it is wonderful for those who can help more, to do so.

Some letters contain fifty cents, and one with a note that read, "My brother had Tuberculosis and I think the Association is doing a wonderful job." Another letter reads "I am sorry to have to return some of these stamps. I am not able to work and am too old if I could. I get $25 a month and am sending you a dollar. I am hoping and praying that God will bless this offering four fold to the good it is given for an to His Glory."

"Sorry to have to return these seals, but my wife has had a stroke and folks are having to help us now." said one Chiltonian.

Every contribution is appreciated and goes toward the fight against this dread disease.

"If your budget won't allow you to give your contribution before Christmas, keep the seals, use them, and send in your contribution in January," the chairman said.

"Christmas will be a lot brighter for all of us when we know how strong is the spirit of 'thinking of others' in the hearts of so many of our friends and neighbors."

Fundy's Tides Are Mighty

HIGH AND DRY are these ships in Market Slip at Saint John, New Brunswick, Canada, when the mighty Fundy tide is out. One hundred billion tons of salt water surges through the rocky portals of the Bay of Fundy every 12 hours and 25 minutes, affecting the Bay ports of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. One of the most startling sights along the coast is ships high and dry in the morning and afloat 12 hours later. Normal tide in the Bay of Fundy is about 40 feet; the highest in the world and the mightiest manifestation of the moon's strange pull on the oceans. FNS

LADIES OF THE RING WRESTLE AT ARMORY, 21st

A TOP-KNOTCH wrestling card has been lined up for the National Guard Armory, Saturday night, December 21st for local wrestling fans. Included in this array of wrestling brawn are five of the top women wrestlers in the nation.

Penny Banner, Joan Mullinax, Mae Goodnar, Mary Jane Mull, and Frankie Moore are the members of the fairer sex who will be mixing it up here Saturday night.

The men's match, it seems, has developed into a grudge fight and Bill Lawley, the Anniston bruiser will be out for Chico Cortez' scalp. To say "the fur will fly" would be an understatement.

Come to the matches Saturday at 8:15 and you'll see exactly what we mean.

FIRST CHRISTMAS TREE DECORATED

How was the first Christmas tree decorated?

According to legend, when Christ was born a group of stars looked down uon an olive tree, a date palm and a pine tree which stood over the manger.

Seeing that the pine had nothing to offer in His honor while the others gave fruit and dates, they descended from the heavens to rest upon the pine's boughs as an offering—and that was the first Christmas tree!

THE ORIGIN OF CHRISTMAS CAROLS

The custom of singing Christmas carols dates back to ancient times when waifs and minstrels sang them in the streets.

The first true Christmas carols, which spread to many European countries, originated in Italy during the thirteenth century. These carols, with their folksong-like quality and childlike simplicity, gave way in popularity to more dignified and solemn Christmas hymns.

What about a family stocking Dad?

Wise fathers know that, next to love, the greatest gift they can give their families is security.

And financial security is built on systematic savings!

What's the easiest, safest way to save? As millions of Americans have discovered, it's the Payroll Savings Plan offered to you by your employer.

Through this plan your money is saved for you before you get a chance to spend it. All you do is sign the authorization card in the payroll office where you work. Sign up for the amount you want. Then, each payday, that money is put into your account. When there's enough, a Savings Bond is bought in your name and given to you.

And Savings Bonds now earn more interest than ever before. Every Series E Savings Bond purchased since February 1, 1957 earns 3¼% when held to maturity. It matures faster, too — in only eight years and 11 months. And it earns higher interest in the earlier years.

So why not give the whole family an extra Christmas gift this year? Sign up today for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work!

nformative Ideas bout Next Year's ncome Tax Reports

This Is 1st Of A Series Of Six Articles

Starting this week, December 9th, your Chilton County News ill publish "Income Tax Fax" weekly for six weeks. All information is interesting and esential in your Income Tax fiuring next year).—ED.

Release—

NOW IS THE time to think about . tax bill you are going to pay t year because now is the time u can do something about it. You can take action now that will reduce the bill, or, if tax is withheld from your paychecks, increase the refund you will get.

Here is a check list of some of these things. Watch for later columns in this newspaper. They will cover these and other items more fully.

Bad Debts:

Be sure you can prove they are bad this year and claim the deduction.

Capital Losses:

If you have stock market losses, sell this year to take the loss. Warning—do not repurchase the same or similar stock until at least 31 days after the sale.

Contributions:

Pay them to secure the deduction this year. A pledge is no good. They must be paid. You can take up to 30% in some circumstances.

Dependents:

Be sure you can claim them. If you are not providing over one half the cost of support, see if you can make an agreement with the others who are helping with the support.

Alimony:

Separation payments may be deducted by the husband and included by the wife. You may want to catch up on these payments this year.

If your spouse died in 1955 or 1956 chances are you filed a joint return with her for that year. You can compute your tax as though you were filing a joint return for 1957 if you have not remarried and if you have a dependent child or stepchild. You may want to recheck your dependency credits on this.

Sales of your business equipment and business buildings: If you have a loss from such a sale you can carry the loss back for two years and forward for five years, or until it is offset by earnings. If you have a loss that you must take, go ahead and sell this year. You can take the loss against 1955 and 1956 income, and if that doesn't cover it all, you can carry it forward to 1958, 1959, 1960, 1961 and 1962.

Depreciation:

You can depreciate new equipment, original in use with you, under several new systems which can produce a depreciation rate twice as fast as the old straight line method.

Capital Gains and Losses:

Consider offsetting short term gains with long term losses, etc.

Medical Expenses:

Pay them all this year to get the deduction.

If any of these apply to you, you should consult your accountant now, before the end of the year, to secure the utmost advantage from the beneficial provisions of the code

CHRISTMAS WISH FROM CARL HELM

I like to think that there will be
On Christmas Day, around each tree,
A feeling of the presence of
The Child God sent us with His love:
That there, beside each girl and boy,
He'll be, and sharing in their joy.

I like to think that, all the while
The gifts unfold, I'll see Him smile;
And that He'll hear our caroling,
And know it's for the thanks we bring
To God the Father, for His birth,
To be among us on the Earth.

O, may our Christmas time be gay:
But, let's remember it's His Day—
Let's find a place for pray[illegible]
And so have Jesus share in it.

—Carl Helm.

Actual Birthdate Of Jesus Is Still An Uncertainty

IT IS NOT SURPRISING that the day and year of the birth of Jesus are uncertain, for methods of keeping track of dates during the era when Christ was born were not very reliable and not very permanent. For years, eminent scholars have been searching the scriptures, and all possible records, to try to establish the exact date. So far, they have not succeeded.

Matthew states that Jesus was born during the reign of King Herod which helps to establish the period of His birth and this is the starting point from which scholars attempt to reckon the year.

The statement by Matthew that the wise men from the East, in inquiring "where is He that is born King of the Jews?" aroused Herod so that he ordered the massacre of all children two years old or less, is very significant. It is taken as proof that Jesus must have been born about two years before this infamous decree was issued.

No less an authority than the Catholic encyclopedia places the Birth of Christ in the year which, by our modern methods of keeping track of dates, would be 7 B. C. Thus Christ's birth does not exactly determine the difference between B. C. and A. D. date.

Most people, however, do not care if the exact day and year of Christ's birth are unknown. What matters most is the deathless vigor of the Christmas Spirit throughout the world.

THE VERY FIRST CHRISTMAS TREE

To August Imgard, a home-sick immigrant tailor, goes the credit for introducing the Christmas tree to America.

Imgard came to this country in 1847 to visit his brother in Wooster, Ohio. With the prospects of a dismal Christmas for the first time away from his native land, August decided to bring to his newly adopted home all the Christmas Spirit and festivities he had loved so much in Wetzlar, Hessia.

To his young nephew and neice he would show how Christmas was celebrated in the old Country.

First, he needed a Christmas tree! This is the way he described how he found it:

> "I walked up Apple Creek. . . when I got to where the trees were I found the water so high I could not get across. So I walked along until I found a tree fallen from bank to bank and crossed on that. I cut a tree and carried it to the fallen log. But to get across this time I had to tie the tree to my neck and crawl on hands and feet. People looked at me with considerable curiosity when I walked thru town with my tree."

Adept with scissors, Imgard cut his own paper ornaments and a local tinsmith fashioned a shiny star for the top.

And thus—the first Christmas tree in America.

THE FREE GIFT OF CHRISTMAS

by James Hyslop

ALL MANKIND's sympathies and attention were captivated because of the way in which God sent His Son into the world. A baby, a mother, a housing problem, a starry night, quiet shepherds, a divine announcements. . .

These things provide the romance the pathos, the tender appeal of the nativity. They are simple enough to be understood by the lowly and unlearned, and universal enough to command the attention of sages and kings.

The virgin birth was only the beginning of a life which, in all its aspects, is related to every person. John tells us that He was the true light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world. Into a despairing world therefore, Christ brings the light of hope.

Of all the millions of human beings born previously, not one had been able to provide the solution to the world's crying needs. If the Incarnation is a fact, as I believe it to be, it certainly means that 2,000 years ago the Lord God decided that the hopelessness of humanity had been fully demonstrated. And to hopeless humanity, God presented His Son as a gift: "God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son" (John 3:16). He did not undertake to force Him upon the world. Here was a free gift to be accepted or rejected according to individual or collective preference.

But wonder of wonders, God's gift to the world was despised and rejected of men. That rejection proved a fatal defectiveness in the life of every person, religious or otherwise. We human beings drove our Messiah from this planet. But you and I, as individuals, must face the challenge of His life and of His [illegible].

Christianity declares that redemption is still available through His life and death. God's offer of salvation continues to be presented with all the gentleness and loving grace suggested by the Nativity. The promise of forgiveness, life abundant and life eternal comes today from a risen and glorified Saviour: "Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear My voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with Me" (Revelation 3:20). What have you done with God's gift?

CHRIST IS BORN, INDEED!

by Rowena Cheney

On Bethlehem's hill the shepherds
Behold a wondrous light,
Blending with golden voices
Resounding through the night.

And Wise Men, too, were heeding
A light which beckoned them;
With quiet faith they journeyed
To distant Bethlehem.

Whether we come as Wise Men
Through miles of barren sand,
With priceless gifts—or shepherds
With humble, empty hands,

May we, like them, be guided
By light that beckons still,
And Angel voices, singing
Of peace and glad good will.

To men of every color,
Of every race and creed,
'Till peace on earth bears witness
That Christ is born indeed!

HERE'S HOW—

SMART HOMEMAKERS WILL TAKE CARE OF 'CHRISTMAS GIFT' APPLIANCES

MODERN MRS. AMERICA will be getting more electrical gadgets [illegible] than ever before— [illegible] not worry when it [illegible] maintenance and [illegible]

[illegible] properly handled and [illegible], those electrified kitchen [illegible]es probably won't tire un- [illegible] tire of them!

[illegible] pop-up toaster. With [illegible] toasters you can keep the mirror-like outer surface gleaming with a few strokes of a damp cloth and a light dry cloth polishing after each usage. About the only other items of concern should be frequent removal of bread particles from the toaster's crumb-catcher, and care not to touch the heating elements inside the toaster with forks or other utensils.

Then there's the electric coffee-maker. To assure perfect flavor every time the inside of the appliance should be scoured daily with a small bristle brush, warm water and a detergent—not soap. A thorough rinsing, drying with a clean soft cloth, and storage with the lid removed will complete the necessary ritual.

Each month, because coffee oils tend to build up and create a bitter taste, you should fill the appliance with water, add a "coffee-stain remover" as recommended by the manufacturer, then heat the solution, empty it, scrub, and rinse thoroughly.

Should you scour the surface of your waffle baker?

Generally, the manufacturers advise no. After the waffle iron cools with the cover open, the [illegible] finished outside surfaces should be wiped with a damp cloth and mild soap.

Waffle grids usually may be cleaned adequately merely by removal from the baker and by dunking in a dishpan. Most modern waffle bakers are specially coated to prevent sticking, removal of that coating may complicate things.

Automatic electric fry pans pose no problems in care or cleaning. Most can be immersed except for a portion of the handle. Pans should be washed as soon as possible after use, especially if salt has been used. If food particles stick, run a small amount of water in the pan, set it on a flat surface and turn it on at 200 degrees for a short time. After it's off, food scours away easily.

For mixers, blenders and similar electrical appliances, the elementary rules for care usually are washing away food shortly after use, and drying with a soft cloth before storing.

Never immerse the electrical mechanisms of appliances in water—and if water happens to splash into the electrical unit, don't begin operating the applaince until you're certain it is dry.

Remember, special rules for care of different appliances may vary according to manufacturers. Always follow those prescribed by the maker of your pride and joy—he should know.

PINE CONE LEGEND

ONCE UPON a time—according to a Harz Mountain legend—a poor miner's wife was gathering pine cones in the forest. It was just before Christmas, her husband was ill, and there was no money in the house for food. So, she gathered the cones and sold them to the villagers for kindling—obtaining enough for the day's necessities.

One morning while she was looking for such cones, a little imp jumped out of a huge fir tree.

"Here, here are the biggest, driest cones of all! Take these," he shrieked jumping up and down excitedly.

Suddenly, there was such a shower of cones that the poor woman was frightened. She tried to run away, but could not move until the little imp had filled her basket.

And, having started home, the basket grew heavier and heavier—she wished the elf hadn't disappeared, he might have helped her.

When she finally reached her hut, she called the children to help carry the basket inside. Emptying the basket, they found that every cone was solid silver.

Commemorating these legendary silver cones gilded pine cones are sold in modern stores, to decorate our homes—to burn and crackle gaily in our Christmas fires.

State Unemployment Highest Since February of '56

NEW APPLICATIONS for work at State Employment offices during November totaled 11,650, a decrease of 2,800 from October but 1,500 more than the total for November 1956, according to a report released today by Arthur D. Kelly, director of the Alabama Department of Industrial Relations.

A short work month, excessive rains, additional layoffs, and a general let-up in hirings were the predominant factors in the labor market picture during November. Inclement weather and severe crop losses were reflected in lagging retail sales and in service activities.

Job seekers reported by local offices registered 42,224 at the end of November, the highest total recorded since February 1956.

Initial claims for unemployment insurance dropped ten per cent to 16,266 in November as compared with 18,063 in October. The largest reductions occurred in the areas served by the Birmingham, Ensley and Mobile local offices, where the October claims load was inflated by sizeable layoffs in aircraft manufacture, coal mining, primary metals, ship repair, and a government installtion.

The total amount of unemployment insurance payments advanced six percent to $1,571,391 as compared with $1,488,097 last month and $901,201 in November a year ago. Some 23,800 persons drew unemployment insurance during the month, a gain of seven per cent over October, with the average size of check for a week of total unemployment being $22.45 as against $21.62 the previous month.

Nonfarm job placements dropped sharply in November to total 6,248, the lowest level since the end of World War II. With the exception of government, all major industry divisions registered placement declines from October, with the service division reporting the heaviest loss and the trade division in second place.

U. S. CORN CHAMPS

250.85 bushels of corn from one acre of ground—that's the record of the U. S. corn growing champion for 1957. Lindon Ratliff, a 14 year old 4-H and F.F.A. boy from Prentiss County, Mississippi, follows in the footsteps of his brother, Lamar, who set the world mark of 304.38 bushels two years ago. The Ratliffs have set five U. S. records on their plot and have history's highest six year average yield of 234 bushels to the acre.

Keys to the Ratliff system are lots of fertilizer; a high-yielding adapted seed corn, Funk's G-711, planted thick; proper cultivation; and irrigation if necessary.

PLENTIFUL PINES MAKE PERFECT CHRISTMAS TREES

IT'S probably the same old story this year. Farm folks are intent on finding cedar trees for Christmas and city folks will probably pay high prices for Western firs or spruces.

The 'not so happy' part of this is that these southerners are overlooking the possibilities of their own plentiful pines. The short-needled Virginia pines—with which northern Alabamians are particularly endowed—look great with a litle tinsel hung on their full branches which grow all the way to the ground.

Central and Southern parts of the state have loblolly, shortleaf, slash and longleaf pines.

You may have to cut down a tree and then cut the top out to get a green tree of just the right shape but some folks are of the opinion that you "just can't beat the looks of long needles sprayed with silver or draped with filmy spun glass."

Telephone Talk

By

IRVIN COMMANDER
Your Telephone Manager

WE'LL BE HERE FOR CHRISTMAS! You know that wonderful feeling that comes on Christmas Eve when every one is bustling around and hurrying home with waves and shouts of Merry Christmas? You may be surprised to learn that for us in the telephone family it keeps up throughout the holiday season. Many of us stay on the job, but we still get a share of the Christmas spirit. It comes with the happy calls and messages you make through us to friends and family. This is one of the reasons I'm glad I'm a telephone man, one of many who think the best way to wish you Merry Christmas is by saying, "We'll be here for Christmas!"

LAST MINUTE SHOPPING? If you're like me, you probably still have some presents to get, even at this late date. If that's the case let me suggest you look around in some of your friends' homes, and see if they could use an additional phone or two. Then give extensions in colors to mix and match with the colors in their rooms. Call us now, tell us your color choices, and we'll gift wrap and deliver before Christmas, or, if you prefer we can furnish gift certificates. Of course phones you give can be exchanged for different colors after the holidays. Simple as that for such pretty and practical gifts . . . the kind anyone would surely like to receive.

MERRY CHRISTMAS FROM US TO YOU! This is my last Telephone Talk for the year, and while writing it I've been looking back to see what kind of a year 1957 was. Most ways for us at the telephone company it was a good year. We've been able to bring more telephone services to more people than ever before. We plan to do even better next year. We hope your year has been good, too, and that in some small way your telephone and your telephone company have helped you make it fun to phone. Until 1958 then, Merry Christmas, Happy New Year from all of us to all of you.

Circuit Convention At Anniston Deemed Success by 'Witnes'es'

The three-day circuit convention of Jehovah's Witnesses came to a close early this week with 662 in attendance at the final session. The gathering was held at the City Auditorium in Anniston.

J. W. Filson, district supervisor of the group, delivered the widely-publicized talk at 3 p.m. on the subject "What Are The Prospects For Lasting Peace?"

"When peace does come, as it is certain to do within this generation's lifetime, men will not be able to take the credit for it! It will come rather because of Divine intervention and it will last forever", Filson told his audience. Commenting on lasting peace, he declared, "Only a few men want war. The majority want peace. They have worked for it, fought for it, and are willing even to die for it! Why then don't we have it?

Filson assured his audience that there will be lasting peace by saying, "We can look for and expect it only through Jehovah's appointed and authorized king Christ Jesus and His Heavenly Kingdom."

A concluding talk by Filson "Accepting Responsibility in the New World Society", outlined the Christian obligation of sharing the "good news" with friends and neighbors to the utmost of one's ability.

Over 50 ministers, from as far as Montgomery and Columbus, Ga. participated in the talks and discussions during the three-day gathering.

William E. Robinson, presiding minister of the Clanton congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, said upon returning home, "There is now life or death responsibility upon us to get this indispensible information into the hands of sincere people before ths system ends at Armageddon."

All Amendments Pass In Light Election Turnout

IN THE Amendment Election Tuesday all 25 of the proposed Amendments passed and most of them by a wide margin. Reason for the unusual vote of the local citizens was the light vote.

Never before in the memory of the old-timers can it be remembered when the voters went to the polls and voted 'Yes' on all Amendments—and as a rule the vote is 'No', regardless of the merit of the Amendment being considered.

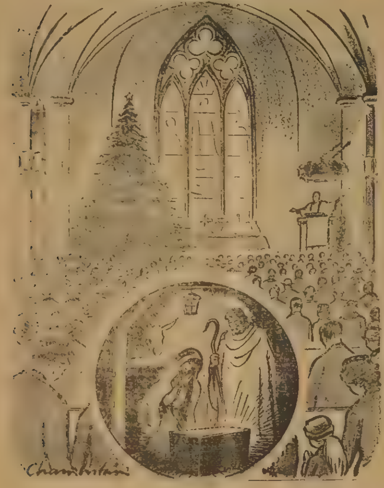
'FROM THIS HUMBLE BEGINNING'



NOTHING a writer can say will change anyone's mind about anything. However, a writer can plant the seed and a tree of thought can grow and branch out until it touches every corner of our civilization.

Thus it is with this Christmas season.

We sincerely pray for the seeds of kindness, sown by those of us who understand, will grow into a tree of hope and sincerity that will branch out into all phases of our lives and our wish is that the ultimate fruit of these labors be simply—brotherly love—among all men and among all nations!

We hope that the sincerity of this season brings out the best in us all, in this time when it is most needed and that next year at this time we will have no racial strife, no foreign unrest, no bitterness towards the powers that be in our government and above all a better standard of living—one that is not measured in dollars and cents.

On Christmas Day this year, rededicate your life and its purpose to promoting Brotherly Love. Not on a large scale, but on one that you understand and will appreciate. If you do this, the dream mentioned above will not only become a reality, but your own life will be richer with the knowledge that you've helped make the world better.

The directions are simple and to follow them is difficult, but should you see fit to follow them you will be closer to "the" goal in life.

We cannot change the government or the policies which sometimes lead us astray, but we can, in our own lives, live according to the dictates of our soul and conscience. We, in reality, are the government and the vital force thereof and as it is said, "As the twig is bent, so grows the tree."

Shape your "twig" so that the tree to come will be straight and tall and above all, true to all mankind; and from that Humble Beginning of so long ago will come the true meaning and Spirit of Christmas.

No Black Crepe For Christmas----

YOU WHO ARE READING this are probably some child's father or mother, or grandparent, or favorite aunt or uncle.

You are, therefore, Santa Claus to some much loved child or family, and Christmas is coming.

Each time you get into your car, try to remember this. Why not try to remember, as you take the wheel, that our family, or others dear to you, are looking forward to a jolly family Christmas?

The festive air of December breeds extra hazard on the road. December is also the month when the hours of darkness are at their maximum, and everyone knows that night driving, especially after a day's work, is more dangerous than daylight driving. Don't allow yourself that little extra so-called "Christmas Cheer" before you leave a friend's house to drive home —you may never make it.

Let the holly wreath hang gaily on your front door—not a wreath swathed in black ribbon.

Have Santa Claus visit your family at Christmastime—not the mortician.

For yourself—and more important—for others, please drive safely and carefully.

By "TUCK"

YOU know, it's at this time of the year that we most want to get out and do something big for our fellowman, but we just don't have the gumption to put our good intentions to work. Good intentions, as such, are not always wrong, but they so seldom get anything accomplished.

AND speaking of good intentions; how many people this year will give gifts that cannot be used by the recipient. And by the same token; how many people will receive gifts who will not appreciate the thought and feeling that was put into the [illegible] Such is life they say, but must it be?

EARL Wilson told us last week that our friend Rev. Marvin K Vickers was asking about us the other day when he was by to see him. By golly Mr. Earl, the next time you see him we'd appreciate it if you'd ask him why he won't come around to see us next time he's in Clanton. We realize he's a mighty popular fellow, but after all he is the one who "tied the knot" for us and we just wanted to show him how well we're doing with this rope around our neck. Truth is, we didn't even know it meant "literally" and our neck's getting sore as the dickens!

WELL, we already had our neck in it, and now that our foot's in it, too. . . well, we might as well wish you a Happy New Year so we can miss next week's column and recuperate.

WE have a request from a Mrs. Pearline McKee of Rt. 1, Clanton to inquire about work for her. We'll tell you right now, Mrs. McKee's not the most capable girl you'll ever find, but you'll never find a more sincere one. She truly needs the job. She has two small sons—cute as peckled pups and she is making an earnest and sincere effort to help her husband support them. She says she can do almost anything except bookkeeping and you know, we believe that thing. If you need, or know of anyone who needs a helping hand and can at the same time afford to lend a helping hand, we'd appreciate you notifying us—Bob Tucker, C/o Chilton County News. Or write directly to Mrs. McKee on Rt. 1, Clanton. Thanks!

MIXED emotions to say the least. That's what so many folks are guilty of these holidays when so many homecomings and greetings are in order. For instance, this past week at the Chilton County News alone reunions have been taking place coming and a'going. It's enough to make even the hardhearted break down and get the "Christmas Spirit". Our sister and family, whom we haven't seen in well over a year came in from Maine, the L. R. West family.

And just about the most faithful employee of the News, Paul Connell, had both his brothers home in one day, one of which he hadn't seen in over two and one-half years. So, you can see what we mean by "mixed emotions".

IT'S NEWS to me! So we'll pass it on to you. The Civitan Club is celebrating it's Third Anniversary tonight in conjunction with their annual Christmas Party. It's gonna be a b-i-i-g deal! Armistead Selden, Representative from the 6th Congressional District is to be the featured speaker. The Civitan Club, since it's organizing has done some mighty fine things for Clanton and we're proud to say that we have been associated with them. We hope the feeling is mutual—at any rate, they have a fine organization headed this year by William (Bill) Hicks, who himself, is a fine, fine fellow.

WE would like—here and now—to wish—from the bottom of our hearts—all our readers a Beautiful Christmas and a Prosperous New Year filled with the goodness of life that comes from living it right. The Lord willin', we, and our family will enjoy a wonderful Christmas—it is our wish that you and yours enjoy it as much—MERRY CHRISTMAS!

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

ALL DISEASES ARE CURABLE

Health is a continuous ever-flowing process. We move always in one of two directions, either toward good health or toward sickness. This is the dynamic principle of life: life is ever moving and constantly changing. The health you possess today can be lost tomorrow.

Therefore, we must chart our course and pursue a dedicated journey

If you find yourself in the wrong world—the world of unhappiness and affliction—don't cry out: "I am lost, I am unhealthy beyond help." What is true is that you are in the process of being lost. But where there is life there is hope. One of the things most necessary for you to be healed in body, mind and soul is that you must want to be healed.

All diseases are curable—but all people are not. Jesus told His disciples, "I give unto you power to heal all manner of sickness and disease." But He did not say, "I give you power to heal all people." Some have faith and believe in God. Some do not. And it is faith that brings spiritual healing.

You must have a will to be well, a desire to be healed, a purpose in believing. If you don't, all of medical science, all the promises of God and all the prayers of His servants will not help you. Your will is very important. You must will it done. Jesus said to one, "Be it unto thee even as thou wilt." But this Scripture is only for those people who want to believe.

A prominent minister gave this illustration as he stood before an audience. Picking up a book, he said, "I am going to give this book to my friend here." He turned and offered the book to the man who sat on the platform with him.

When he turned back, he still had the book in his hand.

Then he asked the man, "Why didn't you accept the book?" He answered, "You held on to it too tight." That is the way many people do with their diseases. They hang on to them. Instead of trusting God completely to heal them and accepting His promise as absolutely true, they continue to cultivate the illness by constantly acknowledging its presence.

But someone asked, "How can you refuse to recognize an illness when it hurts so badly?"

Well, God gives us the promise of healing. You may continue to think pain, or you may think of His promise to heal you. If you would be healed, accept His promise and go on rejoicing that the promises are true until your healing is accomplished. Will it to be so and believe God. Then act upon that believing.

When we chart our course toward health and happiness through faith in God, then God becomes responsible for the results. He has promised health. He will not break His word.

What Or Whom Are We Worshipping

Clanton, Ala.
December 16, 1957

Dear Editor:

THE CHRISTMAS season is upon us again, with it's hustling and bustling and commercialization. I wonder how many in the great rush, stop to think or wonder how it all started? Most people think they are celebrating Christ's birthday.

That is what they have been taught since they were babies, and what they are still teaching their children. The fact is, no one knows when Christ was born.

There is no record of his birth, but from what we do know and from what the Bible says about it, would indicate that He was not born in the middle of winter. Bethlehem is in about the same latitude as we are, between 32 and 33 degrees North Latitude. Read your bible and see if you can find anything that would indicate that Christ was born in the latter part of December in a climate almost exactly like ours.

The Yuletide festival was a Pagan institution, long before Christ's time. The primitive people, who were really Sun Worshippers celebrated it as the time when the Sun had reached the end of it journey southward and started to return. They did not confine their celebration to any certain date, but kept it up for many days.

For twelve hundred years preceding Christ's time, a Saviour named Krishna was worshipped universally.

He was claimed to be the Son of their God. He was born in India, in a manger. His mother was a virgin, who was visited by a shaft of light, instead of an Angel. His father was also a carpenter.

Krishna lived a very good and Holy life, confounded the wise men, cast out Devils, and even had a Last Supper, and was finally crucified on a cross between two thieves for the sins of the world. The story of Christ, is related almost identical to that of Krishna.

The Christians appropriated the Yuletide and settled on December 25th as Christmas, somewhere about the Fifteenth Century after Christ's time.

Yours truly,
WES GILLITY

By C. WILSON HARDER

Probably one of the most significant actions ever undertaken by the Federal Trade Commission is now in the process of awaiting decisions on appeals taken by the defendants.

C. W. Harder

In a test action, the FTC filed charges against six major packers of grocery store packers for giving discriminatory allowances to certain chain operations not made available to all.

Named in the case has been the big three TV-radio networks, NBC, CBS, and ABC because FTC charges they have set up the plan whereby indirect allowances are given in violation of Robinson-Patman provisions of anti trust laws.

As developed in the testimony, these three giants of the broadcasting industry in various leading cities, approached the major supermarket chains and made them deals whereby the chains would receive free radio and TV time in return for agreements to promote certain products.

The networks then went to suppliers with advertising contracts which promised in return for a certain minimum of time purchased on radio or TV that the network would get them in-store promotions, other merchandising work in the cooperating chains.

Thus, while FTC holds that there is no direct payoff by suppliers to the chains, there is a direct payoff inasmuch as unless the suppliers purchased the required amount of time, the chains would not receive free air time for promotion of their stores.

While it is not surprising that the FTC, once this agency found out what was going on, stepped into this tie-up arrangement, it is perhaps quite surprising that the Federal Communications Commission, which supposedly controls the broadcasting to keep air free, did not step in first.

It is not too difficult to predict that come January, Rep. E. Celler, N.Y., may make an issue of this matter. For quite some time he has headed a committee of the House Judiciary Committee that has been taking a long look at FCC practices.

In fact, Rep. Oren Harris, Ark in a recent public statement said that the House committee he heads will seriously consider putting the FCC under the control of a Congressional committee.

When originally set up in the early days of radio, FCC was supposed to safeguard the rights of the whole public.

It would appear rather obvious that the rights of the wh public are not being safeguarded when the major networks permitted to make deals with few chain stores and a few big food packers willing to pay t tariff demanded by [illegible] for achieving this favoritism these selected chain stores.

Thus, this action by FTC will probably have far reaching repercussions.

There is substantial sentiment in Congress already that perha in the past Congress has given too wide powers to many burea without proper Congression supervision and that it is ti Congress remedies this matter

Thus, it will not be too surprising if the coming session of Congress will be known in history as the "Bureaucratic Basher" session.

Lewis Mitchell, quarterback and Captain finished his last game in high school by throwing six touchdown passes

James Fuqua, as end, halfback, and co-captain is a real rugged end and can go places.

Henry "Dub" Latham, fullback, 225 pounds of dynamite plugged up a big hole in the middle line. Bobby Langston, Woody Ratliff, Paul Keener and Billy Giles were all good men.

Kenneth Burnett caught three touchdown passes in his final game.

Betty Lawrence is a two-year cheerleader. Betty put forth an effort all year and we will miss her next year.,

The school paper congratulates Coach Kelley on a splendid job and thanks the cheerleaders for their good work as supporters of the team.

Avoid Holiday Hazards; Watch Out When You Shop

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

WISE CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS should complete their gift buying well in advance of the last-minute crush for several important reasons.

Miss Smith

Not only will they have a much better selection of merchandise and avoid the crowds, but they'll also avoid many of the hazards which threaten pedestrians and motorists alike during the final Christmas shopping rush.

For during the days preceding the holidays, both pedestrians and drivers are apt to be so preoccupied with Christmas preparations and festivities that they let their guard down in traffic. And when you add to this the state of confusion brought about by the holiday spirit, crowded streets and the hazards of winter weather—at least, in the northern states—the stage is set for danger.

For those who must venture out at the last minute (and, despite all good intentions, there's always at least one forgotten gift), remember and observe these basic, common-sense pedestrian rules:

Cross the street only at corners, use pedestrian crosswalks, never dart into traffic from between parked cars, stay alert, and watch for cars from all directions.

Remember, too, that snow or rainy weather and December's early darkness often make it difficult to see traffic and for cars to see you. So avoid carrying packages or umbrellas in such a manner that your vision is blocked and be especially cautious at night, particularly if streets are wet or slippery.

If you plan to complete your Christmas shopping by car, don't let the holiday spirit or your impatience with traffic cause you to forget your safe driving habits. Here are a few more rules to remember:

1. Never window shop while you drive. Park, get out on the right side of your car, and then look.

2. Be certain that you can see danger. Don't pile packages on the back seat so that the rear window is obstructed, or drive with snow and ice on the windshields.

3. Stay alert. Preoccupation with holiday plans weakens your defenses and diverts your safety control.

4. Reduce speed. This is your most important protection against holiday driving hazards.

Odd Shapes Rise In Nevada Desert

The Nevada desert, site of many an abandoned settlement, has sired a 20th century "ghost town."

No one lives there. And yet it is a town of the present and future—complete with modern underground parking garages without cars, huge doors leading to nowhere, and futuristic domes emerging from a landscape almost as barren as the moon.

This is "Survival Town" — a community dedicated to its own destruction as a test site for atomic blast effects on various shelter-type structures.

Constructed by the Federal Civil Defense Administration in cooperation with the Atomic Energy Commission and other private and public agencies, "Survival Town" includes underground home shelters and large urban shelters, new dome-type shelters being considered because they are easily built and cost relatively little, a small, blast-resistant "school" building, various types of doors and valves to close shelter openings against a nuclear blast wave, and even a complete bank vault.

Yuletide Season's Social Events

Social Event of Year Captures True Yuletide Spirit

AS FAR AS WE know, one of the best ways to "come down" with the Christmas Spirit was to tour the Holiday Homes" in Clanton on Sunday, December 15.

Hundreds of Clantonians visited the breathtakingly decorated homes of Judge and Mrs. J. Lee Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Jones.

The Yuletide Spirit was at its peak on this day, when the Hemerocallis Garden Club and the Garden Club of Clanton showed that they are truly artistically endowed. They are to be commended on their efforts put forth in making this a tremendous succes .

And that's not the best part! Proceeds from this extravaganza have been designated to go to the building of a Community Center for Clanton.

The Hemerocallis Club chose the spacious old Colonial style home of Judge and Mrs. J. Lee Smith using green and gold for their formal colors in dedorations and their theme was. . . you guessed it, "Suddenly It's Christmas".

Each room was decorated individually with much thought and preparation put into details.

The Clanton Garden Club chose the English Cottswold Cottage home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto oJnes for their setting with greenery and red holly berries and the gay, festive side of the holidays stressed.

Their very appropriate theme was "Deck the Halls With Boughs of Holly".

This was truly the social event of the year, and as a "First", it was a success to say the least. The painstaking preparation and the untiring efforts of these local ladies probably has introduced a tradition for Clanton—we like to think so, anyhow.

Apples Add Flavor To Baked Spareribs

This is the time of year when spareribs are fine eating—a delicious roast for a cold night. And when you add this new apple-flavoring stuffing, you add the gourmet touch making spareribs a superb dinner dish.

Bake twice the recipe in large pans for a church supper or big buffet party: cut roast ribs and stuffing in small pieces—many guests like to eat spareribs from their fingers. The apple stuffing is delicious in a crown roast of pork chops, too.

APPLE-STUFFED SPARERIBS

- 1 pkg. prepared bread stuffing
- ½ cup chopped onions
- 2 cups chopped apples
- ⅛ teaspoon each powdered mace, sage, nutmeg and cloves
- 2 matching racks of spareribs

Prepare stuffing as directed on package, adding onions, apples and spices; mix well. Spread on 1 rack of spareribs; top with second rack; tie together securely with white string. Put in roasting pan with ½ cup hot water; cover. Roast in moderate oven, 350°, about 3 hours or until thoroughly done. Remove cover during last hour of roasting. Makes 8 generous servings.

LUTHERAN CHURCH NOTES

We regret to announce that there will not be midnight Christmas Eve services this year, due to the street conditions in front of the church. Instead the Christmas Service will be held on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 22nd at the regular hour of 3 p.m.

ONE of the most delightful Christmas parties of this season was held last Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 11th at the home of Mrs. Nels Petersen, at which time the Lutheran Church women held their annual Christmas Party. The home was lovely with the seasons decorations and a beautiful program was enjoyed along with group singing of Christmas Carols.

The dining table was lovely with lace cloth over green with a lovely centerpiece of glistening leaves flanked by tall white tapers. The ladies furnished the refreshments which were delicious home-made cakes, cookies, sandwiches and various kinds of nuts and candies, etc. After refreshments were served, the exchange of gifts took place. This always creates a lot of joy. Everyone received something nice. It was a bitter cold day, but despite this about 18 ladies braved the cold and enjoyed a lovely party.

MR. and Mrs. John Brothers of Birmingham visited here Sunday with relatives.

REV. M. Lockhart brought the message Sunday morning at the Baptist Church in the absence of the pastor, Rev. B. B. Burks, who preached the dedication message at Reform, Ala.

WE are happy to report that Mrs. Crit Ray returned home last Wednesday from the hospital.

WE are looking forward to the return home of Mr. Tom Maddox from the Veterans hospital in Montgomery. He will be home on Thursday.

PLEASE remember Mrs. Ervin Gentry as she goes to the Highland Avenue Baptist Hospital on Thursday and is to undergo surgery on Friday.

MISS Betty Freida of Meridian, Miss. arrived here Friday and will begin work the first of the year with the Thorsby Manufacturing Company.

THIS column wishes to express heartfelt sympathy to Mr. Earl Marcus and Mr. Wilbert Marcus in the passing of their dad.

BAGGETT - WATKINS

A wedding of much interest to the people of Thorsby and surrounding communities was that of Miss Earline Baggett and Bobby Jim Watkins, both now of Birmingham where they are employed. Miss Baggett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Baggett and Bobby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Watkins. They were married in Columbus, Miss., the attendants being Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Sorrell of Birmingham.

IT'S A GIRL

Airman and Mrs. W. M. Blackwell (Othello Garrett) of Selma are the proud parents of a 7½ pound girl whom they have named Marian Yvonne. She arrived December 7th at a Selma hospital.

MRS. Mabel Thompson was carried to South Highland Infirmary on Monday for treatment. We wish for Mrs. Thompson a speedy recovery.

MR. AND MRS. WALKER TO CELEBRATE 62ND

THE ORIGIN OF CHRISTMAS CAROLS

The custom of singing Christmas carols dates back to ancient times when waifs and minstrels sang them in the streets.

The first true Christmas carols, which spread to many European countries, originated in Italy during the thirteenth century. These carols, with their folksong-like quality and childlike simplicity, gave way in popularity to more dignified and solemn Christmas hymns.

MOTOR MAIDS

It Takes More Than 20/20

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

"I DIDN'T SEE the other car!"—an all too-frequent explanation given for an accident—is actually not a valid excuse.

Miss Smith

It's the driver's responsibility to see everything on the highway. It is also his responsibility to recognize any hindrances to his vision—and to drive accordingly.

There are several reasons why motorists fail to see cars, pedestrians, stop signs or other objects in time to avoid an accident. Among these are driving too fast, fatigue, an obstruction at an intersection, blinding lights from another car —or inadequate vision.

One out of every six motorists needing special visual attention is unaware of his shortcomings, reports the Motorist's Vision Committee of the American Optometric Association.

Safe vision, from the standpoint of driving, is made up of four essential visual skills, the Association points out. They are distance acuity, proper field of vision, night vision and depth perception.

Distance acuity is the ability to see objects clearly, without blur, from 20 feet to many yards ahead. The AOA considers 20/40 vision (with or without glasses) a minimum requirement. Tests have shown that the average traffic sign with five-inch letters can be read at about 280 feet by the driver with 20/20 vision, at 113 feet by those with 20/40 vision and at only 90 feet by motorists with 20/50 vision.

Inability to read signs or spot hazards accounts for thousands of accidents, AOA officials believe.

Proper field of vision means being able to see over a large area without moving either your eyes or your head. This visual skill is important because many highway hazards must be seen from the side if they are to be avoided. An accident can be caused by "tunnel vision," in which the driver can see only straight ahead.

Night vision includes the ability to see adequately under low illumination, to see against glare and to recover rapidly from the glare of oncoming headlights. Driving in a semi-blinded state contributes to a high proportion of night driving accidents.

Depth perception involves the ability to judge accurately the distance between your car and other objects. Collisions can occur through misjudging relative distances of approaching cars.

The AOA has listed several recommendations for those who lack these visual skills; periodic eye examinations with special reference to driving; if glasses are prescribed, always wear them when driving; if troubled by headlight glare, cut down on night driving—and drive more slowly after dark.

Other recommendations: compensate for inadequate field of vision by turning your head to watch for danger; be extra careful in passing other cars if depth perception is poor, and avoid driving at high speeds.

There is no substitute for alertness and caution.

PEACEFUL--

Christmas Holidays Here Remain Quiet, Uneventful

CLANTON and Chilton County enjoyed one of the best Holiday season's ever, during the 1957 season.

Business was good according to most merchants and although buying started late, it seems to be a custom among holiday shoppers.

According to a statement from Sheriff Hugh Champion Thursday, it was the quietest Christmas Season in a long time. No arrests, no accidents where anyone was injured seriously; no fights and everyone enjoyed the Season.

In the State five persons lost their lives in automobile accidents and 218 were killed accidentally over the nation.

Of the Nation's total, traffic killed 172; fires 26; and miscellaneous tragedy 20.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

from The Bible

In Thee, O Lord, do I put my trust: let me never be put to confusion.—(Psalm 71, 1.)

Those who put their trust in God, completely and without reservation—who say "Thy will, not mine, be done" in wondrous faith, shall evermore be calm and strong, free from doubt and confusion.

Manufacturer Calls For Serious Interest In Politics

AMERICA'S businessmen and its women both should take an active part in their communities' affairs, and women should take a "real interest" in local and state as well as national politics, according to Milton C. Lightner, 1958 president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

"Never before in history has the future of a great nation depended more upon its women," Mr. Lightner declared before an assembly of them recently, adding:

"The America of tomorrow, in large measure, will be as you create it today.

'What Makes It Tick?'

"Give all the time you can to your community activities through women's oragnizations, the P.T.A., the Community Chest and in other fields.

"Find out what makes your local government tick. It's your government, and no one has a better right to find out and help.

"Take a real interest in politics at the local and state levels—not just once in four years when we elect a President.

"There's nothing wrong with politics except for some of the people who are in it—and maybe it will be better if you push some of them out."

PRACTICES WHAT HE PREACHES

Practicing what he preaches in relation to businessmen being active in their communities' affairs, Mr. Lightner has been chairman of the zoning board in his hometown of Ridgewood, N. J., president of the board of trustees of the local YMCA and is vestryman and warden of his church.

Mr. Lightner has been president of the Singer Manufacturing Company since 1949 and associated with it since 1927.

He was born in Detroit, Mich. on April 11, 1890.

Christmas Program Moves Audience With Its' Sincerity

Producers, Choir, Actors Recreate Christmas Miracle

THE White Christmas' Program held at the Frst Methodist Church in Clanton on Sunday, December 22 was representative of the Christmas Programs all over Chilton County.

This year the general feeling was to "renew" the true meaning of Christmas and what it means to us individually and collectively and with this thought in mind, most of the Programs were unusually meaningful.

The entire story was centered around the birth of Christ and events leading up to this wonderful time in our history.

The scenery, props, the music by the choir and the participants themselves were superb as a whole gave the best performance that Clanton has ever seen.

We use this Christmas Event as evidence of the ability of the people around us and moreover, the faith and spirit that still lives on in most of us.

Most of those in this heartwarming portrayal gave much credit and praise to Mr. Charles Griffin, producer of the show. He, Miss Helen Parrish, Mrs. R. C. Williams, Mrs. Gordon Robertson, Mrs. Joe Campbell and Mrs. C. C. Fiquette, to mention only a few of the many talented who combined efforts and presented this unforgettable age-old Story of Christmas.

We, as were many others, were skeptical of the entire thing at first because we kept hearing how they had changed the Christmas Story. Having a lot of "old-fashioned" blood in our veins we were a'gin it!

We say with all sincerity, however, that they did anything but change the Christmas Story.

They added scenes and events leading up to the birth of Christ that gave the overall theme a clearer, richer meaning. They presented the "whole" story and in reality had a more "old-fashioned" Christmas Program than we had dreamed of.

Too much cannot be said commending those who had a part in making this program the success that it was and we congratulate, without exception, the entire company of 1957.

Mr. Griffin, who compiled the events depicted and directed the program has given evidence of a rare talent indeed and his technique evidences the divine inspiration seen so much during this 1957 Christmas Season.

We can only add, that we regret that more Chiltonians, Americans and Christians and non-Christians everywhere were unable to see this inspiring portrayal.

It could not help but cause good feeling among any who saw it.

We hope the folks who performed so wonderfully and sincerely on this occasion will receive all the warmth and feeling throughout the coming year that they put into this creation.

We, in Chilton County this year, were surely blessed with the presence of the Spirit of Christmas.

Twister Takes Light Toll; Causes Turmoil

HIGH WINDS tore through No. Clanton during the early morning hours last Friday and damaged more than a score of homes. Property damage has been estimated up to $100,000.

Most badly damaged was the Dan River Mills plant where estimates of damage ran as high as $25,000. The north end of the huge structure was caved in by the high winds and the rain and winds damaged much cloth and machinery.

Red Cross reports in this week disclose that practically [illegible] homes damaged by the Tornado were covered by insurance. Only two families applied for and received Red Cross assistance and the total Red Cross expenditures were $345.10.

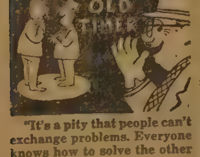
DANGEROUS DECEPTION----

OUR FREE ENTERPRISE economy has provided more of the good things of life than any other system on earth. We have kept on growing all the time; no waiting for something to happen, but making it happen—not wanting to get going, but going!

Our dynamic economy promises to go on providing us with vast amounts of goods. But, if some powerful monopolistic labor union bosses in a pattern-setting industry should be able to force it into accepting the shorter work week, we would be grasping for promised benefits most deceptive.

It is demonstrably impossible to have both more goods and shorter hours of work. We may either continue our upward climb on the ladder of progress—or descend to a lower overall standard of living.

Whichever the case may be; it is the American people who should decide and not union monopoly. And so it will be, if good men do something about the conditions that prevail.



"It's a pity that people can't exchange problems. Everyone knows how to solve the other fellow's."

THE HOME-HEATING PROBLEM

According to some authorities, leaky doors, windows, and cracks answer for almost one-third of the heat lost from a house. Storm windows, storm doors, weather stripping, and caulking will cut this waste. And in some cases, it'll save up to 20 percent of the fuel needed for heat.

MINNEAPOLIS TRIBUNE

Woman-Behind-The-Watt!----

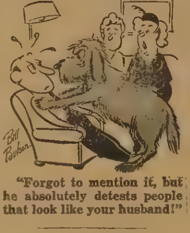
AS WE KEEP HEARING, the average American family is the best fed, best nourished in the entire world. But we needn't think it's done with mirrors—or even by hose "modern conveniences". There's still that old-fashioned convenience known as Father, who gets up the pay envelope. And, lest we forget, Mother is still the mainstay of the family's physical well-being. In fact, it must be a little discouraging for the keeper of the kitchen, the household tactician, purchasing agent, health officer and drill-master to read and hear about how she spends her days luxuriating in front of the TV set — thanks to the electrical do-alls in her kitchen. She has it better than Grandma, of course, and she loves hose appliances that make her job easier. But now, as always, it is the little woman behind the plug who must put these kichen missiles o the best possible use.

Maybe she doesn't know an electron from a proton. Maybe she couldn't cope with the scientific minds that design these household helpmates. "But", says John Oster, Jr., an expert in the field himself, "she can teach us a few things about new ways to make use of them. With what mere males term her 'complete lack of mechanical know-how' she can make these electrical slaves do tricks the inventors never thought of!

"Without the help of 'motherly mechanics'," says the manufacurer most electrical appliances would still be considered luxury gadgets—instead of the accepted accessories to the job of producing better food for better families in better time.'

In taking America's kitchen automation for granted, it's pretty difficult to realize there are still areas in the world where it would take about 15 hours to prepare the kind of a "feast" we may expect any night at our dinner table. And with devices such as the new blenders and mixers, etc. taking the spotlight—there will be many a gastronomic tour-de-force that no amount of mere back-breaking toil could produce.

Let those who will shoot for the moon. We like it here.



"Forgot to mention it, but he absolutely detests people that look like your husband!"

Civil Defense Has Place For Religion In Its Ranks

I TAKE THIS opportunity to thank the people of our fine County, both elected officials, and individual citizens, who have cooperated with me as your Civil Defense director to put into being an active organization, which could be very effective in case of either natural or man-made disaster.

It is fitting at this time of the year, as we think of "Peace On Earth, Goodwill To Men," to inform you of the important part that "Spiritual Influence" plays in Civil Defense.

Never since the uncertain days of our birth as a nation in the days of the Revolution, has our destiny hung by such a sender thread. For the first time in our history has such mortal danger confronted every citizen, every family and every city.

I seek to point out, what has been said by many observers, that the situation in which we find ourselves is more far-reaching than economics or politics or military power, and that it is much older—more than a hundred years older—than the dangers of atomic war. The thesis is that the real conflict is idealogical and underlies all the other external manifestations.

The coming of the atomic threat has, in a sense diverted us from the main issue in the world conflict—the conflict of ideas. Even if airtight, reliable agreement against the use of tomic power for war could be obtained, we would still need civil defense, for the communists would then certainly intensify their idealogical campaign. On anuary 6, 1955, in his state of the Union Message to Congress, our President said: "It is of utmost importance that each of us understand the true nature of the struggle now taking place in the world. It is not merey a struggle of economic theories, or forms of government, or military power. At issue is the true nature of man." It is therefore, a struggle which goes to the roots of the human spirit and its shadow fall across the long sweep of man's destiny. This prize so precious, so fraught with ultimate meaning, is the true object of the contending forces in the world.

Communism has rejected God in the historic sense and has substituted a God of its own making, for its own purposes, and in its own image. Man, under communism exists for the party, or the state, to be used, abused, or destroyed, as the party welfare may dictate. Atheistic Communism also removes or dulls man's guiding inner light, conscience. Atheism is subversive to any form of poitical society, and it is particularly subversive to American democracy because it destroys our foundations.

Our nation was born out of convictions concerning God and human dignity. I believe that communism must fail because it disregards and defies God's order; however, I think that we must refine and restate and relive our own spiritual democratic foundations. All that is necessry for the triumph of evil is that good men do nothing. If we have no enthusiasm for our way of life we can never counteract the fanatical devotion to an idal of the communists, and our urgent need is to be so sure of the rightness of our spiritual foundations and the correctness of our political institutions that there will be no chance for anyone to disturb our confidence in ourselves, our neighbor, our government and our God.

So, as your Civil defense director for our fine County, I want you to know that in my way of thinking the important work in Civil Defense could and should be the spiritual aspect, because if we are sure that there is, indeed, an absolute and unalterable standard of morality of justice, and honesty, and that our American Democracy is an expression of these absolutes, we will be fearless and firm. We will be able to pledge and stake our lives and our fortunes on a glorious future for our Country.

Democracy, as we know it, depends on religion; the Christian religion. If our democracy should vanish, it would be because we have not been sufficiently Christian. Our noblest ideas are religious ideas, our highest standards are religious standards; our most desired goals are religious goals. Allow religion to languish and democracy begins to disintegrate. We cannot neglect religion or trifle with this inheritance and keep it. We deserve it only as we cherish and cultivate it. If we are faithful to our trust, the the greatest days of the United States are ahead.

During this Christmas season, and the New Year approaching, I trust this message from your Civil Defense Corps will be close to your hearts. Merry Christmas, and Happy New Year!

-s- BURTON MULLIN
director.

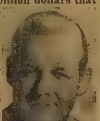
By C. WILSON HARDER

It would not be surprising if present Congressional pecking at the United States Information Agency, known as USIA, breaks out in an open revolt against this free-wheeling, free-spending operation.

* * *

Not that the billion dollars that this donnybrook has cost the taxpayers is expected to be prime consideration. After all, a billion dollars spent in this phase of the razzle dazzle foreign operations is almost chicken feed by comparison.



C. W. Harder

But there is considerable suspicion that USIA is getting the nation into serious trouble.

In fact, it is possible that a full scale investigation as to what part USIA had to play in the slaughter of thousands of Hungarian freedom fighters may easily be launched.

USIA denies it egged the Hungarian patriots on with "news" broadcasts promising imminent American armed force aid. But there also appears evidence that by quoting certain American officials at the time, such as State Secretary John Dulles' talk of "rollbacks," considerable false optimism was created.

* * *

And of course, the Hungarians could not be expected to know that Dulles does a great deal of talking that is not in tune with the American sentiment.

Of course, for some time, members of Congress have expressed the feeling that the work of USIA is useless. Sen. J. Fulbright takes this stand, as well as Sen. Dennis Chavez, who made trip abroad to study operation and reported on return it has no value.

Rep. John Rooney the other day questioned why USIA should spend $56,400 of U. S. taxpayers' money to furnish free subscriptions to 1000 Englishmen to two New York newspapers.

But over and beyond the spewing out of money on all manner of schemes, there is growing a realization USIA may be dangerous. It operates in 67 nations, operates the powerful Voice of America radio transmission set up. In the last two years the number of employees has been increased by something like 20% so that at present there are over 12,000 on the payroll.

* * *

Half of these employees are foreigners, with no conception of the American ideal. The agency is not responsible to Congress, to State Dept. Defense Dept. or practically anyone else, that anyone knows about.

Instead, as an instrumentality of the U. S. government, USIA tells the world just about what it feels like, purporting to be official U. S. policy.

For example, the votes were not all counted in the last election when USIA started broadcasting to the world that the election results meant no change in American foreign policy, nor any change in collosal U. S. foreign give away programs.

This was all done before the new Congress was organized, had the opportunity to meet and debate the issues.

* * *

Thus, there is a growing fear in many Congressional circles against permitting USIA to continue. Some observers even express the feeling that with disregard for facts, USIA could propagandize the U. S. into a shooting war. So there is strong sentiment that not only is USIA needless, it is probably dangerous as well.

DIARRHEA— IT'S CAUSES & CURES

DIARRHEA often appears at in-opportune moments, as when an amateur actor faces his first audience or a college student takes his first final exams. Such instances of diarrhea are due to excitation of the nervous system with over stimulation of peristalsis or action of the intestines. Diarrhea also is caused by food that is chemically or mechanically irritating or food that is of doubtful purity.

Many of the cathartics also act as irritants or as direct stimulants of peristalsis causing diarrhea or constipations or an alternation between the two. A gradual onset of diarrhea with occasional remissions and with increasing cramps, loss of weight and mild bouts of fever, suggests ulceration.

The term diarrhea means a flow of intestinal waste of a fluid or semi-fluid consistency. This is caused by the rapid rate of peristalsis which has prevented the normal absorption of water from the colon. Such overactivity of the intestines may cause fatigue of the intestinal musculature. This results in an interference with due absorption of food, the removal of too much water from the intestines and the system as a whole, and also there may be undue loss of mineral salts from the body.

When diarrhea is caused by food infection there is some degree of prostration resulting from diarrhea and vomiting. The short course of acute diarrhea eliminates the need for considering the diet as the food intake is automatically stopped or greatly reduced during the acute stage.

A painless diarrhea in older patients who had previously had normal bowel action offers a suspicion or possible malignancy. The chronic alternation of constipation and diarrhea associated with general abdominal discomfort may be due to irritable colon or colitis. Habitual or recurring attacks of diarrhea should be investigated.

Clock for Christmas

Here's a stylish, modern-look clock, ideal for Christmas giving. It's available in white-and-gold, or black-and-gold color schemes. Latest mechanical innovations also are featured in this "Clock of Tomorrow" by Westclox. It has a single knob which winds both clock mechanism and alarm. Chime alarm starts with a slow, gentle ring, then quickens rapidly if the slumberer is a bit slow to "get moving." Luminous, easy-to-reach button on top of case turns alarm on or off. Other features include luminous dial and hands, non-breakable crystal, and all-metal dust-resistant case. This popular Westclox is a natural to delight any member of the family when found under the tree on Christmas morn.

Miss Cox Newly Elected V.P. Of CCHS Jr. I 4-H Club

MISS Judy Cox has recently been elected as Vice-President of the Junior I 4-H Club of the Chilton County High School by her fellow 4-H'ers. She will replace Miss Gaynelle Wheeler, who is resigning her office because she is moving away from Clanton.

It is with regret that we see Miss Wheeler leaving us, but we are confident that her successor will be an asset to the Club.

At the meeting, which decided the new vice-president, Mrs. Johnny Lane, County Home Demonstration Agent gave a demonstration on table manners—a subject on which all of us could stand some "boning up"—and we don't mean, just the 4-H'ers. Anyhow, the meeting was successful and everyone enjoyed the demonstration.

Junior Citizens Present 'Christmas' At Nursing Home

Health Insurance: Are You Getting Your Money's Worth?

BENEFIT payments to persons covered by hospital expense insurance policies through the nation's insurance companies have increased more than 500% since 1948, the Health Insurance Council reported this week.

Designed to help pay for hospital bills, these benefits, according to the Council have risen at a faster rate than the cost of hospital care in the United States. During the period from 1948 to 1956, hospital charges have increased 125%.

In a projection of 1956 totals reported by insurance companies writing health insurance policies, the Council estimates that more than $1 billion in benefits will be paid in 1957 under hospital expense insurance plans, as compared to some $150 million received by patients confined in hospitals in 1948. During 1956 alone, some $900 million was paid in hospitalization benefits, added the Council, a 500% increase in nine years. These figures represent payments made to help cover the cost of hospital expenses only and do not include benefits paid by insurance companies through other types of pilicies to cover the expenses only. and do not include benefits piad by insurance companies through other types of policies to cover the expenses of medical, surgical, and major medical care, and for loss of income expense insurance.

Evaluating the report, the Council said that the "growth in benefit payments reflects both the greater proportion of hospital expenses being financed through insurance company policies, including practically every type of charge for hospital care, and the record expansion of can Hospital Association, the av- these voluntary health insurance programs."

In this connection, the Council noted that nearly 40%, or over 8 million people, of the 21 million who entered a hospital last year had insurance company policies to help pay for the cost of illness or accident. By the end of 1957, a record 123 million Americans were protected against the cost of hospital care, both through individual and family health policies, and under group insurance programs. This represents a 155% increase in the number of people thus covered since 1948.

In concluding its report of the rise in benefit payments in the last nine years, the Council also noted that there has been a decrease in the time a patient remains in the hospital. According to the Amererage length of time in short-term general hospitals in 1948 was 8.1 days per patient. At the end of 1956, due to the advances in medical care and treatment, this average was reduced to 7.7 days.

The Health Insurance Council comprising eight insurance associations whose members account for 90 per cent of the health policies written by insurance companies—serves as the central source of information for members of the medical and hospital professions on aspects of voluntary health insurance.

Jerseys Outnumber All Others At '57 Dairy Shows

Registered Jersey cattle outnumbered other breeds again this year at district dairy shows.

Over 55 percent of the cattle shown last fall were registered animals of the Jersey breed. Registered Jersey's made up over half of the show stock in 1956.

Here's how other classes of dairy cattle stacked up in district and state events this year:

Gurnseys accounted for slightly over 21 percent of the total. A little over five percent were registered Holsteins, and around 16 percent of the show cattle were grade animals. The remainder were in a special class for artificially-bred cattle

Now here's an over-all account of how the 944 animals shown by 4-H, FFA, and adult producers were distributed over the eight district dairy shows.

The largest number of animals, 202, was entered at the Dadeville show. Second was Montgomery, showing 183. Next in line were these shows: Fayette, with 160; Bessemer, 113; Demopolis, 92; Decatur, 73; Mobile, 66; and Gadsden, 55.

TB Reported At Rate Of Six Cases A Day In November

City With a Thousand Minarets

Sunny Cairo, the capital of Egypt, is wrapped in an afterglow that never fades from the memory of one who has seen the city from the base of some elegant column or the top of some graceful minaret.

Looking from the mighty Citadel—which dates from the days when Sultan Saladin went forth from the gate of Cairo to meet King Richard the Lion Hearted and the Crusaders—all Cairo lies before us. That point commands not only a view in space, but also a full panorama of the procession of civilization.

Cairo was built in 969 A.D. Much of it has changed—for the better—but its picturesque identity still remains. The traces of romantic yesterday are hovering about the city—the shady, scented, winding bazaar district; the narrow partly-roofed lanes with quaint little shops stocked with inlaid work, engraved silver and copper ware, perfumes, ivory and spices. All the senses are touched by the thousand and one discoveries of sounds, smells and textures which combine into a mosaic unknown anywhere else in the world.

Most Cairo streets are living museums basking in the sunshine or blazing neon lights. Apart from the statues and monuments that embellish them, the streets of the poetic city are a colorful kaleidoscope of the east and the west, the old and the new, the medieval and the twentieth century. And above all, the Nile, which has witnessed the rise and fall of empires and which has nursed one of the oldest civilizations known to history, fills the air in many of Cairo's corners with the sweet melody of its rippling waters, with love and fragrance and magical charm.

Yet in the midst of the brilliance, warmth and gaiety, one can always find a haven of quiet and incense and mysticism in this city roofed by so many byzantine flat domes and a forest of minarets pointing erect to the sky over a sea of cupolas and terraces. Quiet meditation is inspired by the majestic mosques both ancient and modern and the venerable churches and monasteries almost as old as Christianity itself.

In this historic setting the mysterious sphinx and the familiar peasant girl take on a deep significance. The sphinx, symbol of Egyptian civilization that lay buried under the sands of time, is rising from an age of foreign occupation and social serfdom. And the girl, mother of all the generations who built the civilization, is removing the veil which kept her in the dark for centuries past to look forward to the future of her country, and the city with a thousand minarets.

Income Tax Fax

Editor's Note: This is the second of a six part series in your Chilton County News. concerning you and your income taxes, which will be due soon. It is an informative series—one which would serve your purpose should you keep up with it.

PART II

Do you have stock market losses? If so, then consider selling the stocks now and using the loss to reduce your tax.

Warning! Do not purchase like or similar stock within 30 days before or 30 days after the sale. If you do, the loss is not allowable.

Here is how to figure capital gains and losses. If you have held the asset for more than six months the gain or loss is "Long Term" and if you have held the asset six months or less the gain or loss is "Short Term".

Short term gains are treated the same as ordinary income but only 50% of long term gains are taxed so it is easy to see that long term gains are advantageous from the tax standpoint. Also, if your taxable income is over $18,000 for a single person or $36,000 for a married couple you shoul use the alternative tax computation for capital gains and pay only 25% of the total amount if your capital gains as tax.

You add all your long term gains and deduct all your long term losses.

Then add all your short term gains and deduct all your short term losses.

If you have a long term gain and a short term gain you compute the tax on each separately.

If you have long term gains and short term losses you deduct the short term losses from the long term gains and compute the tax on the remainder as long term gains.

If you have long term losses and short term gains, you deduct the long term losses from the short term gains and include the remainder as ordinary income.

If you have more losses than gains, or only losses, then you can use the loss to offset ordinary income up to $1,000

Capital losses. either long or short term, are deductible in full from ther capital losses. They are deductible up to $1,000 from ordinary income in any one year. If your loss amounts to more than $1,000 it can be carried over and treated as a short term capital loss in succeeding years. You can deduct $1,000 each year for the next five years, if your loss amounts to that much.

Your los can be deducted in full from capital gains in any year that you have capital gains.

Machinery Develops Kinks In Cold Weather

THERE are still a few more months of cold weather left this winter, and farmers would gain by checking their machinery to see that no "kinks" develop.

Precautionary measures can usually be carried out easily and inexpensively. For example, electrical heating and water systems and pumps can operate freely during the coldest months without much added expense.

A standard 250-watt heat lamp will run only about $1.10. And it costs only 18 cents a day to run it. Suspended high enough so that its light and heat rays cover a pump, a lamp that size throws a protective blanket of warmth around the machinery and keeps it running smoothly.

Tractors also operate more efficiently in cold weather if the engine is warmed ahead of time. Turning on a lamp above the tractor a couple of hours before it is used will do the trick.

A low-cost heating cable for exposed water pipes and faucets is another device which can prevent costly damage. Most hardware dealers carry these cables.

The FFA and FHA are planning a social to be held January 17th. Also for Family Night to be held March 14th and the Formal Social on April 18th.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

KINDNESS AND CHICKEN BROTH CURE EVIL

What is the best way to overcome evil? Jesus gives the only formula that really works. I wish to pass it on to you and emphatically state that there are no exceptions to it. The only way to overcome evil is with good.

A friend of mine moved into a new neighborhood. He was a minister, and the next door neighbor was opposed to any religious person living near her. It was in the days of the washtub, and when this woman finished her wash she always turned the tubs and sent the water sprawling into the yard of my friend.

One day the neighbor became sick. My friend's wife carried a large bowl of chicken broth over to her and cleaned up her house for her several days.

On the fourth day, the sick lady began to cry and thanked my friend for her kindness and asked her to pray for her. Needless to say they became fast friends.

Emma Mott Whittemore, widely known in many lands as the founder of The Door of Hope, tells this story of the conquering power of love and goodness.

"In my work to rescue the poor girls so deeply stained with sin, I was standing one day in the parlor of a house that it would not be dignified to describe. A young, scantily dressed and deeply-dyed-with-sin girl stood smoking a highly flavored cigarette.

"Upon approaching her and uttering a few kind words, she laughed rudely, tossed her little head and deliberately puffed a mouth full of smoke into my face. This was her only reply. For a moment I was almost suffocated. I continued talking but it seemed to amuse her and she became bolder and more insulting. Every few seconds she laughingly blew more smoke into my face.

"When she came to the end of her cigarette and was about to light another one, I felt impelled to place my arm around her. I said, 'Child, you have treated me most rudely. You have laughed and sneered at everything I have tried to say. But tell me, dear, tell me truly, (pointing to her heart) is there any laughter or joy down there?'

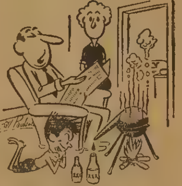
"An amazing transformation took place. With a half-smothered sob, she glanced around to see if the madam of that awful place was looking. She answered in a jerky whisper, 'Oh, no, there is no laughter nor happiness there. How could there be?'

"Needless to say, I discovered that God had made it possible to reach a heart that seemed tightly closed to everything good. I was able to reveal Christ and His Spirit to her and before many days, I led her to a better kind of life."

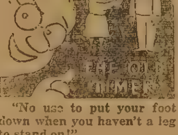
I have learned that an ounce of goodness will go a long way toward curing a lot of evil. There is too much heartache, too much sorrow in the world now for us to add any more to it by returning evil for evil. Today, this day—whatever evil may face you, you must overcome it only with good.

John Newton the great hymn writer said, "Many have puzzled about the origin of evil. I am content to observe that there is evil—and there is a way to escape from it. With this I begin and end."

My Neighbors



"Stop quibbling, Alice. The country desperately needs future scientific brains!"



"No use to put your foot down when you haven't a leg to stand on!"
